Mystery Looking Like Murder Uncovered in Cheap Hotel.

MORPHINE WAS USED SOMEHOW

Peculiar Case Which the Coroner and Police Are Anxious to Unravel.

TRAVELING SALESMAN MEETS UNTIMELY END

Sullivan H. Palm, brother of a former postmaster of Warren, O., was found dead in Pittsburgh yesterday under circumstances so mysterious that the authorities incline to the theory of murder. A handsome, well-dressed woman figures prominently in the case, and all day yesterday the city detectives and deputy coroners were trying to find her.

Morphine enough to kill a man was found in the body of the dead man when an autopsy was held. A red spot on the arm, apparently the puncture of a hypodermic syringle, would ordinarily have led to a coroner's verdict of "death from an overdose of morphine," but as it was plain that the man was not a morphine fiend, it is evident that the morphine, if administered hypodermically, was injected by some one else, perhaps surreptitously.

The crime, if crime it was, was committed in the Boston house, a cheap lodging house and restaurant on Union street, adjoining the market house. There, in a little squalid room, Palm's body was found.

Palm Was a Good Salesman.

Word comes from Warren that Palm was unmarried, that he was known as a good citizen and that he was not addicted to the excessive use of stimulants or the drug habit. That makes his death the more mysterious, for that a drug either directly caused his death or at least weakened his vital faculties and brought out some flaw in his physical system, is deemed evident.

Isaac McClaskey, a Millvale livery stable keeper, was the one who positively identified the man. McClaskey came from Warren 15 years ago. He knew Palm 15 years before that time in Warren and had occasionally seen him since. The dead man was known as a capable traveling salesman. On April 1 he presented to L. T. Yoder, of the Yoder & McKee Company, a letter of introduction from the Kingsley Paper Company of Cleveland, O., vouching for his industry and honesty. Mr. Yoder engaged him on the spot.

Although his salary was to be only $12 a week, this was no reflection on his ability. Many salesmen handle different "lines," and it is probable that Palm traveled for several Cleveland as well as Pittsburgh houses, getting his salary and expenses from more than one. He went out on the road for the Yoder firm after drawing $85 for expenses. He was authorizedy to make collections, being privileged to deduct his salary and expenses and being expected to remit the balances promptly.

Woman Got Away Early.

He dropped into Pittsburgh occasionally and on Thursday he settled up. There was but little money coming to him, but he was perfectly satisfied and spoke of soon starting on another trip for the firm. He went out of the office and that was the last seen of him by his employers.

On Thursday night about 11 o'clock Palm turned up at the Boston house with a woman. They registered as "J. W. Johnson and wife, Cleveland, O.," and were shown to a room on the third floor. About 2 a. m., according to statements made by employes of the hotel, the woman came downstairs and remarked that she was going to take a Center avenue car, to get hime before her mother arose. She was calm and collected when she left the house.

At 9.15 a. m., R. Wintersill, father of the hotel proprietor, went up to the room to arouse the couple. There was no reply to his continued knocking, and he opened the door with a master key, the lock being of the spring lock variety. The woman was gone, but the man lay on the bed as if asleep. Wintersill shook him, and saw that he was dead. The coroner was immediately notified, but no word was sent to the police until two hours later, and then they were told by the coroner.

Coroner and Police Got Busy.

When Deputy Coroner Louis Huchel arrived he found the body just as it was when found. Palm was in his underwear, and on a chair beside the bed lay his clothes, containing $1.15 in money and a gold-plated watch, some postal cards, apparently from relatives, and a pocketful of advertising circulars and memorandum books.

The body was removed to the morgue, where a careful examination was made. On the forehead was a slight discoloration, that could not possibly have had anything to do with his death, and was more likely an old scar. There was but one mark on the body, a small red spot on the arm, probably made with a hypodermic syringe, but the absence of other marks was plain evidence that Palm had not been adicted to the drug habit. Documents in the pocket gave a clue to his name and occupation, and Mr. Yoder was communicated with immediately. He told what he knew, and when Isaac McClaskey came with his information, a telegram was sent to S. B. Palm, of Warren, the dead man's brother. He replied that he would arrive at 11.30 a. m. today and take the body home with him.

As soon as the detective bureau was notified, Detective Richard Kelly was put on the case, and later in the day Detectives William McElroy, Bernard M[illegible] and Alfred Swinehart went to work.

An Autopsy Was Held.

In the afternoon Dr. Walter C. McCandless held an autopsy. A quantity of whisky and morphine was found in the stomach. As usual in coroner's cases in which foul play is suspected, the cause of death was not made public, but the coroner's office and the bureau of detectives immediately became active and

BITTER FIGHT AT EVERY STEP UPON PATTISON

Gordon Is His Rival and Backed by Interests of Wanamaker.

DOUBT CAST UPON ELECTION OF QUAY

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison has received a large majority of the delegates to the Democratic state convention who have been instructed. That he is the choice of the country Democracy for governor is not disputed, but Pattison is to be fought at every step from now until the Erie convention names its ticket. Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon desires the honor. He wants it very badly, and it looks as if he would be able to control the Philadelphia delegation.

Judge Gordon has the backing of the Wanamaker interests. Gordon has not loved Guffey since the colonel denied him the gubernatorial nomination at Altoona. Guffey favored Jenks. So did the delegates, and Gordon has since dreamed of revenge.

The Wanamaker-Gordon combine fear that Col. Guffey is for Pattison this time. They know the ex-governor has the lead, but they think they could reverse conditions with the colonel's assistance. He will be asked to help Gordon. If he refuses they will try to force him. This is to be done by the newspapers controlled by the Wanamaker influence.

The first move was taken today when orders were issued to circulate the story that Quay intended to control the Democratic state convention; that he wished Pattison nominated, and had given orders to prevent Gordon from being selected "regardless of cost." This, of course, is a fairy story, but it is put out to scare away Pattison's delegates.

Democratic Legislative Confab.

The Democratic conference that was expected to take place today will be held tomorrow. Its purpose is to consider the preparation of ballot reform measures that will be presented to the next legislature. The committee named for this purpose includes John S. Rilling, Erie; James A. Stranahan, Harrisburg; William J. Brenneo, Pittsburgh; John J. Green, Philadelphia, and Dallas Sanders, chairman. It is expected the meeting will be attended by State Chairman Creasy, Congressman Hall of Elk, ex-State Chairman Kerr of Clearfield and Garman of Luzerne.

It is now asserted that Senator Quay was not elected chairman of the Republican state committee by the state convention that met at Harrisburg on Wednesday. The alleged oversight is explained as a technical mistake on the part of David H. Lane. In the haste and confusion of the fight that was on hand to make Judge Pennypacker the nominee Mr. Lane introduced the resolution making Quay chairman of the state committee before the convention was organized and before any business except the organization of the convention could be transacted. The election, therefore, it is declared, is without effect, and Gen. Frank Reeder is still the state chairman. When the state convention fails to elect a state chairman it falls upon the nominees of the convention and the permanent chairman of the gathering to make a choice. There is no doubt, therefore, that Senator Quay will be the chairman.

Pennypacker Congratulations.

Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker is experiencing the pleasures of the victory in a bitterly-fought contest. From all sides are pouring in upon him congratulatory letters and telegrams upon his nomination for the governorship. Many of these messages are from the men recently arrayed against him in the struggle for political supremacy. Others are the natural outbursts of friends who find satisfaction in the success of one of whom they have a sincere regard and admiration.

About the possibility of Judge Pennypacker resigning his seat upon the common pleas bench, there is nothing definite at this time. Intimate friends of the judge have been informed by him that for the present he will continue his judicial duties.

"It is a matter under consideration," he says, "but a question that I may not decide for some months to come."

GOVERNOR COMING TO AID PITTSBURGH CELEBRATE FOURTH

Will Be His First Public Appearance Here Since Maj. Brown Was Removed.

WILLING TO GREET QUAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., June 13.—For the first time since he ripped Maj. A. M. Brown out of the office of recorder of the city of Pittsburgh and appointed in his place J. O. Brown last November, Gov. Stone is about to make his public appearance in the Smoky city. Stone has accepted an invitation from the Citizens committee to be present with his staff at the Fourth of July celebration, at which President Roosevelt and Attorney General Knox and other members of the president's cabinet will be present.

Stone has been in Pittsburgh only once since he removed Major Brown, and then he went in the interest of Attorney General Elkin's candidacy for governor. He saw no one but Recorders Brown and Murphy, and made the trip both ways at night.

"I am always glad to see visitors," was Stone's comment, when he was told today that Senator Quay, before he starts for the woods of Maine to spend the summer, would come to Harrisburg to see him.

DIAMOND DEALER IN JAIL.

He Is Accused of Improperly Transferring Gems Unpaid For.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 13.—After being hunted by detectives for a week, Arthur J. Kahn was arrested tonight on a caplas and was held in $50,670 bail. He was taken to the city jail. The prisoner did business under the name of Arthur J. Kahn & Co. at 37 and 39 Maiden Lane, New York, and a few weeks ago he failed with liabilities of nearly $400,000.

The present caplas was issued in a suit entered by Jaques Kryn, August Wouters and Charles Wouters, diamond merchants of Brooklyn, who claim $100,000. They claim that on February 10 Kahn secured from them diamonds valued at $31,234 and the next day deposited them in the State Bank of New York to secure a note for $25,000. On April 16 he got another lot of diamonds from them valued at $19,435, on which he borrowed $15,000.

WATER FROM INDIAN CREEK TO BOROUGHS

Will Be Piped to Nearby Towns at Cost of Over $10,000,000.

ENGINEERS NOW AT WORK IN FIELD

Within a Few Weeks Active Operations Will Begin on Mammoth Project.

PLANS OF COMPANY GIVEN BY MANAGER

The Mountain Water Supply Company has started on the preliminary work of furnishing pure mountain water to the Monongahela, Youghiogheny and Turtle Creek valleys, the boroughs about Pittsburgh, and will be constructed on such a scale that Pittsburgh and Allegheny can also be supplied. The project involves an expenditure of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

The company was organized early in the year, was chartered in March and has behind it some leading Pittsburgh capitalists, as well as moneyed men in New York and Philadelphia. S. F. Potter, manager of the Continental Water Works Company, which supplies Greensburg, Scottdale and Everson, as well as two towns in New York and one in Ohio with water, is the manager of the company. Mr. Potter is a young and active man, well versed in the water business and thoroughly understands what is needed by the boroughs about Pittsburgh.

It is proposed by the Mountain Water Supply Company to bring the pure mountain water from Indian creek in Fayette and Westmoreland counties. Indian creek, from which it is proposed to procure water, is a stream which enters the Youghiogheny river eight miles above Connellsville. It is nearly 2,000 feet above Pittsburgh. The area that has been secured is 112 square miles in the townships of Springfield and Salt Lick, Fayette county, and a portion of Donegal township, in Westmoreland county. About 40 per cent of it is cleared land, and 60 per cent timber.

Mr. Kuichling Investigated.

In 1898 the Pittsburgh filtration commission, through Allen Hazen, secured the services of Emil Kuichling of Rochester, N. Y., chief engineer of the water works in that city, and an engineer of national reputation, to inspect and make an estimate on supplying Pittsburgh with water from Indian creek. Mr. Kuichling and a corps of engineers spent several months in that section and became thoroughly familiar with it. Mr. Kuichling is one of the engineers of the Mountain Water Supply Company and is handling the force of men that company now has in the field.

At that time Mr. Kuichling made a report to Mr. Hazen and he in turn reported to the commission. Mr. Potter stated yesterday that the Mountain Water Supply Company had purchased the Indian creek property Mr. Kuichling mentioned in his report, and that it is the intention to nearly follow the lines advised by him at that time.

The dam across Indian creek will be placed near the village of Springfield, Fayette county, three and one-half miles from where the creek enters the Youghiogheny river. This dam will be the highest ever constructed. It will be of solid masonry, 290 feet from the present creek level to the top. This will make a reservoir of 2,000 acres and have a capacity of 40,000,000,000 gallons, or sufficient to sup-

ALABAMA TOWN ENTIRELY WIPED FROM THE EARTH

Telegraph Office Established Under a Tree and Appeals for Relief Sent Out.

VALUABLE PAPERS LOST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Opelika, Ala., June 13.—Alexander City, a place of 1,500 inhabitants, was wiped out today by fire, the loss reaching at least $750, 000, which the insurance will not begin to cover.

The flames began in a foundry and machine works. The long period of hot, dry weather had prepared the buildings for the rapid spread of the flames. A light wind was blowing. The fire spread from building to building until the entire town was in flames. The place has no waterworks, and the terror-stricken people were helpless.

Dadeville was telegraphed for dynamite, so that buildings could be destroyed and thus check the progress of the flames. It arrived too late. The station of the Central of Georgia railway was burned, with all its contents. The telegraph office, two hotels, the postoffice, saloons, livery stable, practically all the stores and eight residences, with numerous law and other offices, were destroyed.

The railroad has established its telegraph lines under a tree. Appeals for help and food are being sent out. The loss of valuable papers will run into the thousands of dollars.

JAPAN VERY RAPIDLY GETTING UP TO DATE

Edward C. Heinz Says if One Wishes to See the Country as It Is Today He Must Go Quickly.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 13.—"To see Japan as it is today one must visit that country before five years have passed," said Edward C. Heinz of Pittsburgh today. "Japan is adopting European customs so rapidly that it will be a modern, up-to-date nation within five years."

Mr. Heinz has just returned from a visit to the Orient with his father, H. J. Heinz, the pickle manufacturer of Pittsburgh, who has given so liberally to the Kansas City university, in Kansas City, Kan.

JOHN P. ELKIN TRIES TO TELL WHAT BEAT HIM

Goes Into Particulars About Delegates Who Went Back on Him.

SERENADED BY HIS INDIANA NEIGHBORS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indiana, Pa., June 13.—An unexpected thing was the ovation given to John P. Elkin at his Indiana home this evening. The first warning of it was the appearance of a band in the street. By the time the band reached Elkin's house a large crowd had gathered.

John Scott, a lawyer, in an address, told Mr. Elkin how sorry Indiana was over his defeat. In the name of all the local people Mr. Scott thanked Mr. Elkin for sticking to the fight. Mr. Elkin was also assured that all true people would be for him in the future. Mr. Elkin replied inpart:

"My friends, I thank you for this representative gathering and this little serenade. You all know that I lost the nomination. You all stuck by me. You and your neighbors in other counties came to Harrisburg to encourage me. While I am not discouraged and not bitter toward any one, let me tell you why I lost."

Mr. Elkin then told the story he told in caucus at Harrisburg of the beginnings and progress of his candidacy and his refusal to take Senator Quay's advice to withdraw from the field. He then said:

Delegates Who Got Away.

"When I went to Harrisburg last Monday morning I had 103 delegates instructed and pledged for me. I fully expected victory. Before last Wednesday afternoon 41 of these men deserted me.

"Now let me cite a few examples and tell why these men ignored their instructions or broke their pledges."

Mr. Elkin here said the Mercer delegates, who were originally elected without instructions, had violated subsequent instructions in voting again him; that Luzerne and Schuylkill delegates who favored him were deprived of seats in the convention; that at 3 a. m. Wednesday "a prominent attorney and Mr. Richards of Greensburg" woke him from his sleep to tell him that the Westmoreland delegates were for him, notwithstanding which three voted against him; that he had lost a vote from Chester through a delegate giving a substitution to Dr. Warren; that a Clarion delegate who was found to be shaky was rounded up, and "in the presence of Judge Wilson" promised to vote for Elkin, but did not do so, that he lost a vote in Armstrong by a delegate giving his credentials to another. Mr. Elkin in conclusion said:

"I am not disheartened and not dismayed. I will continue along the lines I have begun to fight for better and cleaner politics in Pennsylvania. It is time for the people to say who shall rule. Let us fight until a majority of the people shall decide who the rulers are to be.

Promises to Be True.

"This has been Quay's most costly campaign. I am not bitter toward him or Judge Pennypacker, and as I am a Republican, I will be true. Now, my neighbors, I assure you that a position of honor among you is enough to satisfy me, and is far above a political office. Again I thank you for your kindness to me and to my friends."

After Mr. Elkin had finished three cheers were given for "our plow boy." Men, women and children shook hands with Mr. Elkin. Company F was drilling nearby, and after passing in review before the attorney general and being complimented for their fine showing, the proceedings closed with music by the band.

FALSE DEPUTIES ARE GUARDING A COLLIERY

United States Marshal Repudiates Men at Mine—Conditions in West Virginia.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 13.—Captain J. K. Thompson, United States marshal, disclaims responsibility for the deputies at Collins' colliery at Glen Jean. He says if they are there it is as private citizens.

The operators, it is said, asked Thompson to enforce the injunction issued in 1897, but he declined. It applies to five or six collieries, and Chris Evans is the only defendant mentioned who is here now. He is making no effort to violate the order. It is the general opinion that the injunction of 1897 is not operative in this instance. Thompson has written the deputies that they were not representing his department.

ROOSEVELT'S LAST APPEAL FOR CUBANS

If Congress Rejects It Responsibility Rests on Obstructionists.

DILEMMA COMING FOR OBJECTORS

To Be Forced to Choose Between Going With Party or With Democrats.

NO END IN SIGHT TO THE SENATE DEADLOCK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, June 13.

President Roosevelt's reaffirmation to congress and the country today of his attitude on Cuban reciprocity forever puts an end, it is admitted by public men, to continual misrepresentation of the position of the chief executive. That a special message would be sent to congress was known to a few persons at the White House some time before the document was ready for transmission. The president had earnestly considered the matter for some time, and his determination was really reached several days ago.

The president, before sending the message to congress, presented his analysis of the situation to his cabinet, and did it in a way to win the warm approval of his advisers. The president's renewed declaration as to the duty of congress probably will end his active efforts to bring about reciprocity. If legislation in that direction fails, the blame will not attach to the Republican party as a whole, but to the minority, whose obstruction has caused the failure. The president will have done his whole duty. He will not, by further persistence, give ground for the charge that he is undertaking to exercise pressure upon congress.

Use of Cuban Money Irrelevant.

The president does not think the matter of the payment of Gen. Wood of Cuban money to aid in the distribution of information as to conditions in Cuba should have any bearing on the solution of the question.

Administration senators said this afternoon that a conference of Republican senators would be held next week to discuss Cuban reciprocity. In that conference the beet sugar senators will be confronted with the alternative of acting with their party to uphold the policy of the administration, or of going with the Democrats. The alternative will be presented in such a way as to leave no room for dodging.

The message of the president today put an end to further discussion of the rebate plan or any other substitute for the Cuban reciprocity bill.

The situation in the senate today indicated a continued deadlock. There was no conference between the opposing factions, and members of the committee on Cuba said they did not know that one would be necessary. It was said the Cuban committee would report the reciprocity bill after a caucus of Republicans.

Secretary Root Defends Wood.

Secretary Root authorizes the statement that Gen. Wood's payment of three drafts for $2,880 each to F. B. Thurber for the circulation of reciprocity literature was approved by the president and the war department. As military governor of Cuba, Secretary Root points out that Gen. Wood had full authority to appropriate the Cuban revenues for any purpose that, in his judgment, would advance the interests of the island.

Following is the text of the president's message:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I deem it important before the adjournment of the present session of congress to call attention to the following expressions in the message which in the discharge of the duty imposed upon me by the constitution I sent to congress on the first Tuesday of December last:

"Elsewhere I have discussed the question of reciprocity. In the case of Cuba, however, there are weighty reasons of morality and of natural interest why the policy should be held to have a peculiar application. And I most earnestly ask your attention to the wisdom, indeed, to the vital need of providing for a substantial reduction in the tariff duties on Cuban imports into the United States. Cuba has in her constitution affirmed what we desired, that she should stand in international matters in closer and more friendly relations with us than with any other power; and we are bound by every consideration of honor and expediency to pass commercial measures in the interest of her material well being."

Quoted President McKinley.

This recommendation was merely giving practical effect to President McKinley's words, when in his message of December 5, 1898, and December 5, 1899, he wrote: "It is important that our relations with this people (of Cuba) shall be of the most friendly character and our commercial relations close and reciprocal. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must needs be bound to us by ties of singular intimacy and strength if its enduring welfare is to be assured. The greatest blessing which can come to Cuba is the restoration of her agricultural and industrial prosperity."

Yesterday, June 12, I received by cable, from the American minister in Cuba, a most earnest appeal from President Palma for "legislative relief before it is too late and (his) country is financially ruined."

The granting of reciprocity with Cuba is a proposition which stands entirely alone. The reasons for it far outweigh those for granting reciprocity with any other nation, and are entirely consistent with preserving intact the protective system under which this country has thriven so marvelously. The present tariff law was designed to promote the adoption of such a reciprocity treaty, and expressly provided for a reduction not to exceed 20 per cent upon goods coming from a particular country, leaving the tariff rates on the same articles unchanged as regards all other countries.

Objection has been made to the granting of the reduction on the ground that the substantial benefit would not go to the agricultural producer of sugar, but would inure to the American sugar refiners. In my judgment provision can and should be made which will guarantee us against this possibility; without having recourse to a measure of doubtful policy, such as a bounty in the form of a rebate.

The Tariff Not an Issue.

The question as to which if any of the different schedules of the tariff ought most properly to be revised does not enter into this matter in any way or shape. We are concerned with getting a friendly reciprocal arrangement with Cuba. This arrangement applies to all the articles that Cuba grows or produces. It is not in our power to determine what these articles shall be; and any discussion of the tariff as it affects special schedules, or countries other than Cuba, is wholly aside from the subject matter to which I call your attention.

Some of our citizens oppose the lowering of the tariff on Cuban products, just as three years ago they opposed the admission of the Hawaiian Islands, lest free trade with them might ruin certain of our interests here. In the actual event their fears proved baseless as regards Hawaii, and their apprehensions as to the damage to any industry of our own because of the proposed measure of reciprocity with Cuba seem to me equally baseless. In my judgment no American industry will be hurt and many American industries will be benefited by the proposed action.

It is to our advantage as a nation that the growing Cuban market should be controlled by American producers. The events following the year with Spain and the prospective building of the Isthmian canal render it certain that we must take in the future a far greater interest than hitherto in what happens throughout the West Indies, Central America and the adjacent coasts and waters. We expect Cuba to treat us on an exceptional footing politically, and we should put her in the same exceptional position economically. The proposed action is in line with the course we have pursued as regards all the islands with which we have been brought into relations of varying intimacy by the Spanish war. Porto Rico and Hawaii have been included within our tariff lines, to their great benefit as well as ours, and without any of the fears of detriment to our own industries. The Philippines, which stand in a different relation, have been granted substantial tariff concessions.

Keep Faith with Cuba.

Cuba is an independent republic, but a republic which has assumed certain special obligations as regards her international position in compliance with our request. I ask for her certain special economic concessions in return; these economic concessions to benefit us as well as her.

There are few brighter pages in American history than the page which tells of our dealings with Cuba during the past four years. On her behalf we waged a war of which the mainspring was generous indignation against oppression and we have kept faith absolutely. It is earnestly to be hoped that we will complete in the same spirit the record so well begun, and that our dealings in behalf of Cuba that steady continuity of policy which it is essential for our nation to establish in foreign affairs if we desire to play well our part as a world power.

We are a wealthy and powerful nation; Cuba is a young republic, still weak, who owes to us her birth, whose whole future, whose very life, must depend upon our action in relation to her. I ask that we help her as she struggles onward along the painful and difficult road of self-governing independence. I ask this aid for her, because she is weak; because she needs it, because we have already aided her. I ask that open-handed help, of a kind which a self-respecting people can accept, be given to Cuba, for the very reason that we have given her such help in the past.

Our soldiers fought to give her freedom; and for three years our representatives, civil and military, have toiled unceasingly, facing disease of a peculiarly sinister and fatal type with patient and uncomplaining fortitude, to teach her how to use aright her new freedom. Never in history has any alien country been thus administered with such high integrity of purpose, such wise judgment, and such a single-handed devotion to the country's interests. Now, I ask that the Cubans be given all possible chance to use to the best advantage the freedom of which Americans have such right to be proud, and for which so many Americans have been sacrificed.

FEAST OF ST. ANTHONY.

Was Celebrated in Father Mollinger's Old Church.

The feast of St. Anthony of Padua was celebrated yesterday with special ceremony in the Troy Hill Catholic church, made famous by Father Mollinger. The present pastor is the Rev. Father J. O. Duffner. Solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father A. A. Lambing of Wilkinsburg, the deacon being Father J. J. Bullion; sub-deacon, the Rev. Father S. J. Schramm. There were quite a number of clergymen from various parts of the state in the sanctuary.

At the conclusion of the mass the relics of St. Anthony were exposed. The Rev. Father Thomas J. Devlin of Holy Cross church, South Side, preached the sermon of the day, which was descriptive of the life and labors of this famous saint. The services concluded last night with vespers and benediction. This famous shrine still attracts multitudes from all parts of the city on St. Anthony's day, despite the fact that Father Mollinger is dead and there are no longer miraculous cases of healing.

DINNER TO GEN. WOOD.

President-Elect of Harvard Praises the Cuban Administrator.

BOSTON, June 13.—A dinner to Gen. Leonard Wood and his staff was given at Hotel Somerset this evening by 40 of Boston's representative citizens. The tables were arranged like the letter H because Gen. Wood is a Harvard man.

President Eliot of Harvard presided. He expressed admiration for Gen. Wood's work in an educational way for Cuba. Gen. Wood told of the many changes that had been wrought in Cuba during American occupation.

THE WEATHER.

There is no sign yet of a let-up in the extremely hot weather which Pittsburgh and vicinity has been having for the past two days. The forecast of the Washington weather observer is for cloudy and unsettled condition, with no change in the temperature during today. Yesterday the mercury went two degrees higher than on Thursday, the maximum for the day being 90 degrees, and within two degrees of the highest temperature Pittsburgh has had so far this season.

Unsettled.

The Gazette's weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's corner at the following hours yesterday registered:

GENERAL WOOD DEFENDS HIS USE OF CUBAN FUNDS

Felt That He Was Acting as a Trustee in the Island's Interests.

WHY HE USED THURBER

Through Him Was Able to Reach the Influential People of the United States—He Courts Full Investigation—Praises President's Message.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston Mass., June 13.—During his visit to this city today, Gen. Leonard Wood expressed himself in no uncertain terms regarding the alleged irregularity in the expenditure of Cuban government funds in the interest of reciprocity. He declared that, acting as trustee for the island, he had spent the money to good purposes and had done simply what any good administrator would do in like circumstances.

Of President Roosevelt's special message to congress on reciprocity with Cuba Gen. Wood spoke in the highest terms. Of the situation in Cuba he said:

"There is nothing in connection with my administration of Cuban affairs that I wish to cover up. Talk of investigation is welcome to me. Every expenditure that was made was free and above board.

"So far as I can see there was nothing new brought out by the testimony of Mr. Thurber. It perhaps accentuated a little the needs of Cuba as regards reciprocity with this country.

"I was acting as a trustee for Cuba. I simply used Mr. Thurber's mailing list as the best means of distributing the literature on reciprocity. This was well-known before the examination of Mr. Thurber by the senate sub-committee.

"In my opinion, the opposition to tariff reciprocity with Cuba has proceeded upon lines of misapprehension. I took it upon myself to place the facts before the people of the United States as I saw them. There seemed to be no one else to undertake the task. What I did, I considered best for the industrial salvation of the island.

"The reason I took up with Mr. Thurber was that he represented 80,000 thinking people in this country. I dealt with him simply as a bureau of information, and through him I distributed the information I wanted to place before the American people. My position was identical with that of the trustee of an estate who finds it incumbent upon himself to refute unjust claims upon the estate upon which he is called to administer. Any man would be false to his trust who did not do all in his power to contest such claims, and that is all I did."

GEN. LEE'S DAUGHTER ARRESTED ON A TRAIN

She Violated a Virginia Law by Riding Among Colored People. Greatly Affected.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., June 13.—Shortly after 9 o'clock tonight, Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of Gen. Robert E. Lee, was arrested charged with violating the law affecting the Washington, Alexandria & Mount Vernon electric railway, which provides for the separation of white and colored passengers.

Miss Lee was arrested on complaint of Conductor Thomas Chauncey and was escorted to police headquarters, where, after telling her story, she was released on her personal bond for appearance in court tomorrow, should the railroad company decide to prosecute the case.

Miss Lee boarded the car at Washington, D. C., and without realizing it took a seat in the portion reserved for colored people. She was comfortably seated, and, being encumbered with several bundles, declined to move to the forward part of the car, although the conductor explained the law on the subject to her and frequently requested her to move.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Exercises to Be Held at Beaver College—Graduates in Ohio Towns.

BEAVER, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The commencement program for Beaver college has been announced. The exercises will begin on next Sunday morning when the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., of Drew Theological seminary. The other features follow: June 16, annual field meet, on college athletic grounds, piano contest for the Bishop Simpson gold medal, presented by Durbin Horne; June 17, annual college picnic at Aliquippa park; June 17, vocal contest for the Mrs. E. F. Roberts gold medal, presented by E. F. Roberts & Sons; June 18, class day exercises, alumni banquet at college dormitory; June 19, alumni reunion, annual meeting of stockholders, annual meeting of trustees, commencement address by Levi Gilbert, D. D., editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

WOOSTER, O., June 13.—(Special.)—One of the largest audiences ever gathered in the City opera house was present this evening at the commencement of the high school. The class roster follows: Lucy H. Barrett, Christian J. Bruce, Mary T. Callahan, Alice P. Davis, Mary L. Doan, Edith M. Fulton, Maud M. Getigey, Edna M. Hanna, Ethel G. Maxwell, Mary O. McNary, Mabel Oberdusky, Arilla A. Rhodes, Clara L. Schopf, Mary L. Snyder, Esther L. Swartz, Margaret W. Taggart, Fanny H. Unger, Mayme L. Yinkey, Robert H. Bricker, Ralph W. Correll, Wright G. Culbertson, Rowland A. Curry, J. W. Deitz, Charles A. Derr, Henry J. Diehl, Fred Ellsperman, Donald J. Foss, William E. Geiselman, Scott G. Harry, Rhea R. Lucas, James M. McQuigg, Harvey J. Miller, Don C. Noogle, Ralph E. Plumer, Julius E. Rotthaus, Clifford W. Scotland, W. C. Warner and Victor C. Wilhelm.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The commencement exercises at the Washington High school were held tonight. The class is composed of 27 members: Samuel Bowman, Bessie Boyce, Grace Bushfield, Anna Borland, Nettie Becker, Pearl Booth, Margaret Clark, Verna Clark, Cecil Chamberlain, Viola Driehorst, Margaret Henderson, Myrtle Henderson, Margaret Hanna, Helen Hall, Evadne Johnson, Henry Mathias, Robert Morton, Samuel McNulty, Katherine McCool, Edna McMillan, Maude Nickerson, Etta Reed, Jessie Rider, Walter Sharp, Carl Thalmer, George Templeton and Anna Vester. MR. AND MRS. HENRY LANE CELEBRATED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY LANE.

Surrounded by their four children, thirteen grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and many of their friends and lifelong neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lane, the best-known old couple in the Turtle Creek valley, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home in Shaw avenue, Turtle Creek, yesterday.

The old couple were married by Justice Horner in Wilkinsburg, and shortly after moved to Turtle Creek, where they have since resided. The husband was born in Dublin, Ireland, 73 years ago, and his wife was born in Wilkinsburg 70 years ago. Both are still vigorous and expect to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of their married life. During the celebration yesterday the Rev. A. E. Huston, pastor of the Methodist church of Turtle Creek, remarried Mr. and Mrs. Lane. The house was the mecca of hundreds of visitors the entire day.

ply 92,000,000 gallons of water daily.

The flow of Indian creek is much less than the amount above estimated. The project involves the construction of a dam large enough to hold a year's supply of water, and the heavy winter and spring flows would be stored and made available during those months when the flow of the stream is less. The dam would also be large enough to hold some of the water in wet years and allow it to be drawn in dry years.

Could Increase Supply.

But should there at any time be a scarcity of water, or if the consumption increases above the capacity of the Indian creek watershed, then the supply can be increased by placing a dam across Laurel creek, which forms another watershed but a few miles away and across a spur of the Chestnut ridge. A tunnel would have to be bored through the ridge and then the daily supply could be increased to 150,000,000 gallons.

From the dam in the mountain to Pittsburgh is 47 miles in as near a direct line as can be run. It is not the intention, however, of the Mountain Water Company to run their pipe line direct to Pittsburgh, as by so doing they would be passing some valuable customers. Under the original survey it was the intention to run in a direct line to Peansville, and cross Jacob's creek a mile below Scottdale, then cross Big Sewickley creek half way between Hunker and Wolf's mill, through Stewartsville to Turtle Creek and Wilkinsburg, to the city line.

Mr. Potter would not say yesterday how much of this line would be followed by the Mountain Water Supply Company, neither would he say if it was the intention of the company to follow any of it, but it is believed that it is the intention of the company to abandon this line and select one nearer the Youghiogheny and Monongahela rivers, so as to strike the latter river near McKeesport.

Mr. Kulchling's original surveys contemplated a tunnel from near the dam through a spur of the Chestnut ridge, five miles in length, or to be more exact, 26,590 feet. This was the greatest difficulty of the proposed line. The tunnel was to be eight and one-half feet in diameter. To get around that ridge and avoid the long tunnel was a question that troubled the engineers. It may be possible that the Mountain Water Supply Company, by abandoning the direct way to Pittsburgh, may have found a route that obviates the long tunnel.

Will Use Steel Pipe.

The other 42 miles of the distance to Pittsburgh it was intended to use riveted steel pipe. This was then considered the best and cheapest, and is still so considered. The estimate of the engineers was that a pipe 73 inches in diameter would be needed for the delivery of 75,000,000 gallons of water a day. On account of the fact that the pipe would be laid up and down hill, according to the lay of the land, and that it would pass over many coal mines, some abandoned and others working, that the danger of breakages would be great, and to prevent the cutting off of the water supply for indefinite periods because of breakages, it was thought better to have two lines of pipe laid some distance apart. If there are two lines of pipe it will require that each be 55 inches in diameter to supply the same amount of water as a 73-inch pipe.

The estimates furnished by Engineer Kulchling of the cost of the plant are as follows:

Masonry and dam	$ 3,672,000
Clearing property	720,000
Roads, culverts, bridges and fences	582,000
Tunnel	1,167,200
Two 55-inch pipe lines	5,583,450
Right of way, etc.	599,350
Ten per cent for engineers and legal expenses	1,233,800
Total	$13,568,800

Manager Potter's Statement.

Mr. Potter said yesterday in speaking of the Mountain Water Supply Company:

"We shall construct a plant practically on the lines originally drawn by Mr. Kulchling, making only such changes as may be necessary because of it being our intention to supply the Youghiogheny, Monongahela and Turtle creek valleys, manufacturing plants and railroads, instead of Pittsburgh. Our reservoir and entire plant will be constructed of the best material and with a view to ultimately furnishing Pittsburgh with the only pure water in Western Pennsylvania, if the people want it.

"The earlier estimates were that the plant would cost in excess of $15,000,000, but later figures cut this down to about $11,000,000. It may be necessary to spend $15,000,000 before we are able to supply all of the cities and boroughs in Allegheny county, and those adjoining on the Westmoreland side. The route of our pipe line is something that does not concern the general public at this time, but does vitally concern the company. When we begin to approach Pittsburgh will be time enough for the public to know which way we are going. Then, if Pittsburgh wants pure mountain water, entirely free of all impurities, as clear as crystal and not loaded with sulphate of alumina to make it so, we will supply it. We will have enough for all, and enough for all time to come."

"The Lark's Song" is the title of the story in the cut-out-booklet and art supplement with next Suaday's Gazette.

DEPUTIES TAKEN OFF STREET CARS

AFTER THAT THERE WAS NO MORE RIOTING IN PAWTUCKET.

Only One Line Operated—Machine Guns Paraded Through the Streets and Soldiers in Full Control—Prisoners in the State Armory—Saloons Closed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 13.—High Sheriff Hunter C. White today removed his deputy sheriffs from the street cars. He did this on representations that the deputies incited the crowds to violence. After the withdrawal of these men the city became quiet.

The 1,500 troops ordered out by Gov. Kimball are still on duty, but if conditions warrant they will be withdrawn gradually, the first instalment to leave tomorrow.

There was no rioting during the day. Seven men were arrested for misdemeanors committed on Pawtucket avenue. The lines of the Pawtucket city system of the United Traction Company were not in operation and the lines in Central Falls, Cumberland and Albion, suburban towns, were tied up. Tomorrow it is proposed to reopen the city system under the protection of the police, assisted by the militia.

When the first car of the Pawtucket avenue line from Providence reached the city today it was guarded by companies of militia and troops of cavalry, with machine guns trailing along. The car was escorted safely past the point where the attacks of yesterday were made. The crowd was kept on the move and as soon as there was a sign of demonstration arrests were made, the prisoners being locked up at the state armory. They will be turned over to the police. After that cars on the avenue were operated without hindrance.

The boy who was shot in the neck by a deputy yesterday was still alive this evening.

This afternoon Mayor Fitzgerald ordered all the saloons closed in order to keep down any possible disturbances during the evening.

ANOTHER ATTACK ON STEEL BOND SCHEME

Boston Stockholders Granted Permission to File Bill Asking Preliminary Injunction.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Edward A. Day, counsel for Charles Raymond of Boston, asked permission before Vice Chancellor Ellery in Newark, N. J., today to file a bill for a preliminary injunction to restrain the United States Steel Corporation from retiring $200,000,000 of preferred stock and issuing bonds instead. The bill is similar to that in the suit brought by Miriam Berger of Sullivan county, N. Y. R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the steel corporation, said he would offer no objection to the filing of the bill.

Argument in the suit brought by Miriam Berger was then begun. Mr. Carter in opening for the plaintiff claimed that the influence wielded by the men at the head of the corporation is beyond comprehension. The court could readily see, he said, that even with the great amount of outstanding stock they would easily accomplish their purpose. He further claimed that the directors had made a mistake in assuming that the present era of prosperity would last forever. He said the issue of the new bonds would create a bonded indebtedness of $800,000,000 and an annual interest charge of $50,000,000, which, if the present prosperity should cease, could not be met. Mr. Carter claimed that the directors were assuming powers of bonding indebtedness which were not provided for in the company's charter. He challenged the opposing counsel to cite a single case in English jurisprudence where the directors are given power to retire preferred stock secured by mortgage by using bonds likewise secured by mortgage on the same property.

Mr. Stetson, for the defendant, asserted the same action was taken in the Baltimore & Ohio deal and that the laws of Iowa provided for such action.

LEARNED SHE WAS TO BE THE THIRD WIFE AND BALKED

Lawyer Pennypacker Delayed Too Long in Telling Story of His Life.

WEDDING WAS CALLED OFF

Etta Fondersmith Called a Halt at Last Hour When She Learned of Intended's Former Marital Ventures—Divorce Mixes Things.

Because she did not relish the idea of becoming the third wife of Samuel Pennypacker, a lawyer, Miss Etta Fondersmith of No. 604 Herron avenue broke her engagement at the eleventh hour.

Miss Fondersmith and Mr. Pennypacker were to have been married on last Monday by the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, this city. On Saturday Miss Fondersmith informed her intended husband that everything was over between them, and as a result the would-be bridegroom was compelled to move to the new home he had furnished for his bride, at No. 6710 Frankstown avenue, East End, alone.

At the home of Miss Fondersmith last night her father refused absolutely to discuss the matter of his daughter breaking her engagement with Mr. Pennypacker. Neither would he say whether his daughter Etta was at home or absent. In answer to all questions concerning the action of his daughter Mr. Fondersmith replied: "I have nothing to say."

The Hopeful Mr. Pennypacker.

Things were altogether different with Mr. Pennypacker, and when seen at his new home in Frankstown avenue he was still entertaining hopes of finally claiming Miss Fondersmith for his bride. When The Gazette representative called upon Mr. Pennypacker last night he was seated in his parlor alone, reading the little story of "How a Man Fell in Love With His Own Wife." Mr. Pennypacker was not cast down in the least, and acknowledged he was the happiest disappointed man in the whole city.

In discussing the breaking of the engagement, Mr. Pennypacker said that the story published yesterday that he had a wife living was absolutely untrue. He said he had been married twice. His first wife died, and some years later he again married. His second wife was a Chicago woman, and after a brief married life they separated. She finally sued him for divorce in the courts of Cook county, Ill. Three years ago last December a decree was granted by Judge Ball, giving an absolute divorce.

Second Wife Not Seen in Years.

Mr. Pennypacker said he had not seen his second wife in eight years until he went into court to offer his defense against having alimony granted to her. In this he was successful and the court also refused to allow the woman counsel fees in her case.

Mr. Pennypacker said he had one son by his first wife, and as he had at first never intended to marry again, he had never secured the papers in his divorce case. At the time the divorce was granted he was practicing law in Chicago, and owing to the ill-health of his son, Hall Pennypacker, they left Chicago after the divorce was granted. Mr. Pennypacker said he and his son finally came to Pittsburgh, where his son died from consumption last August.

Mr. Pennypacker said the story that his intended third bride had asked him to show her papers that he had a legal right to marry was false. He said that last Saturday, on the advice of a friend of each of the parties to the engagement, he told Miss Fondersmith of his former marriages. Since then he said he has not seen her.

Got the Chicago Decree.

He said he immediately wrote to Miss Fondersmith's father, explaining the case, and then sent to Chicago to have the papers in the divorce case sent to Pittsburgh as soon as possible.

Mr. Pennypacker is connected with the Pittsburgh office of the Home Life Insurance Company of New York at present. While discussing his broken engagement with Miss Fondersmith a messenger from Mr. Pennypacker's office brought Mr. Pennypacker's mail to him. One letter contained the papers in the divorce case and Mr. Pennypacker then made the following statement:

"This paper shows that I have a legal right to marry, and all stories to the contrary are absolutely untrue. The statement that I am a nephew of Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, the present Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, is likewise untrue. My father was a distant relative of Judge Pennypacker, but I cannot and never have claimed relationship with him, although I respect him very much. As to my living to marry while I have a wife living, that is nothing but bosh. After 10 years as a practicing lawyer it is unfair to presume that I would likely lay myself open to prosecution by committing bigamy."

Mr. Pennypacker has not yet decided what he will do in the case, but said he would, in all probability, pay the Fondersmith family a visit for the purpose of showing them that his intentions were nothing but what is right and proper. He said he might have erred in not telling Miss Fondersmith earlier in their courtship that he was a divorced man, but he had been told that his divorced wife was dead, and as he had not seen her since the separation was granted he had let the matter go by.

ALLEGHENIAN SUFFERS FIRST.

New Haven City Attorney Starts Crusade Against Automobilists.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 13.—(Special.)—Harry W. Dupuy of Allegheny is named in a warrant issued tonight by City Attorney Tyner for fast driving of an automobile. Mr. Dupuy is a junior and one of the leading automobilists at Yale.

This is the beginning of a crusade which the city authorities say they will institute against automobilists that violate the law regulating the speed at not more than 12 miles an hour. Mr. Dupuy is named because his automobile figured in a recent street collision.

strenuous efforts were made to find the woman.

Despite their activity the detectives were loath to say that a crime had been committed and rather deprecated any jumping at conclusions. A half-pint bottle that had apparently contained whisky will figure in the case, and the few drops of liquid that remained will be analyzed today.

Various theories to account for the death are rife. The first, because the most obvious, was the supposition that death was accidental. Palm, as the autopsy developed, was a sufferer from hernia, and it was surmised that he had taken the morphine to relieve pain. This theory was held to be untenable, as there was nothing to indicate that there was any more than ordinary annoyance from the trouble, for he had never complained to his friends in Pittsburgh. Another theory enunciated presupposes an acquaintance of some duration between Palm and the woman and a superior station in life for the woman, but in that case it is suggested that the Boston house, a cheap hotel, would not have been the rendezvous.

Other Theories Suggested.

It is possible, it is also said, that Palm met the woman for the first time that night and that she, thinking he had money, drugged him without intending to kill him, and finding that the draught was fatal, escaped, leaving the watch and the small amount of money in his clothes behind.

It is suggested, too, that the woman may be "hype," or morphine fiend, who either induced Palm to allow morphine to be injected into his arm or surreptitiously performed the operation herself, and divided her dose of morphia powder with him without his knowledge.

The information the detectives sought did not come willingly from one of the attaches of the house, who told Detective McElroy that he would wait until approached by the "proper authorities" before he would talk about the case.

S. Besser, a boarder at the hotel, told Detective Alfred Swinehart that he was sitting in his room, reading, with his door closed, when the man and woman were shown to their room across the hall. After a while he heard the clink of bottle and glass and, standing on his bed, he peeped through the wide crack between the top of his door and the lintel, and saw into the room of the couple, their door being open. They were sitting down, drinking together, he said, and the woman was speaking quite critically of the "dirty condition of the room."

Woman Slipped Away Quietly.

Besser went to sleep soon, but about 2 a. m. he awoke and hearing the door of the room across the way opening, he peeped through the crack again and saw the woman slip down the corridor as if desirous of escaping observation.

Watchman Scott, who keeps an eye on the market stands in the vicinity, and occasionally lends a hand at the Boston house, is the man who showed the couple to the room. He told Detective McElroy that the woman was about five feet six inches in height, and weighed about 135 pounds. She had black hair mixed with gray, wore eye glasses, was well dressed and handsome. Scott took them to the room and closed the door after them, after telling them that the door had a spring lock. The couple had no baggage.

Detective Swinehart had an experience yesterday morning to which he attached no particular significance at the time. He was standing at the market house, being on night turn at detective headquarters, about 4 a. m. At the same time a woman was standing in front of a drug store across the street with an umbrella in her hand. She leaned on the umbrella and swayed slightly as if under the influence of liquor or drugs. Her description answers perfectly to the account given by Scott of the mysterious woman at the Boston house.

Well Thought of in Warren.

The following dispatch to The Gazette was received from Warren: "Sullivan H. Palm was a brother of ex-Postmaster Sheldon E. Palm of Warren. He had been a traveling salesman for Cleveland and Pittsburgh houses for some years. He was single and lived with his widowed mother here. Mr. Palm's brother states that he was never addicted to the use of intoxicants and was a man of good habits. Mr. Palm was known to his friends here as a good citizen and a capable salesman. The dead man was last in Warren about June 1."

Chief of Police Griffin of Warren wires The Gazette as follows: "Sullivan H. Palm is a brother of S. B. Palm, former postmaster of Warren. He is 40 years old and unmarried and lives with his mother. He has two brothers and one sister."

ONE DEATH FROM HEAT.

Contrary to Predictions, Yesterday Was a Scorcher and Men in the Mills Suffered Greatly.

Although cooler weather was predicted for this section for yesterday the mercury climbed just two degrees higher than on the day previous, and as a result there were more cases of heat prostration, with one death reported.

Frank Darina, living at No. 2839 Edwards alley, South Side, who was sunstruck on Thursday, died at the West Penn hospital. Prostrations reported from the extreme heat of yesterday were:

Daniel Davis and William Thomas, heaters in the United States tube plant, in the West End, who were overcome yesterday afternoon. Both were removed to their homes in Windom street, West End, in No. 8 patrol wagon. The condition of Davis was reported as serious last night.

The high temperature has caused intense suffering in the mills and factories in and about Pittsburgh. In the Lockhart mill, McKees Rocks, many men were compelled to lay off, as the heat was more than the employes could stand. Out of the 31 puddling furnaces only 8 were working, and in the rolling department all the men laid off except the boss rollers.

Yesterday's maximum temperature was 90 degrees and the minimum 70. From 7 o'clock the mercury went up fast, and by 3 p. m. had reached 90. During the afternoon a light rain, amounting to .12 of an inch, fell and did considerable to cool the hot atmosphere.

AS A RESULT OF THE BOER WAR THERE WAS MUCH SHOOTING AT MUCKLERAT

Peter Boyle's house at Mucklerat, a mining hamlet back of Wilkinsburg, in Wilkins township, is as full of holes as a sieve, and it was all caused by the Boer war. Peter Boyle is an Irishman and a coal digger. Thomas Savage is an Englishman and also a coal miner. Boyle and Savage had a long discussion over the merits and demerits of the Boer war, and then they came to blows. Savage got decidedly the worst of it.

For three days Savage has, according to his own say so, been showing Boyle that he was not afraid of him. He has not been working, but has spent most of his time about the Boyle mansion, shooting it full of holes. He has worked his pistol so much that his forefinger is callous, and he has spent more money for ammunition than he could earn in the coal pit in a week.

Boyle got tired of it yesterday and got Constable George Gibson to arrest Savage. He will have a hearing before Justice J. L. Campbell of Braddock. Boyle said he was not afraid of Savage, and did not care if he did shoot at his house, but he was afraid that Savage might miss the house some time and hit one of the dogs, or the goat, and if he did that he would never forgive him.

CUBA ORDERS DEPORTATION OF CHINESE

Steamship Company Must Return Celestials to New York.

UNDER IMMIGRATION LAW

First Application in the New Republic of the Statute Against Landing of Foreign Laborers—Coolies May Go to Mexico.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Havana, June 13.—The board of immigration decided today that the 43 Chinese laborers who came to Havana on board the Ward line steamer Monterey from New York and reached here last Wednesday would have to be returned to New York by the steamship company.

Heretofore Chinamen have been allowed to enter Havana without restriction, and thousands have landed here in the course of the last three years. An immigration law, however, similar to one enforced in the United States, went into force in Cuba last May and the case of these Chinamen has resulted in the first application of this law. The 43 Chinamen in question came direct from China and were shipped in bond from Vancouver through New York to Havana.

The Ward Line Steamship Company has asked for the privilege of shipping the Chinamen to Mexico instead of returning them to New York, as the Chinamen themselves have requested to be sent to that country. The board of immigration has not yet given a decision in the latter matter.

Major Glennon, chief of the United States Marine hospital service in Cuba, says he has no doubt that many Chinamen have entered the United States through Cuba during the last three years by means of sailing vessels running between Cuban and southern ports.

The Cubans take kindly to the new immigration law. The colored laborers of the island are especially prejudiced against the introduction of any foreign labor element.

RECORDER'S AX BEGINS TO SWING IN ALLEGHENY

John Frances, Market Clerk, Removed for Political Reasons.

OTHERS ARE THREATENED

Strength of Citizens' Movement Has Caused Recorder John R. Murphy to Issue Edict, Warning Office-holders to Keep Clear of It.

The ax has begun to swing in Allegheny. John Francies, for 10 years city market clerk, was asked to resign last night because of his suspected affiliation with the Citizens movement, which has grown so rapidly in that city. In removing Mr. Francies, Recorder John R. Murphy serves notice that other removals are to follow, and city employes who wish to hold their positions must have nothing to do with organization that plans to overthrow the Allegheny machine.

Mr. Francies received a letter yesterday from the recorder asking him to call at City hall. He did so last evening, and upon his entrance to the recorder's office was requested to burn the midnight oil in compiling his resignation, which was to be in Recorder Murphy's hands this morning and is to take effect today. He will be succeeded by Councilman Henry Staving.

The decapitated official replied that he would comply with the recorder's wish, and his faithful service of over 10 years will end today.

Machine Frightened.

The strength of the Citizens movement, which has enlisted the aid of the most prominent and respected residents of the city, is worrying the Allegheny officials. The machine has had a hard time defeating ex-Mayor Wyman and his followers, and it is almost certain that the Citizens will win at the polls in the coming elections. The movement not only aims at the city officials, but at the legislative and congressional candidates.

If the plans of the organizers do not go amiss a Citizens party man will succeed Congressman William H. Graham. George Shiras III., who has been most prominently considered for the nomination and is believed to be willing to run, is very strong in the city.

In connection with the request for the resignation of Market Clerk John Francies Recorder Murphy said last night: "My administration is a Republican one, and I will support the Republican nominees and do all in my power to elect them. Any person connected with the city government who supports the Citizens movement had better hand in his resignation. If he does not he will be asked to resign, as I will have no one under my administration who would support a Democrat on the Citizens ticket and thus try to destroy the Republican organization."

Ax May Swing Again.

The recorder also stated that other removals were likely to follow this one, and although he would discuss no names it is clearly understood in the city that this is a covert threat, that Director Robert McAfee of the department of public works is one of those whose resignations are to be "requested."

Several other prominent officials are also suspected of Citizens party affiliation, and unless they clear themselves in the mind of the recorder are likely to go at any time. The Citizens movement in the city has shown wonderful strength, not only with the people at large, but with former associates and supporters of the machine. Its rapid growth threatens to destroy the ring and defeat all of its candidates, and the recorder and his advisers are in a desperate frame of mind.

The exposure of the vice and crime that have sprung up under the shelter of the police department has been largely instrumental in giving the Citizens movement birth.

Hard Fight Ahead.

The best element of the population is back of the reform movement, and the machine managers, seeing defeat in front of them, are preparing for a desperate fight, and no official who is beyond suspicion will be tolerated by the administration.

Francies has been seen frequently around Citizens headquarters, and in addition is being mentioned for the Citizens legislative nomination in the First district. He is a popular official and has shown considerable political strength in the past in his home ward, the Fourth.

He was appointed market clerk in 1892 by Charles W. Ehlers, then director of public works, and has held his position ever since. He will be succeeded by Henry Staving, common councilman from the Third ward, and a deputy sheriff. Staving will resign both of these positions next Thursday, when common council will hold a meeting.

Joseph Diebold has been appointed a park policeman to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of John Dietz. Diebold is a resident of Troy Hill and is adjutant of post No. 128, G. A. R.

HEALTH MEASURES WERE ACTED UPON

SPREAD OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASES MADE THE NECESSITY.

Select Council Agreed to Make Available $7,500 for Disinfection and $10,000 for an Addition to the Pest House—Special Meeting Was Called.

For the first time since its organization in April select council yesterday afternoon promptly enacted measures for the public good. To do this suspension of so many public and private, personal and impersonal rules were necessary that the members of the branch left the chamber dazed. But the ordinances providing funds for disinfection purposes and for erecting a temporary addition to the pesthouse were passed. The branch was careful to do nothing else, although there are many matters of public necessity awaiting action by select council.

The meeting yesterday was called by President John S. Lambie at the earnest request of the reform element of the common branch. The select branch for two weeks held up in the rump committee on finance the ordinance providing for the transfer of $7,500 from the contingent fund to the health fund to be used for the disinfection of buildings that have housed contagious and infectious diseases. After sitting on it two weeks the rump committee referred it to the joint committee on finance.

Asked a Special Meeting.

W. H. Stevenson, the reform chairman of the joint committee on finance, saw that the matter is one of public necessity in view of the epidemic of smallpox, and went to President Lambie, asking him to call a special meeting of his branch today to pass the ordinance, and agreeing to call the finance committee at once and return the ordinance to select council with an affirmative recommendation, although this committee, by its rules, reports to common council.

President Lambie, smarting under the criticism of the people, agreed to call the meeting, and did so, and the meeting yesterday was the result of this agreement. When the roll was first called there was no quorum present, but the necessary 20 was later secured.

Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., a member of the joint finance committee, reported the disinfection ordinance. President Lambie then read the ordinance which transfers $10,000 to provide funds for the temporary addition to the pesthouse. Mr. Lambie said that this ordinance came over from select council, but that it had not yet been considered by a rump committee. Then the program which had been agreed upon was put in operation.

Suspended the Rules.

"I move," said Mr. Wainwright, "that the rules of councils be suspended, that these ordinances may be placed on second and third reading and final passage, and that the rules of select council be suspended so that this one ordinance need not be considered by the separate committee."

President Lambie gasped, but recovered with difficulty and put the motion. The members of the branch were dazed. All were aware, however, that President Lambie had agreed there should be no fighting and they did their best to carry out their agreement. John Upperman was not present, and President Lambie finally prevailed in his peace proposition. The motion prevailed and both ordinances were then passed.

The ordinance providing funds for the addition to the pesthouse has now been passed by both branches of council and is up to Recorder J. O. Brown for his signature. The ordinance providing funds for disinfection will be passed by common council at a special meeting on next Monday night, and then the recorder will get an opportunity to sign that.

SOLD TO THE BUTCHERS.

A. Worth Is Accused of Disposing of Diseased Meat.

A hearing was held yesterday afternoon before Alderman W. A. Means of Franks-town avenue, in the case of A. Worth, who conducts a dairy in Oilphant street, East End, on a charge of selling and offering for sale diseased meat. The charge was made by Inspector A. H. Edwards. Alderman Means reserved his decision in the case.

It was testified that the cow had given birth to a calf a short time before it was butchered, and that it had been sick for nearly a month, and was suffering from a diseased liver. It was shown at the hearing that the carcass had been offered to a number of butchers, who refused to purchase it, and that Worth had finally sold one half of the cow to F. D. Orth, a butcher at Meadow and Larimer avenues, and the other half to Lowenstein Bros., butchers of Franks-town avenue. Inspector Edwards testified that Worth had told him that he had not sold the carcass, but had boiled it up and fed it to his chickens. Another witness testified that Worth had told him that he had nearly lost his cow, but not altogether, as he had sold it to the bologna butchers.

Cuban Minister Must Wait.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Senor Gonzales de Quesada, the newly arrived Cuban minister to Washington, called at the state department today and paid his respects to Secretary Hay. No arrangement has yet been made for the presentation of the new minister, but he was informed that as soon as the president's convenience served he would be notified and presented by Secretary Hay at the White House.

Part of the beauty in the story, "The Lark's Song," lies in its simplicity. You can secure it with The Sunday Gazette of June 15.

THE EXPLORERS OF MONT PELEE ARE RETURNING

Consul Ayme, Author Kennan, Prof. Heilprin and Others Headed Home.

SOUFRIERE STILL UGLY

Prof. Hovey's Party Examining the Craters, and British Scientists Are on the Way—Volcanic Dust Encountered Far at Sea.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Bassee-Terre, St. Kitts, June 13.—Col. Louis H. Ayme, the United States consul at Guadeloupe; George Kennan, the well-known traveler; Prof. Angelo Heilprin, president of the Philadelphia Geographical society; Mr. Varian and Mr. Jaccaci arrived here today from Fort de France, Martinique, on the steamer Fontabelle, which will leave tomorrow for New York. All the party are tired but in good health.

Dispatches from Kingstown, St. Vincent, say the behavior of the La Soufriere volcano is still alarming, frequently emitting, as it does, vast quantities of black steam. Many persons have returned to Chateau Belair and Georgetown, for business, but they are troubled by the uncertain appearance of the affected quarter.

A lake has formed at the base of the mountain. Its banks are volcanic matter that fell during the eruptions. Thick clouds of steam arise from this lake at close intervals. The fissures in other parts of Wallibu are still smoking.

The Work of Relief.

Relief work is progressing. The government is now sheltering and feeding 7,000 persons. The United States collier Leonidas has arrived with lumber for relief purposes. A large number of natives are now employed and trade is brightening generally. The repressed planters welcome the rise of the prices of arrowroot in the British market.

Vessels arriving report a fall of dust at a great distance out at sea. The bark Jupiter, from Cape Town, met dust on the morning of May 8 when 930 miles south-southeast of St. Vincent.

One of the chief objects of interest to the visitors to the crater was the mysterious Soufriere bird, myadestes sibilans (fly-catching thrush), specimens of which were secured some years ago for the Smithsonian institution at Washington. It is feared that the remainder of these birds were destroyed during the recent eruptions.

Fleet Surgeon Isaac H. Anderson of the British navy, and the scientific commission appointed by the royal society to investigate the volcanic disturbances arrived at Kingstown yesterday and left today for Chateau Belair, intending to ascend the Soufriere volcano when possible.

Americans Ascend Soufriere.

The American scientists, Prof. Edmund O. Hovey, assistant curator of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, and George C. Curtis of Harvard University, made another ascent of the Soufriere from the east last Monday. They heard the rumbling of boiling water in the old crater when half a mile off, waited until the fog cleared and found the southwest crater quiescent. The old ridge that used to run from the side to the bottom of the crater remains. There is no water in this crater. The Americans did not venture to approach the old crater.

Prof. Hovey says that, apparently, the crater of the 1812 eruption took no part in the recent outbreak, and so far as he and Mr. Curtis could see, no streams of molten rock, like those which issue from Mt. Vesuvius, have flowed, only superheated steam, old lava, ashes, etc., having been thrown out.

HONOLULU, June 6, via San Francisco, June 13.—The volcano Kilauea on Hawaii island has broken loose again, according to a report received today by steamer. Flames and smoke are rising above the crater. The outbreak took place June 4, and up to the time of the late reports from Hawaii, dated yesterday, it was continuing. The outbreak has been foreshadowed for many days by an increase over the normal volume of smoke coming from the crater. There also have been been slight earthquakes.

Engagement Announced.

At a reception given last evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. U. S. Strouss, in honor of the teachers of the public schools of Beaver, the engagement of one of their number, Miss Nettie Mae Caugheny, to Mr. Martin J. Bishop, was made. The wedding will take place in the early autumn. The bride-to-be is the daughter of James C. Caugheny, deputy clerk of courts of Beaver county, and the groom is the district manager of the Bell Telephone Company for Beaver valley.

Annual Reception.

The Gamma Sigma Literary society of the South Side high school held its annual reception at the school building last night. The society has a membership of about 60 scholars. Aside from the members a number of other young persons were present. A formal program had been arranged, but this was abandoned and the evening was given up to dancing.

Telegraph Official Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Charles S. Shivler, who was secretary and treasurer of the American District Telegraph Company in this city for many years, was arrested today at the direction of District Attorney Jerome. He was accused by the company of peculations for half a dozen years, amounting to between $16,000 and $17,000. The case was referred to the grand jury.

Mississippi Election Reform.

JACKSON, MISS., June 13.—The supreme court today decided that the Noel primary election law, adopted at the last session of the legislature, is constitutional. Under this law all party nominations in Mississippi are to be made by primary elections, abolishing the nomination by convention.

Brooklyn's New Superintendent.

ST. PAUL, June 13.—Dow S. Smith, superintendent of the St. Paul system of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

SMALLPOX VICTIMS FOUND YESTERDAY

EIGHT MORE CASES WERE TAKEN TO THE MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL.

Fewer Reports of Scarlet and Typhoid Fever Cases—Numerous Complaints Regarding Garbage on Streets and Overflowing Cesspools Were Filed.

With eight new cases of smallpox reported yesterday, numerous complaints as to rotting garbage and overflowing cesspools, the bureau of health had its hands full. Fortunately all but one of the smallpox cases were out of houses already quarantined. There was a slight diminution in the number of scarlet fever and typhoid fever cases, there being only one of the former and eight of typhoid. There was also one case of diphtheria.

The big wall tent erected on the lawn in front of the Municipal hospital was used again last night for convalescent smallpox patients. The men patients prefer sleeping in the tent to staying in the house at night, and there was great competition among them for the privilege of being tentmates. Another tent has been ordered and will probably be put up tomorrow. The one in use is a wall tent and has a double roof.

In speaking of the use of tents, Dr. Booth, the city physician, said: "The tents are to be used only for convalescents of the male sex. We have plenty of room for female convalescents, and the space the convalescent men took up in the house will be used for persons who have the smallpox. The tents are rain proof and wind proof, and it is much pleasanter living under them than in the house in this weather."

Complaints about filth in the streets and on vacant lots came in numerously. They accumulated so fast that Jesse Young, the sanitary inspector, was kept busy for hours inscribing them in his book, and late in the afternoon he had to go out himself to aid the sanitary officers in their duties. Rotting garbage thrown promiscuously about gave rise to most of the complaints. The heavy rains are responsible for the overflowing cesspools.

While the complaints are all filed with the bureau of health the bureau has not the power or the facilities to remove the causes of dissatisfaction. If a citizen tells of garbage lying in the street or open lots, the bureau of highways and sewers is notified; if neglected garbage cans cause the trouble, the garbage contractor is told to take the stuff away. To dispose of the complaints arising from overflowing cesspools a little red tape is necessary. The owner of the premises is notified and told to abate the nuisance; by law three days are allowed, within which time he must act, but if he fails he is prosecuted by the superintendent of the bureau of health.

The rains and the consequent humidity in the atmosphere combined with the hot weather of the last two days have had overpowering results in neighborhoods where the residents prefer to save the cost of a garbage can and scatter the kitchen refuse on vacant lots or even in the street. The sanitary officers and the regular policemen, too, are watching for infractions of the laws and ordinances in this respect and people who disobey the regulations are to be prosecuted.

The last inmate of No. 526 Stockholm street was removed yesterday to the Municipal hospital and the house has been disinfected and is quarantined no longer, the smallpox having nobody else to feed on. Mary Hamlin, aged 24, and two children, Birdie and Missouri Hamlin, aged 3 and 5 years, respectively, were living there, and were found to have the smallpox. John Carr, aged 20, and his sister, Mary, aged 6 years, were taken from No. 1727 Liberty street to the hospital. This house is still under quarantine. Another quarantined house is No. 24 Overhill street, and Rinehart Kooglin and Clarence Kooglin, brothers, were removed from there to the Municipal hospital. Frank Getz, aged 22, was taken from No. 3449 Grant boulevard, ill with the smallpox. The house was quarantined.

SENATE DIVIDED ON NOMINATION OF WM. CROZIER

Leading Advocate of Confirmation a Democrat, Opponent a Republican.

A QUESTION OF LEGALITY

Proctor Contends the Statute Bars Promotion of a Captain to Be Chief of Ordnance—The Inventor's Patent Another Obstacle.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—With the exception of a few minutes devoted to the reading of the president's message on Cuba, the senate spent the entire day considering the nomination of Capt. William Crozier to be chief of the bureau of ordnance. The principal speeches of the day were made by Senators Cockrell and Proctor, the former favoring the confirmation and the latter opposing that course.

Senator Proctor referred at length to the effect of the law of February 2, 1901, which, it is claimed, makes an exception in cases like that of Gen. Crozier. Section 26 of that law provides that no person shall be appointed chief of the staff corps who is below the rank of lieutenant colonel, but this provision is accompanied by an amendment providing for exceptions. The friends of Gen. Crozier contend that these exceptions open a way for his appointment, but Senator Proctor argued that such is not the case, and declared that under the law he clearly is ineligible.

Crozier's Patent a Drawback.

Senator Proctor also referred to the fact that Gen. Crozier is the patentee of the Buffington-Crozier gun carriage, and he and others who stood with him asserted that no officer possessing such an interest should be put at the head of the bureau which controls the use of such patents. He also asserted that it is unusual to go so low as the rank of captain in selecting the heads of staff corps, and said this proceeding had had no precedent since the civil war.

Senator Cockrell said the appointment had been made because of the exceptional fitness of Gen. Crozier for the position and that he is in every way, personally and professionally, worthy of the compliments which the appointment implied.

Senator Foraker in a brief address said that as a member of the committee on military affairs he originally had opposed Gen. Crozier's nomination; but that he had done so because at that time the general was a member of the board of ordnance and fortifications, which fact he did not believe is consistent with his appointment to this position, owing to the general's patent interests. Now, however, since Gen. Crozier had been removed from that place he did not consider the nomination objectionable and was prepared to vote for consideration.

Patents Out of Crozier's Hands.

Senators Warren and Harris called special attention to the fact that Gen. Crozier has transferred all his United States patents to the government and that he had realized nothing from his foreign patents.

The session adjourned and no day was fixed for continuing consideration owing to the pressure of other matters. Gen. Crozier's confirmation is generally conceded by his opponents.

The president's message urging the establishment of reciprocity relations between the United States and Cuba was received after the senate had gone into secret session. The doors were opened and the message was read.

"Is a motion in order, Mr. President?" inquired Mr. Bailey.

"It is," replied the chair (Mr. Kean).

"I had intended to make a motion," said Mr. Bailey, facetiously. "I will not do it; but I feel inclined to move to refer the message to the Republican caucus." (Laughter.)

Mr. Allison, who was sitting directly in front of Mr. Bailey, on the Democratic side, and who had listened attentively to the reading of the message, turned to the Texan and, smiling with the utmost good nature, bowed ceremoniously to Mr. Bailey.

"The chair is not aware," replied Mr. Kean, "that any such committee exists." (Laughter.)

BOTH HOUSES PASS IRRIGATION BILL.

Lower Branch Attaches a Few Amendments to Senate Measure. Fund from Land Sales.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The house today passed the irrigation bill by a vote of 146 to 55. Many amendments were offered, but only one, except those offered by the committee, was adopted. It was of a minor character. The bill already has passed the senate.

The bill, as passed, creates a reclamation fund from the sale of public lands in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, less the amount paid to local land officers and 5 per cent due the state under existing laws for educational purposes, the reclamation fund to be used for the construction and maintenance of irrigation works in the states and territories enumerated. Provision is made for the payment out of the treasury of any deficiencies in the allowance to agricultural colleges, owing to this disposition of public lands.

The secretary of the interior is authorized to examine, survey and construct the irrigation works and report the cost thereof to congress at each session.

No right to the use of water for land in private ownership shall be sold for a tract exceeding 160 acres to any one landowner, and no such sale shall be made to any landowner unless he be an actual, bona fide resident on such land or occupant thereof."

Mr. Dalzell criticised the bill as violative of all recognized principles of federal and state power, and also as unfair. It is a scheme, he said, whereby the arid states receive the proceeds of public lands in those states, while the other states are left to pay the cost of administration for the scheme.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The president signed the river and harbor bill.

Senator McMillan has introduced a bill creating a national board of pardons.

The president has nominated Simon Frankle to be postmaster at Chicora, Pa.

David Chambers has been appointed postmaster at Clarence, Center county, Pa., vice John Madille, resigned.

The senate committee on interstate commerce has authorized a favorable report on the bill extending the safety appliance law so as to make it applicable to locomotive tenders as well as to cars.

Secretary Hay has requested from Minister Bowen at Caracas by cable a statement of the condition of affairs in Venezuela, particularly with reference to slippage.

Commissioner Yerkes of the internal revenue bureau has issued a regulation which holds that no artificial coloring matter whatever can be used in any way in the manufacture of oleomargarine without increasing the tax.

The Republicans of the house committee on insular affairs have decided to substitute the house bill for the civil government of the Philippines for the bill passed by the senate, which is to be taken up by the house Wednesday.

The house committee on naval affairs has decided to postpone until next session the bill for the retirement of Naval Constructor R. P. Hobson, on account of defective eyesight. The report says only the gravest reasons would justify special legislation of this kind.

WAGE SCALE WAS FIXED.

Conference of Sheet Steel Workers and Employers Was Held Here Yesterday.

Committees representing the Amalgamated association and the American Sheet Steel Company yesterday closed the detailed wage scale for the year, beginning with July. Prior to the Amalgamated convention held in Wheeling in May the present scale was renewed with the understanding that additional details would be considered at the customary annual conference.

This was held yesterday in the Pittsburgh offices of the Sheet Steel Company. Two new clauses, which the workers asked for, were inserted in the scale. It is understood that a demand of the manufacturers that the clause providing extra pay of 10 per cent for sheets of No. 18 guage and lighter, and which are over 32 inches wide, and 7 per cent on No. 16 guage and lighter of special dimensions, be eliminated, was granted.

Persifer F. Smith, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh district plants, and John Warner, general superintendent of the western plants, represented the company. The general officials and a special committee represented the Amalgamated association. An effort is being made to hold the final conference with the American Tin Plate Company next week.

ITALY'S BIG COAL DEAL.

Purchases Aggregating $8,000,000 Said to Have Been Made.

Frank J. Weixel, vice-president of the Pittsburgh Milling Company, and J. A. Lewis of Pittsburgh are said to be the Pittsburghers who have sold Victor Emmanuel, the king of Italy, 150,000 acres of undeveloped coal property in the Pocohontas field of West Virginia, at a price said to aggregate $8,000,000. The purchase is for the government of Italy, departments of which have been figuring for a long time for a supply of coal. Large blocks have been exported from this country to Italy.

Mr. Lewis sailed for Genoa about June 5, and it is understood that prior to that Mr. Weixel, who is now in Italy, cabled here that he had closed the deal. About two years ago representatives of the Italian government were here and through Mr. Weixel opened negotiations with the Pittsburgh Coal Company for a supply of coal. This deal fell through.

SALARIES MUST BEAR THE LIGHT OF INVESTIGATION

A Special Councilmanic Committee Has Begun the Work of Revision.

CONTROLLER'S STATEMENT

He Shows How the Appropriation for the Bureau of Highways and Sewers Has Been Increasing, and Makes Comparisons.

Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works and Supt. John Battles of the bureau of highways and sewers have been directed to appear before the salary revision committee next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and give information touching the number of employes under their direction, the salaries they receive and the work they do. This committee is a special committee of common council and organized yesterday by electing W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward as chairman. The other members of the committee are Christ F. Beckert, Jr., of the Fourteenth ward and Jacob Schuck of the Thirty-first ward.

The committee directed Controller John B. Larkin to furnish the committee with lists of city employes and the salaries they receive, and also to produce a list of all employes of the city who have been given increases in salary since June, 1898, together with the amount of the increase. This information before the committee will permit it to begin its work to learn what each employe ought to receive and what he does receive.

After this information is gathered the committee will begin the preparation of an ordinance revising the salaries of all city officials and employes to the figure that the committee believes they ought to have. Common council will then pass such an ordinance. The reform leaders say that the ordinance will be fair, and they believe that select council will perceive the wisdom of passing it also.

The most important of the business transacted by the committee was the reception and reading by the committee of a communication from Controller Larkin, which is as follows:

The Controller's Statement.

Pittsburgh, June 13, 1902.

W. H. Stevenson, Esq., Chairman Committee on Revision of Salaries and Number of City Employes.

Dear Sir: In connection with the duties of your committee, allow me to call attention to one of my features requiring prompt attention and radical revision.

This controller finds that for the fiscal year, 1901, the bureau of highways and sewers had appropriated to it in round numbers, $318,000. This appropriation was exhausted in December, but the January, 1902, payment for labor, amounting to $20,088, was carried over until the appropriation of this year was available.

This year the appropriation to that bureau was, for some unexplained reason, inflated from $318,000 to $474,000. In 30 days it had drawn upon for $23,358, the largest monthly drain, with two exceptions, for five years, and $5,000 more than was required for same month in 1901.

In April they increased the outgo to $24,707 against $17,410 in same month of the preceding year, and $4,000 more than in any year since 1896. But not until the month just passed did those in charge of the bureau attack the fund wholesale, as $30,262 was taken from it to meet the wants of May pay roll. Compared with $19,841 for May, 1901, a clear increase of 34.4 per cent in one year and an indication of what is to follow. The controller assumes that since the amount to the credit of the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year was $474,000, or $156,000 larger than that of 1901, the bureau will not relax effort until more than the whole appropriation has been drawn upon and spent, as follows:

Labor to May 31	$117,000
Labor June 1 to February 1, 1903	242,000
Supplies, estimated	80,000
Contracts charged to fund	50,000

Little Fluctuation.

This estimate is predicted on the ratio of expenditure from beginning of fiscal year to May 31. It may be said in extension that the month of May is general cleaning up month, and that from now until the end of fiscal year the monthly pay rolls will be smaller. That would be a fallacy, as a survey of the pay rolls drawn against that fund average for the months of August and December and covering five years, amount to $20,527, while those of May for the same time, are $20,899, a very slight difference.

It appears that this bureau generally employed 500 to 600 men in the busy season, embracing drivers, foremen, stable bosses, sewer-drop men and laborers, until this year, when from some necessity not apparent to the general public, the roll has been swelled to over 700 men with the result stated above.

The disposition to hang the roll up for investigation is curbed by the fact that the men on it are the poorest of wage earners, with dependent families, and are not responsible for this waste of public funds; as well as for the other reason that you and your honorable committee have this and kindred matters now under discussion.

The controller has no desire to reflect on the men under whose auspices this work is done, but his duty to the people of this city makes it imperative on him to say that a system that has had 13 years unhampered trial with whatever appropriation it chose to exact in each of the years, and then suddenly finds the budget of the preceding year 34.4 per cent short of the needs of 14th year, is at least improperly organized or incapable of the work allotted to it.

Average Appropriation.

The records of this office show that in the last six years the average annual appropriation to this bureau has been $333,000; average warrants countersigned, $332,000, while warrants paid annually averaged about $256,000, leaving an average of $75,000 in outstanding warrants.

It looks now very much as though the appropriation would not only be exhausted, but an illegal indebtedness of $10,000 to $15,000 incurred, in addition to the increase of $156,000 in appropriation.

For your information I herewith submit a schedule showing the monthly cost of labor in that bureau, from February, 1897, to May, 1902, inclusive.

"Respectfully submitted,

J. B. LARKIN,
Controller.

APPROPRIATION NO. 50, HIGHWAYS AND SEWERS. LABOR ON STREETS.

Yrs.	Feb.	Mch.	April	May.	June.	July.	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.	Jan.
1897	$16,359	$19,034	$19,352	$19,884	$20,119	$20,477	$20,419	$20,416	$20,010	$19,198	$21,719	$ 19,007
1898	18,483	20,062	20,209	20,686	21,822	21,967	23,659	22,809	22,562	20,154	20,429	20,064
1899	19,563	22,095	20,858	22,408	21,767	21,084	23,102	21,504	21,887	19,006	18,499	13,550
1900	16,564	18,510	17,984	21,246	22,294	22,084	22,615	18,089	17,823	16,035	12,123	13,332
1901	14,055	17,377	17,410	19,841	20,967	22,012	24,088	21,032	23,474	22,674	19,576	20,903
1902	17,972	23,358	24,707	30,262

That there may be no doubt about the conclusions drawn from the figures presented for your consideration, the controller begs to further show the criminal waste of public money in this department of city government by reenforcing the statement through comparison with similar work in cities of approximate population.

From a compilation of wide circulation made March, 1902, by F. A. Blades, Esq., controller of Detroit, Mich., through figures furnished him by officials of the cities named, the total cost of cleaning streets and alleys for last fiscal year was as follows:

	Population.	Cost.
Detroit	285,000	$158,575 06
Milwaukee	285,000	175,000 00
Cincinnati	326,000	199,641 25
Buffalo	382,000	143,917 70
Cleveland	381,000	226,349 12
Pittsburgh	321,000
Including cleaning of sewers		323,871 22

Add a proposed expenditure this year of $474,000.

An Enormous Increase.

"It will be seen the average excess in cost to this city last year, compared with population, was almost 40 per cent, and this year is to exceed last by 34 per cent of an additional load. It is no wonder the people are in rebellion against this kind of government.

"You will observe the ordinance that make these glaring wrongs possible, open pathways to prodigate expenditure and invite the appointment of 500 or 5,000 men at such salaries (within the maximum) as may suit the discretion of the director of that department.

The economics, enterprise and industrial ramifications and hard sense that made this city great and wealthy as it is to be seriously interfered with by this mal-administration; but what a reflection is it that thrift, care, prudence and application govern the private affairs of a great community, while its public service is open to architects of ruin.

If your committee can prevent this wilful or ignorant waste of public money by cutting off the dead wood in this bureau alone, and put it on a business basis, where it will conserve the purpose of its creation at anything like a prudent outlay, it will have rendered the people valued service.

AMBITIOUS PROJECT FOR ELECTRIC POWER

Wm. C. Whitney Joins Hands With Hungarian Company—Hopes to Banish Steam from Railroads.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—In connection with the acquisition of the Stanley Electrical Manufacturing Company's plant at Pittsfield, Mass., by William C. Whitney and his associates, there is back of the purchase a purpose to extend the works with the aid of Ganz & Co. of Buda Pest, one of the largest electrical concerns in Europe, for the purpose of converting steam railroads in this country into electrical roads. The substitution of electricity for steam on American lines is not expected to be entered upon at once, but for the immediate future the increased plant at Pittsfield is to supply the demands of the street railways in this city, Philadelphia, northern New Jersey, and in Connecticut for electrical supplies. Later, wherever there is a congestion of traffic on the steam roads in the east, it is believed there will be a displacement of the locomotive by the electrical engine.

A representative of the Whitney syndicate says the financial details of the plan by which the Ganz concern is to join hands with Mr. Whitney and his associates in the establishment of a branch factory in this country, have been arranged. It is further asserted that at least 15 locomotive-building concerns in the United States will be brought into the enterprise.

PRINTERS' ELECTION.

President Lynch Gets a Second Term Over Typographical Union.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 13.—The canvassing board of the International Typographical union today completed the count of the vote for national officers. Nearly 29,000 votes were cast, about 70 per cent of the entire strength of the union. Following are the officers chosen for two years: President, James M. Lynch, Syracuse, N. Y., re-elected; first vice president, C. E. Hawkes, Chicago; third vice president, James Mulcahy, St. Louis; fourth vice president, J. F. O'Sullivan, Boston; secretary-treasurer, J. W. Bramwood, Denver. Delegates to American Federation of Labor, printers, William M. Garrett, Washington; Max S. Hays, Cleveland; Frank Morrison, Chicago; allied crafts, J. F. O'Sullivan, Boston.

THEIR YACHT UPSET.

Man and Woman Drowned in the Delaware River—Three Rescued by Federal Launch.

CHESTER, PA., June 13.—Capt. Hannett Robbins, of Port Norris, N. J., and Mrs. Pluma Haines of Camden, N. J., were drowned this afternoon, opposite this city, by the capsizing of the sloop Henry S. Robbins, from Port Norris for Philadelphia, laden with oyster shells.

On the yacht, at the time of the accident, besides those above mentioned, were Miss Lizzie Jones of Camden, and Robert Reed and Charles F. Burton of Port Norris.

The sloop was caught in a sudden gust of wind and in a moment all of the occupants were struggling in the water. The United States launch Cadet, with a surveying party on board, which was near at hand, hurried to the rescue, but Capt. Robbins and Mrs. Haines had already disappeared. The others were taken from the water and conveyed to the hospital in this city, whence they left shortly afterward for their homes.

The bodies of Capt. Robbins and Mrs. Haines have not been recovered.

FACTORY HANDS ESCAPED DEATH IN SAFETY NETS

Several Hundred Men and Women Took Long Leaps from Burning Building.

FIVE SEVERELY INJURED

Big Leather House Burned—Many Escapes Sensational—Girl Carried Down Ladder by Policeman Can Hardly Live—Firemen Suffered.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—Fire today destroyed the novelty leather factory of H. M. Rosenblatt & Co. a four-story brick structure at Second and Oxford streets, and resulted in severe injuries to a dozen persons. The John Moffet public school, opposite the leather works, was damaged, three dwelling houses adjoining the factory were destroyed and nine others were slightly damaged.

The rapid spread of the flames gave rise to rumors that a number of the employes had met death in the burning factory, but these reports proved to be erroneous. A member of the firm of Rosenblatt & Co. tonight said all the employes had been accounted for.

There were many sensational and narrow escapes, most of the 400 men and women employed in the factory saving their lives by leaping from the windows into nets held by the firemen.

Katie Scheidell, aged 15, was carried down a ladder by a policeman. She was badly burned and her condition is reported as serious. Others severely injured are:

GEORGE HEBERT, aged 47, back injured.
JOHN SNYDER, aged 22, shoulder dislocated and leg fractured.
AUGUST SCHOETER, aged 49, leg fractured.
SAMUEL TRANKERMAN, aged 25, burned about body.

Several others, including a police sergeant and two firemen, sustained severe lacerations and were overcome by heat and shock.

The fire originated in a small annex known as the celluloid room. It is believed a spark from crossed electric wires fell into a quantity of celluloid. The fire caused a panic among the employes, especially those on the upper floors, and for a time the wildest excitement prevailed. Firemen and policemen, however, prevented the panic stricken workers from leaping until nets had been spread to receive them.

Mr. Rosebiatt estimates his loss at $150,000, partly covered by insurance, and the loss of other properties is estimated at $15,000.

Training Ship Escaped Injury.

BALTIMORE, MD., June 13.—The United States training ship Chesapeake, which ran aground on Taylors island yesterday, was floated last night. She was uninjured and is supposed to have proceeded on her cruise with the first, second and third classes of naval cadets.

Part of the beauty in the story, "The Lark's Song," lies in its simplicity. You can secure it with The Sunday Gazette of June 15.

COMMODORE NICHOLSON OF OUR NAVY

Recommends Pe-ru-na—Other Prominent Men Testify.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy in a letter from 1837 R Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peruna has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint." S. NICHOLSON.

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, U. S. Minister from Guatemala, ex-member of Congress from Kentucky, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes: "I am fully satisfied that your Peruna is an efficacious remedy for catarrh, as I and many of my friends have been benefited by its use."

W. G. HUNTER, M. D.

Hon. G. R. Brown, Martinville, Va., ex-member of Congress Fifth District, 50th Congress, writes: "I cheerfully give my endorsement to your Peruna as a cure for catarrh. Its beneficial results have been so fully demonstrated that its use is essential to all persons suffering from that disease."

HON. G. R. BROWN.

Frank W. Colbath, 15 School street, Auburn, Maine, writes: "Having read so much about Peruna in the papers I decided to try it for catarrh in the head which I have had for twenty years or more. I have taken two bottles and am entirely cured."

FRANK W. COLBATH.

Mr. J. C. Hoffman, Rea, Mo., writes: "About a year ago I was suffering with catarrh and I wrote to Dr. Hartman of my symptoms and he promptly gave me advice. I used Peruna faithfully and I feel better than I have for five years, and all praise is due Peruna. I have a good appetite and all the symptoms of catarrh are gone. I believe that I am cured and Peruna cured me. I think Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

J. C. HOFFMAN.

The day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true today of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low stations, that no one hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men representing all classes and stations are equally represented.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Stellar Oil Attraction in Monroe County

The Unitl Oil Company's new strike on the E. J. and Kate M. Harper farm, west of Jerusalem, Monroe county, Ohio, is the chief attraction in the lower southwest. When drilled into the pay it started to flow 20 barrels an hour and yesterday was holding up at a good pace. The location is about 500 feet southwest of No. 1 on the same farm. To the south and southwest of developments considerable new work is starting far in advance of defined limits. These are the only two directions holding out any inducements to wildcatters. To the north and northeast is gas and to the west and east dry holes have been completed.

Developments in other sections of southwestern Ohio contain nothing of a sensational nature. In the Big Lime district, near Lewisville, S. S. Longfellow & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the Fred Kestner farm and have a show for a 15-barrel producer. Six miles southwest of Jerusalem and the same distance from Woodsville, the Unity Company has drilled in west on the John Cooper farm into the Keener sand and has developed a strong gas pressure.

On Wolf creek, Morgan county, George C. Best, Jr., has completed his No. 15 on the W. E. Russell farm and has a producer that placed 25 barrels to its credit the first 24 hours after it was drilled into the Shallow sand.

In the Bricker field, Harrison county, the Eastern Oil Company has completed a test on the John Henderson farm and has a duster. Davis, Johnson & Co. have completed their No. 2 on the John M. Copeland farm and have a show for a five-barrel pumper. In the same district the Holliday Oil Company has completed a second test on the Edward Holliday farm and has a small pumper.

The Hogg, Hedge & Holmes Oil and Gas Company has completed a test on the E. W. Thompson farm and has a duster. The Bricker Oil Company's No. 4 on the Beadle heirs' farm is in and showing for a five or 10-barrel well.

West Virginia Developments.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, W. Va., the Federal Oil Company has completed its Nos. 4 and 7 on the Edward Connelly farm. The first is good for five barrels and the last for 10 barrels a day. In the same district the South Penn Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 13 on the Smith-Vamper farms and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Gordon sand.

South of Bealls Mills the same company's No. 2 on the William Griggs farm is still drilling in the fifth sand and when last heard from had not reached the pay streak.

In the Smiths Ferry field, in Beaver county, the Glenn Rock Oil Company has completed its test on the Blackwell heirs' farm and has a small gasser. In the same district Dawson & Hays have completed their test on the George Fisher farm and have a very light well. The Beaver Valley Oil Company has completed a second test on the William Gibb farm and has a duster.

In the Crows Run district, Beaver county, the Fort Pitt Gas Company and Mitchell have completed No. 3 on the Christian Wagner farm and have a duster.

In the Leetsdale, Pa., district, R. K. Wilson has drilled in No. 8 on his own farm and has a duster in the 900-foot. He will drill to the gas sand.

In the old Hickory gas field, in Washington county, Pa., located two miles west of Hickory, and the same distance southwest of Midway, the Hoffman Oil Company is reported having drilled a test on the Stephenson farm into the third sand and has a show for a producer. This is an entirely new departure for this territory and may lead up to some new work.

INGRAM PARK!

SEE IT! See Us Today, Saturday, Our Opening Day!

First who come, first will get lots! These lots must go quick!

This, our lovely new suburb, lies in INGRAM on INGRAM AVE., a little beyond the terminus of INGRAM & CRAFTON ST. CAR lines. It is five minutes' walk from Ingram Sta., on the Pa. R. R.

Ingram is not "clinging for dear life onto the side of some mountain"—inaccessible, remote, It lies serenely nestled in the beautiful green, sunlit valley of Chartiers Township.

First-class sewerage will be put in.

Lots in the near vicinity are valued at $2,400.

You know practically all of the Trafford City lots were sold before the excursion train arrived, therefore you better come early Saturday morning.

The Guarantee Title & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh guarantees this title. Our Company will also issue a policy guaranteeing the title to be perfect and free of encumbrance to each purchaser. We will also give to each purchaser absolutely free a one year's policy of Accident Insurance, for $1,000.00 in case of death, and five dollars a week for non-fatal injuries.

As soon as you set foot on the ground you can read the future of INGRAM PARK property as clearly as you can read this newspaper. For instance, there is one palatial residence home just a few feet beyond our property that is estimated to be worth $75,000. And there are elegant homes on all sides of this property.

Ingram Park is not in the smoke district.
Ingram Park is not on a hill-top.
Ingram Park has rapid transit service.
Ingram Park is surrounded by beautiful scenery.
Ingram Park is not reached through a tunnel that is "going to be built."
Ingram Park is in a telephone district.
Ingram Park is accessible to two street car lines and one railroad.
Ingram Park has 36 trains running daily between it and Pittsburgh.
Ingram Park is beautifully located—all surrounded by handsome dwellings.
Ingram Park fronts on elegant macadamized road.
Ingram Park is four miles west of Pittsburgh's center.
Ingram Park is ten minutes' ride on train starting from Fourth Ave. R. R. Station.
Ingram Park is 30 minutes' ride on the street car.
Take Ingram & Crafton car at Fifth and Market Streets, or Thornburg Branch.

Talk about free excursions! We are going to have a free excursion to this property all day Saturday, not for one trip only, but for all day.

Come to our office any time during the day and get free tickets, or salesmen will pay your fare for both ways, if you prefer, at the grounds. Our salesmen on the grounds will have white ribbons in the buttonholes of their coats. Take a ride and enjoy yourself, whether you buy a lot or not. Salesmen on the grounds till 8 o'clock tonight.

ILLINOIS UNION TAKES INTEREST IN MINE STRIKE

Western Officials on the Way to Confer With Mitchell at Wilkesbarre.

TALK OF SYMPATHY MOVE

Strikers in the Anthracite Region Bringing Out Fire Bosses—Cutting Off Food from Families of Non-Union Workers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 13.—W. D. Ryan, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, accompanied by other state officials, leaves tonight for Wilkesbarre, Pa., where they will confer with officers of the anthracite district.

What their mission to the striking field is they refuse to divulge, and Mr. Ryan refuses to confirm or deny any report that the miners of Illinois would strike in sympathy with the Pennsylvania men. It is generally believed, however, that the Illinois officials are going to confer with President Mitchell regarding a sympathetic strike in Illinois coal fields.

Working on the Fire Bosses.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 13.—The work of the strikers in attempting to bring out all men still in the service of the coal companies goes steadily on. Their campaign against the engineers, firemen and pumpmen is nearly over, most of these men being out. The union is now paying attention to the fire bosses, clerks and others who have taken the places of those who quit. Many fire bosses have already stopped work because they had been asked to take the strikers' places. This afternoon about a dozen more consented to join the strikers.

The union will expel all engineers, firemen and pumpmen who have not obeyed the strike order. They have been given until tomorrow night to join the strikers.

The officials of the companies are complaining of what they call "secret intimidation" of the families of workmen who have remained loyal to the employers.

Hard on Women and Children.

The superintendent of one of the largest coal companies said today:

"Information that is absolutely trustworthy has reached us that the local unions are passing resolutions calling upon tradesmen not to supply food to the families of those who are still at work. If they do not carry out these resolutions the storekeepers are threatened with a boycott, which will ruin them in their particular community.

"Most of the husbands and male support of these families dare not go near colleries for fear of bodily harm and are living in quarters provided by us. Consequently, the woman and children cannot protect themselves. Every day we get appeals from these families, and in every instance the company takes it upon itself to see that they shall not hereafter be cut off from their daily supply of the necessities of life."

Rushing in Outside Workers.

READING, PA., June 13.—Another carload of workmen went through here for the coal regions today. Thus far it is said the Philadelphia & Reading Company has secured more than 1,000 men, mostly firemen, engineers and pumpmen. It was stated by an official that there is not a colliery in the Reading company's territory where the pumps are not being manned today where desired. Provisions for the men are secured in the large cities and distributed by the company.

LANCASTER, PA., June 13.—Pasturage has been obtained at Colerain, this county, for more than 3,000 mine mules from the Schuylkill coal region. Twelve hundred have already arrived and 2,400 more are on the way. The quarters have been engaged for all summer.

TELEPHONIC REVIVAL.

Independent Company Embarrassed by Everett-Moore Syndicate Will Be Strongly Reorganized.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.—The bankers' committee in charge of the affairs of the Everett-Moore syndicate has given an option to a party of independent telephone capitalists on the United States Telephone Company, with the result that the company will shortly be reorganized and fully financed.

The United States is the long-distance company operated in connection with the Federal Telephone Company. Its lines connect with nearly all the cities and towns in Ohio and are being rapidly extended into adjoining states. Ultimately these lines, it is understood, will be connected with the independent long-distance companies in the east. Connections with Chicago and other western cities, it is stated, will also be made, and a through service between the east and west established.

It is announced that a large portion of the stock in the reorganized company has already been underwritten. The United States Telephone Company is capitalized at $2,000,000. Under the reorganization plan it is proposed to retire the floating indebtedness at once.

BUTLER COUNTY MAILS.

The Entire County to Be Covered by Free Rural Delivery.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—(Special.)—Representative Showalter had a conference with postoffice department officials this morning regarding the placing of all of Butler county under the rural delivery of mail service. At present there are five routes in the county, but the scheme to cover the county completely calls for 74 additional routes, or 80 routes in all, starting from Butler, Chicora and other points.

Mr. Showalter was assured that plans for this are being pushed vigorously, and he came away under the impression that about August 1 the plans will be in operation.

BOTH PARTIES ARE SELECTING MEN

CITIZENS' GENERAL COMMITTEE HELD ANOTHER MEETING.

Will Gather in Allegheny Tonight for Final Conference—Southside Congressional Nomination Bothering Citizens and Legislature Troubling Democrats.

The general executive committee of the Citizens party in Allegheny county is busy selecting its candidates for county, legislative and congressional offices on the fusion ticket. Another meeting of the committee was held yesterday afternoon in Citizens headquarters in Third avenue. The meeting lasted for an hour and a half, but at its adjournment the announcement was made that no information would be given out in regard to the nominees until after the joint conference committees of Citizens and Democrats had met on Tuesday.

The committee expects to finish up its ticket tonight, when a meeting will be held in the handsome new Citizens headquarters in Allegheny. There the workers in the city will be consulted in regard to Allegheny's share of the nominations. Many workers from country districts will also be called into this conference and the committee will then finally decide on the Citizens party men who will be placed on the ticket.

The Democratic committeemen have been consulting the ward and district leaders, and their slate is about made up. No information is available as to who the nominees will be, except that J. J. Miller will be a candidate for orphans court judge. There are several aspirants for the county commissionership, and one of them will probably draw a consolation prize in the shape of the nomination for director of the poor. As to the candidates for the offices of clerk of courts and register of deeds the leaders preserve a strict silence. This is also noticeable among the Citizens committeemen.

The demand of the South Side wards for the Thirty-second district congressional nomination is causing the leaders considerable trouble. They had about decided to name James W. Brown of the Twenty-second ward, but the South Side wants a candidate from that side of the river, and as a great majority of the voters live there, the committee is inclined to accede, if the "cliff-dwellers" can agree upon a man. They have not been able to do this as yet, Joseph Vitchestain and several others having each their own following.

The congressional nomination in the downtown district is also hanging fire. Maj. A. P. Burchfield and H. Kirke Porter being the favorites. It is not yet known whether either of them will accept, but it is probable that one of the two will be named. In the Twenty-ninth district, it is generally conceded that George Shiras will get the place, and his election over William H. Graham, is regarded as assured.

The Democrats are having their troubles with the legislative nominations, two in number, which are understood to have been alloted to them. There are many candidates for both places, and there is a possibility that considerable hard feeling may develop over the result.

The committees of Democrats and Citizens will hold a joint meeting at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon at Citizens headquarters, at which each party will announce its candidates and the ticket will be made public.

GOT NERVOUS AND DIED.

Fire in Homestead Cause of Thomas Hool's Sudden Death.

The excitement incident to a fire was the indirect cause of the death of Thomas Hool, a private watchman in Homestead, yesterday morning. Hool was 40 years of age and was employed by the merchants of Homestead to watch their stores at night. Shortly after 11 o'clock Thursday night he discovered smoke at McClure and Eighth avenues. He hurried to a telephone and after considerable difficulty called the fire department.

The delay in getting the firemen and the difficulty afterwards in locating the exact place of the blaze worried Hool and he became nervous and excited. The fire was finally extinguished and Hool continued his rounds, but complained that he was ill and went home at 5 o'clock. His wife summoned Dr. John M. Stewart, but her husband died in a short time.

Hool had been a resident of Homestead for the last six years and was well known. During last winter his wife and four small children were ill with typhoid fever for a long time and the case excited considerable sympathy.

TO SAVE THE BIRDS.

Chicago Society Forces Wholesale Milliners to Cease Sale of Plumage.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Illinois Audubon society took stern action today against the use or sale of bodies or plumage of birds for millinery purposes. Edward Clark, director of the society, visited the leading wholesale milliners and inspected the stocks of plumage on hand. Case after case of plumage of birds protected by state and federal laws was pointed out for destruction.

The majority of the wholesalers at once signified their intention to comply with the law, and many of them cabled to European houses countermanding orders.

BORAX MAY BE USED.

Minnesota Has No Law Against Preservatives on Meat.

ST. PAUL, June 13.—There is nothing in the Minnesota law to prevent packers from using preservatives on meat. This point was decided today by the supreme court in test cases against two butchers who were convicted in a lower court.

The court holds that the amendment to the pure food law passed in 1901 applies only to milk and cream and that the use of borax in meats is not illegal.

Carnegie Gets Guns—Thomas Espy post No. 153, Grand Army of the Republic, has been advised by the war department that it has been presented with two 24-pound cannon, trophies of the civil war, now in Ft. Clinch, Fla. They will be placed in the Carnegie library park.

Names for Sub-Stations—Postmaster George L. Holliday has decided upon the names for the new sub-stations. He recommends to the postoffice department that Station A be called "East Liberty;" Station B, "Arsenal;" Station C, "Carson;" Station D, "Wilkinsburg," and Station E, "Forbes."

Accident Caused Death—Margaret Carroll, aged 59 years, of No. 218 Stoddard street, Allegheny, who was struck by a street car at Anderson and Robinson streets, Allegheny, on June 4, is dead of blood poisoning following the injuries she received at that time.

Fined for Cruelty—Jerry Dotson, colored, of [illegible] alley, was fined $10 and costs by Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday for cruelty to his 12-year-old niece, Clio Coles, who lived with him. The girl was given into the custody of the Humane society, which prosecuted the case.

Bicyclist Injured—John Harris, aged 13 years living in California avenue, Allegheny, while riding a bicycle in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, lost control of his wheel and collided with an express wagon. The wheels of the wagon passed over him, fracturing his skull and four ribs.

Bath House Robbed—On complaint of Dr. Catherine Sherman, who runs a bathhouse in Fifth avenue Bessie Smith of No. 3919 Liberty avenue was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing $40 worth of goods and $70 in money secured for baths during the time she was left in charge of the establishment.

Commission Organized—The sinking fund commission met yesterday in the office of Recorder J. O. Brown. Robert Pitcairn, G. T. Oliver, Charles Donnelly and Judge R. T. Frazer were present. Mr. Pitcairn was made president and Mr. Donnelly vice president. E. S. Morrow, assistant city controller, was made secretary of the commission.

Kicked by a Horse—Thomas H. Moore, aged 39 years of No. 7953 Tioga street, a salesman for a cash register company, was severely injured by a fractious horse while driving along Plus street. The animal kicked him a number of times, so badly fracturing the bones of his right leg that it is probable it will have to be amputated.

Purikis Dropped Dead—Frank Purikis, aged 38 years, a laborer employed at the Westinghouse works in East Pittsburgh, dropped dead early yesterday morning at his home in Watkins avenue, Wilkinsburg, just as he started to go to work. He had suffered from inflammatory rheumatism and it is thought his heart was affected. He had been in this country about two years.

Back to Old Quarters—John Ramsey, aged 42 years, a Lawrence county farmer, who was released from the Western penitentiary about 18 months ago, after serving a term for flourishing a revolver on the streets of New Castle, was returned to the prison yesterday, having been convicted of a serious offense and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. He said he was glad to get back.

Cause of Cave-Ins—City employes yesterday discovered that the cause of the many cave-ins at South Thirteenth and Carson streets was a leak in a supply pipe running into the Knoepp property at South Twelfth street. While C. S. Gascoyne, a plumber, was repairing the leak, gas in the ditch exploded, causing considerable excitement but doing no damage.

Big Shed Is Going Up—The work of putting up the structural iron for the big trainshed at the new Union station started yesterday. About 150 men are employed. The shed will be 500 feet long, and 88 feet high at the center arch. It will cover 14 passenger tracks. With the exception of only two others the shed will be the largest on the Pennsylvania system.

Bad Case of Destitution—Neighbors of Mrs. Mary Dougherty, who lived in Spring alley, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets, not having seen her about for several days yesterday morning broke into her house and found her unconscious. She has dropsy, and will probably die. Her husband is a sailor and was in Africa when last heard from. She has a son in Philadelphia and a daughter in New York.

Got the Pup's Master—When Dog Catcher Jacob Wilbert attempted to throw his net over the puppy belonging to John Lynch of No. 9 Oakland avenue he missed the dog and got the net over Lynch. They had some warm words over this and the pup escaped. Then Wilbert arrested Lynch, charging him with interfering with an officer. Lynch was discharged by Magistrate J. H. Armstrong yesterday morning.

Free Organ Recital—The 521st and 522d in the series of free organ recitals at Carnegie Music hall will be given this, Saturday, evening and Sunday afternoon by Walter E. Hall. Mr. Hall's Saturday evening program starts off with two splendid pieces by Bach and calls upon the classic composers, Mendelssohn and Beethoven, and of the romantic school, Joseph Joachim Raff is represented by the popular march movement from his "Lenore" symphony.

Maggie Maloney in Jail—Maggie Maloney, aged 14 years, was picked up about 2 o'clock yesterday morning at Butler and Fifty-fifth streets. She said she had been selling matches and had a basket of matches to bear out her statement. She was arrested a few days ago in the East End. She then had in her possession a baby carriage filled with rugs and bottles of milk. Yesterday morning Magistrate S. F. Kerr sent her to jail for 10 days as a suspicious person.

West Ingram's Great Day.

The suburbs of Ingram and Crafton are now on a boom. There is a great demand for lots in Crafton, and today the Potter-Cobb Company have their opening day for the sale of lots in their new suburb, Ingram Park. This plan is situated in Ingram, a few minutes' walk from the terminus of the Ingram and Crafton street car lines. The outlook seems very good for large sales there today, and the Potter-Cobb Company are inviting people to their offices in the Arrott building, Pittsburgh, to secure free tickets to these grounds, which are good any time this day.

GONE FIVE YEARS.

When Coffee Left the Troubles Disappeared.

It is hard to make people understand that coffee really will do business for them if they stick to it long enough. It is almost a certainty that some little symptom of disease, stomach trouble, or kidney or heart trouble, caused by coffee drinking will ultimately develop into some fixed organic disease unless the cause of the disturbance is removed. An illustration may not be amiss.

A lady in Kearney, Neb., says: "I used coffee a great many years. Gradually my health broke down. I had dyspepsia and was extremely nervous. I passed many sleepless nights, but, like many others, did not know what was the cause of my invalidism.

"Finally the trouble centered into a fatty tumor just over the stomach and in the region of the heart, causing acute pain in the stomach and a spasmodic action of the heart. A surgical operation was deemed necessary, but after all the preparations were made a good, old, honest doctor suggested that I take treatment a little longer and leave off coffee and take Postum and some Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food.

"I began on Postum, and had it made properly by long boiling, and found it delicious and drank two cups the first morning. After two weeks I discovered a marked change for the better. In five months my supposed tumor had disappeared, my headaches were gone and digestion wholly restored. My heart only gave me trouble a few times. That was five years ago. I have been a steady user of Postum ever since and am a new creature today. Am in strong and vigorous health and know exactly how to account for it.

"The ignorance of people on the subject of coffee is a constant wonder to me, although, at one time, of course, I was just as much in the dark as any one could be, going along year after year putting into my body the poison that was killing me, and never knowing it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE PIANOLA

The Only Perfect Piano Player

The Pianola is an instrument by means of which it is possible to play a piano with a mechanically supplied technique, and at the same time with so much personality of expression that the performance is not to be distinguished from that of the unassisted human fingers.

There have been automatic piano players before, devices which, placed inside of the piano or attached to it, and run by electricity or some other power, would produce a tune with considerable correctness, but always in the same way and always without expression.

To the musician such appliances were of little or no interest. He was outside of them entirely.

But the Pianola's greatness lies in the fact that it appeals even more to the fastidious musician than to the person with little or no technical knowledge of music. It is the pre-eminent aid to an appreciation of the finer music.

Any person can operate the Pianola.—Experience is not necessary.

DON'T GET IN A SWEAT

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it—is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer, because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether but most of the impure matter should be sent out by natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill-smelling, linen-staining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant, candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night, before going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

The Business Situation.

There are but two drawbacks in a business situation that is almost ideal. One of these is the labor strikes, and the other is weather crop conditions. As to the former, there were some additions to the ranks of the anthracite coal strikers during the week, and a large percentage of the bituminous miners in Virginia and West Virginia stopped work. No serious interruption to business has yet occurred as a consequence of a shortage of fuel, but every day lost means a diminution of output at a time when the demand is unprecedented, and an irretrievable loss in wages.

The government crop report showed that there had been no improvement in winter wheat during the month of May, and the yield will fall 120,000,000 bushels below last year's. The yield of spring wheat also promises to fall slightly below last year's but the total of both grades will likely exceed the ten years' average by fully 100,000,000 bushels. During the week drought in Texas did some damage to the cotton crop, and excessive moisture in Kansas delayed winter wheat harvesting. Elsewhere the weather was favorable, but until the corn crop is assured, business men will feel a live interest in the progress on the farm.

In nearly every other respect trade conditions warrant the most optimistic feeling as to the future. One of the most astonishing showings is that made by the railroads. Very few persons entertained the hope that the record of earnings made in 1900 and 1901 would be maintained this year, because of the shortage in the corn crop and the enormous falling off in our exports of breadstuffs. So far this year, however, there has been but one week—the first in February—during which earnings did not show an increase over the corresponding period last year. For the last week in May the increase in gross of 47 roads was nearly $1,200,000, or 10½ per cent, over the like week of last year, and for the first week in June the earnings of 28 roads show an increase of more than 8 per cent. There is no other industry, save agriculture, that comes so close to all classes as the transportation business, and the evidence of continued prosperity in the latter is most significant of general conditions. The iron trade also maintains its wonderful degree of activity, and it is probable that at no time in previous years has so much business been booked so far ahead as at the present time.

Speculation at home and abroad is stagnant, compared with the feverish activity which prevailed a year or eighteen months ago, but the noticeable feature about the security markets is the absence of pressure to liquidate. In many instances prices are at or near the highest ever quoted, but this fact does not tempt the actual investor to take profits. At the same time the outlook for the active employment of money in mercantile and manufacturing pursuits prevents the formation of speculative pools for the manipulation of still higher values. The professional operator, therefore, finds his usual occupation of "bulling" and "bearing" the market is gone for the time being at least.

The Fight for Reciprocity.

President Roosevelt's message to congress with reference to the question of Cuban reciprocity is a terse, straightforward document dealing with the facts of the case as history and circumstances have created them. The message may be taken as the initial movement on the part of the administration to bring the fight for reciprocity to a speedy close. The president treats somewhat comprehensively the whole question of a reduction of the duty on Cuban sugar and advances reasons of both a commercial and moral character for the concession that is asked in behalf of the struggling planters of Cuba, who are trying to pluck success from the long years of oppression and misgovernment to which they were subjected. The message calls attention to the moral obligations resting upon this nation in behalf of Cuban prosperity and happiness and strongly urges that all the pledges of the United States government to the people of Cuba be faithfully kept. Speaking of the contention of the beet sugar people who have been and are still solidly arrayed against the reciprocity measure, the president declares:

> Objection has been made to the granting of the reduction on the ground that the substantial benefit would not go to the agricultural producer of sugar, but would inure to the American sugar refiners. In my judgment provision can, and should, be made which will guarantee us against this possibility; without having recourse to a measure of doubtful policy, such as a bounty in the form of a rebate.

The president's message brings the whole subject of Cuban reciprocity to a focus. The opponents of reciprocity with Cuba are strong in the senate, but the hope is felt that the influence of the forceful and sensible message of the president and the efforts of the senators who have been all along in accord with the administration may bring about a satisfactory compromise and the passage of the bill.

A Non-Partisan Judiciary.

It has been reported that the committee of thirty-two of the Citizens party intends to nominate candidates against Judges Stowe and Cohen. Without disparagement of those members of the bar who have been mentioned as the possible nominees of other parties, it may be said that it would be a mistake were the Citizens committee to carry out its reported intention. Judges Stowe and Cohen should be elected without opposition. It is the custom in Allegheny county to offer no opposition to the return of sitting judges to their places on the bench. It is a wise custom that has operated beneficially in keeping the judiciary out of politics. The office of judge is in no sense political, and its non-partisan character should be preserved and emphasized by abstinence of political parties from opposition to judges who have acceptably discharged the duties of their office. The objections that have been urged against the county government can have no application to the judges, and the reasons that have been given for opposing other nominees for county offices are without force against them. In ability, integrity and character they are at least the equals of the members of the bar who have been mentioned for nomination by other parties than the one that has nominated them. Therefore, to make such opposing nominations would accomplish no necessary good and might do great harm in the tendency it would encourage to reduce judicial positions to the level of mere party prizes. Judges Stowe and Cohen should be accorded the honor of election without contest. It is their due and it is good public policy. Much can be said in favor of Judge Stowe after his long and honorable career on the bench and of Judge Cohen after his briefer service. It may be also said of Judge Cohen that he is a member of a race that is distinguished for its good citizenship, that has shown marked devotion to American ideals, but has had little recognition in public office. Such recognition can be now gracefully given it in his person.

Keep the Contributions Moving.

Chairman A. J. Logan of the executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration declares that all that is needed now to carry out the extensive arrangements planned and give Pittsburgh the greatest Independence Day celebration the city has ever known is the money. Of the $25,000 asked, not quite $18,000 is in hand, leaving a balance of over $7,000 yet to be raised. When the scope of the committee's work is considered the $25,000 originally asked for will not leave a cent of surplus, so that the sum must not fall below those figures in order to adequately provide for the celebration. We have no idea but that the money will be duly forthcoming, but with less than three weeks in which to complete all of the arrangements the committee should have the funds all in hand so as not to be handicapped in its work.

The eyes of the entire country will be upon Pittsburgh on the Fourth. The president of the nation has consented to be the city's guest, and all the plans have been made in consonance with this important fact. There should be no further delay about the funds necessary for the celebration, and with this reminder from the chairman of the executive committee we do not believe there will be.

Flag Day.

Today marks another anniversary of the adoption of the star-spangled banner as the flag of the United States, and the celebration will be more general than ever before, thanks to the efforts of patriots individually and collectively. Weather permitting, this city will be the scene of one of the most noteworthy demonstrations in honor of the national emblem, the most beautiful and most inspiring in the world.

The American flag stands for all that is good, just, uplifting and enlightening, and is now honored by all the nations of the earth. It is unsullied and without reproach, and its lustre grows brighter as the years pass by. Honored and revered by dwellers in this land of the free, it inspires hope in the hearts of all in other lands who are yearning for equal liberty.

It was a happy thought that led to the introduction of the flag into the public schools as an object lesson in patriotism, the results of which are becoming more and more apparent among the rising generation. The setting aside of June 14 as a time for general celebration of the flag's birthday was another wise step, and one which is bound to increase reverence among both young and old. Let every owner of an American flag unfurl it today.

The Street Appropriation.

Controller Larkin's attack on the bureau of highways and sewers points out another place in the city government where the possibility of a reduction of expenditure without impairment of service can be made to aid materially in the reduction of the city rate of taxation. It goes without saying that the increase in the payroll of the bureau as compared with the expenditure of the past year has not been attended with a corresponding increase in general efficiency. If the payroll of last year was 34.4 per cent short of the present year the excess for 1902 does not yet appear in the better condition of the city. Indeed, there is complaint from many quarters that the streets are now in worse condition than formerly. It is in one sense a question of municipal finance, but there is much more than finance involved in it.

Inadequate Punishment.

The most severe punishment that Italy can inflict upon the murderer of 25 persons is imprisonment for life, a portion of that imprisonment to be solitary confinement. This sentence has just been pronounced at Lucca upon Guiseppe Musolino, one of the most famous brigands of modern times. This earnest worker in unlawful fields was long the terror of Calabria. The inhabitants of the region where he held sway were afraid of him, as well they might be, and rendered the authorities no assistance in his capture. The chase after Musolino since his escape from prison in 1898 had been a strenuous one. Soldiers were ordered out to assist the police, and it is said that fully 500 men were kept busy for a year before the bandit was rearrested. During this time he was engaged in wreaking vengeance on the witnesses whose testimony convicted him. There were 15 of these unfortunate men, and Musolino swore to kill them all. It is believed that he had settled with 12 of them at the time of his capture.

Italy's experience with Musolino throws a ray of light on the question of capital punishment. If Musolino had been hanged for his crimes, instead of being merely sentenced to imprisonment, he would not have killed 12 of the witnesses against him, nor could he have made it necessary for the government to resort to extraordinary means to recapture him. A man who has murdered another should never be permitted an opportunity to kill anyone else.

Gotham Suffers a Spell of Torrid Weather

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 13.

Only one topic has been generally discussed today and that is the weather. The hottest day of the season burst stewingly upon New York this morning, and such a display of sweltering, suffering humanity is seldom seen in this city. It began easily enough, for at 8 o'clock in the morning the official record of temperature was only 72 degrees, against 74 at the corresponding time last year; but later in the day it crawled much higher, until at 2 o'clock in the afternoon it was 96 in the shade by the street thermometers, and considerably over 100 in the sun. As is often the case in this part of the country, the humidity was so high that it made the heat more painful than it would have been otherwise. Collars fell down; white vests became limp rags; women's shirt waists degenerated into damp, tousled, shapeless bags, with twisted sleeves, and the ribbons at their necks, which had been so fresh and crisp at breakfast time, were wisps of crushed tawariness by the afternoon. There were numerous prostrations. The fierce heat had come upon the city so suddenly that people could not stand against it. They succumbed as if struck by a sirrocco. Ambulances were busy all the afternoon. Fortunately, New York has had so long an experience of this kind of visitation that the authorities are always ready for it, and it is often said that there is no other community in the world where a victim of heat prostration is so quickly and thoroughly placed under the best kind of treatment. In the "L" trains, which are generally cool, no matter what may be the conditions in the street, there were more people than there had been on any one day since last summer. Besides the regular riders, who were on the trains because their business demanded it, there were hundreds of people who took a ride for a dozen blocks or so just for the sake of the breeze always blowing through the trains when the doors are open. Thunderstorms are promised and it may be that the temperature will fall slightly; but it is the general sentiment that summer really has come and that we must prepare ourselves to make the best of it, for a week or two at least.

Thirteen Club's Dinner of Herbs.

The Thirteen club held a vegetarian dinner tonight. The spread was enjoyed in the restaurant on the twenty-fourth story of the American Tract society's building, just under the roof. It is known as the "Eyrie" and the cagiets that dine there usually are the stenographers, clerks and business men in the tract edifice and adjacent skyscrapers. The menu tonight was prepared under the supervision of the Vegetarian Society of New York, with Citizen George Francis Train to give a few hints. Mr. Train made a speech at the dinner, too. Other well-known personages who dined and spoke were Mrs. Donald McLean, president of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Walter S. Logan, president of the society of the Sons of the American Revolution; Mrs. William M. Kingsley, vice president of the Vegetarian society; Mrs. Alma Calder Johnston, president of the Little Mothers' club; Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease and Mrs. Emma Beckwith, first president of the Rainy Day club.

Hatless Women Turned Out of Church.

Father Duffy of St. Mary's Catholic church at East Slip, Long Island, has stirred up things by turning out of his church two well-to-do women who came in without bonnets or hats. Father Duffy told them to get out, with the remark: "This is not a theater." It was at a funeral, and a Mrs. Holleran, with her mother of New York, who were guests at a summer hotel across the street, had stepped in without troubling to put on bonnets. It is perhaps just as well that a ruling in this matter should come from Father Duffy, as it may prevent the growth of a habit of questionable taste. Incidentally Mrs. Holleran and her mother are very indignant, as was to be expected.

Mrs. Fiske Longs for Summer Rest.

Mrs. Fiske will close her season at the Manhattan theater tomorrow night. She has had a busy season of it in and out of New York, and is so tired now that she wants to go to the Adirondacks to rest up a bit. The hot weather caused her to come suddenly to the determination to close. Mrs. Fiske is exceedingly popular in New York, in the regular winter season, for hot weather entertainment playgoers prefer "King Dodo" or "A Chinese Honeymoon."

The Struggle Against Car-Standing.

The row over passengers standing in open cars continues. In the open cars on the elevated the rule that no one shall stand is enforced, and people want to know why the same regulation cannot be made for the surface cars. It is noticed that since there has been so much talk in the newspapers about the discomfort and indecency of persons being allowed to stand in crowded open cars, jammed against the knees of the sitters, there are fewer standees than there used to be. It is getting to be etiquette for one to let a crowded open car go by and to wait for the next, in which there is sitting room, or to wait until a closed car passes, wherein it is not so offensive to stand in the wide aisle running lengthwise. In the rush hours, however, all these niceties go to the winds and people are wedged into cars, both open or closed, in the same old promiscuous fashion that has prevailed here for generations.

A Juvenile Traveler.

Bertram A. Muse is 13 years old, but since he ran away from home in Colorado in April he has been all over the United States, he says. He also says he is a son of Alphonso Muse of Pueblo, Col., superintendent of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. The lad was before a magistrate this morning, charged with being a runaway; but it did not trouble him to be a prisoner. He declared that New York is a "bon ton place," and said he had "worked his way" from Pueblo. He will go back by train, probably, and his father will interview him with a trunk strap in the wood shed at the end of the journey, according to present indications.

Saving a Revolutionary Landmark.

It looks now as if Fraunce's tavern will be saved to the people. This famous inn, where Gen. Washington established his headquarters at a critical period in this nation's history, has been in danger of destruction in the march of commercial improvement for some months. Various patriotic societies, with women at their head, have been fighting to save the tavern, and they felt today that they were sure of success. The local board of the Bowling Green district has passed resolutions recommending that the city purchase the tavern and surrounding property at Pearl and Broad streets. All that remains now is the final action of the board of estimate. The purpose is to keep the tavern as a sort of revolutionary museum and to lay out a park around it.

Figuring on the Suburban Winner.

Now, on the eve of another important turf event, the Suburban handicap, the sporting element in upper Broadway tonight are trying to figure out the winner. They failed with the Brooklyn handicap and the Metropolitan, and have little hope of striking it with the race at Sheepshead tomorrow. The possibility of there being rain enough to make the track heavy is a consideration that makes prediction difficult, and the "wise ones" are all abroad. That will not have any deterrent effect upon the attendance at Sheepshead, however, and if half the people who say they will go tomorrow keep their word the Suburban will be celebrated in the presence of the largest crowd which has ever cheered that classic struggle.

Lester Wallack's Promising Grandson.

Lester Wallack recited a humorous selection before a large and appreciative audience this afternoon. This particular Lester Wallack is a grandson of the famous actor of his name and is only 10 years old. He is a bright, handsome little fellow, who inherits his grandfather's gift of memory, as well as his mimetic talents. He proved this today when, at the commencement exercises of St. Agnes school, he delivered a long monologue without slip or hesitation and with all the dramatic and humorous effect for which it called. The lad is the son of Arthur Wallack, who is in business downtown, and who is the son of the late Lester Wallack, the actor. Young Lester has never been on the stage of a theater in his memory. When he was a baby he was taken once or twice behind the scenes of Wallack's theater to visit his grandfather, but that was before he could "take notice." He is a great lover of the drama, however, and sees every play of any consequence put on at Wallack's. He may follow his grandfather's footsteps. If he does it would not surprise those that know him if he rose to as great an eminence as his distinguished ancestor.

Woman Suffragists Happy.

The Woman's Suffrage association finished its annual convention today at the home of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, at Bensonhurst. The principal cause of rejoicing was that 765,407 women in Australia had been granted national suffrage. Well-known women of public activity present at the convention were Miss Susan B. Anthony of New York, Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton of Ohio, Miss Kate M. Gordon of Louisiana, the Rev. Anna H. Shaw of Pennsylvania and Miss Alice Stone Blackwell of Massachusetts.

World Too Hard for a Baby Lion.

Nettie, one of the twin lion cubs in the Central park zoo, was found dead in her cage this morning. It is thought that in the night she climbed to the top of an old tree stump in the cage, which is about eight feet high, and that she fell to the floor on her head and was killed. Nettie had been unfortunate from her birth. Her 12 months of existence have been full of aches and pains, disasters and surgical operations. On the other hand, her twin brother George has been as healthy as his sister was sickly. Five months or more ago the two were set aside from their mother and allotted a cage to themselves. The floor of their new domicile was of hardwood. Half of this was partitioned off to a height of seven or eight inches and about six inches of loam put into one-half of the cage to make a playground soft to the little cubs' feet. One of Nettie's misfortunes was to fall from this slight eminence to the hardwood floor below. Although the distance was not great the cub was so weakly that it always appeared to feel the jar keenly. Another trouble the baby lioness had was with mumps. Now she is dead and her troubles are over. The children who used to watch the two little animals at play, however, are grieved and will not be comforted. It is not easy to rear lions in this climate and the keepers at the zoo say they are lucky to save even one of the twins.

Soft Coal Disheartens Housekeepers.

Women are finding fault bitterly with the soft coal visitation that is making New York grimier than it has been for many a year. One of them remarked sadly this afternoon: "Place a chintz-covered chair, a nice new one, just put in its summer garb to make things look fresh and cool and clean for warm weather, anywhere near a window, and see what happens. If the window is within a block of the elevated railroad, the design of the chintz will be obliterated in two or three hours, veiled, extinguished, lost to view beneath a malodorous, greasy shower of black soot. If the window is more than a block from the elevated trains, it may take all day to completely ruin the chair; but a full day of it will do it, thorough and permanently. To brush off this clinging black 'dust' is out of the question. It won't brush. It smears and streaks everything." Pittsburgh housewives are used to this kind of thing and think nothing of it; but to the New Yorker, who is disposed to be finicky over a few specks of soot, the conditions are almost maddening. To the Pittsburgher who happens to be here they are pleasant, because they remind him of home.

Sailing a Day Ahead of Time.

Pittsburghers who intend to cross the Atlantic on the White Star liner Teutonic next week should remember that she will sail on Tuesday, instead of Wednesday, the regular sailing day for White Star vessels. There are two objects in this early departure. One is to give the passengers plenty of time to get into their places for the coronation of King Edward, and the other to give the Teutonic time to discharge her cargo and get in trim for an excursion to Spithead, with spectators for the big naval review. This review is one of the important features of the coronation festivities.

Theatrical Folk to See Coronation.

Actors are going across the Atlantic in goodly numbers for a rest and to watch the coronation doings. Nat Goodwin and Mrs. Goodwin went this week, and among those who will sail next Tuesday are James K. Hackett and his wife, Mary Mannering, Florence Ziegfeld and his wife, Anna Held; Harry Kellar and Kyrle Bellew.

Venezuela Cable Broken.

There was considerable agitation here today among business men having interests in Curacoa and Venezuela. All cable communication between this country and those places has ceased. The cable either is broken or probably destroyed by one or the other contending parties in Venezuela. The nearest cable point now is St. Thomas. It is possible that the interruption has been caused by some fresh volcanic action, but the more generally received theory is that the cables have been destroyed in the course of the revolution. GEORGE C. JENKS.

PERSONALS

What might have resulted in a bad railroad wreck with loss of life was narrowly averted by the timely warning of a track walker on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Layton station, yesterday evening. A tremendous rainstorm swept over the Connellsville region yesterday evening, which by many is thought to have been a cloudburst. Big trees that had lined the railroad near Layton were blown down across the tracks and landslides occurred in several places. These were discovered by the track walker a short time before No. 5 westbound train was due at Layton station, and the engineer of the train notified in time to avoid an accident. After considerable delay the obstructions were removed with the assistance of the train crew, and No. 5 pulled into the Pittsburgh station last night 35 minutes late. E. C. Farmer of Chicago, who was a passenger on No. 5, said last night: "If the company does not reward the track walker for his timely warning in saving the lives of the passengers it should go out of business."

"Akron is one of the most thriving cities in the Western Reserve," remarked Joseph Ballen, a retired business man of Akron, O., at Union station last night. "During the past year the population has increased nearly 8,000, and many new plants have been erected and put into operation. The Webster, Camp & Lane Company, manufacturers of machinery, have erected a large plant in South Akron, which gives employment to several hundred men. The sewer pipe and rubber industries of Akron are the largest in Ohio. The population is now about 60,000. At Barberton, about eight miles from Akron, a new plant is being erected for the manufacture of valves and brass fittings. When completed it will give employment to 2,000 hands, and will be one of the largest of its kind in the country. It is being put up mainly by Pittsburgh capitalists. Barberton is connected with Akron by a traction line."

Attorney William J. Brennen, who is a member of the special committee appointed by the state executive committee of the Democratic party to prepare ballot reform measures and to carry into effect the constitutional amendment adopted by ballot at last fall's election, went to Philadelphia last night. The committee will meet today and prepare measures for submission to the next legislature. The other members of the committee are Dallas Sanders, John S. Rilling of Erie, James A. Stranahan of Mercer county and John W. Green of Philadelphia.

W. A. Given, F. E. Freese, Cyrus Lewis, G. Brown Hill, E. A. Grant, H. P. Howell and W. L. Danahey, delegates to the annual convention of the National Credit Men's association at Louisville, returned home yesterday. They expressed themselves as delighted with the meeting, and with their entertainment while in Louisville.

W. C. Black, a commission merchant of Indianapolis, passed through the city last night. "The farmers in Indiana," he said, "have started raising sugar beets. The experiment was tried last year and found to be a success, as the ground is adapted to the sugar beet. Thousands of acres have been planted with the sugar beet this spring."

W. A. Scott, Jr., returned from Washington, D. C., yesterday, where he had been for the past two days in the interest of the bill before congress for the location of a permanent army post in Pennsylvania. Mr. Scott feels that Somerset has a good chance of being selected for the post.

Twenty delegates in charge of H. C. Bloedel of Pittsburgh went to Reading last night to attend the annual meeting of the German-American alliance, which meets today. During the meeting delegates will be elected to attend the meeting of the national convention.

Joseph Woods of the Thirty-second ward was yesterday appointed chief clerk to the bureau of viewers, to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of L. L. Dilworth to the chief clerkship of the department of public works.

Justice S. L. Mestrezat of the supreme court is at the Hotel Henry. He will leave for Philadelphia today to attend the midsummer session of the court for the purpose of handing down decisions.

Harold J. Reibil, a former tenor of St. Brigid's Catholic church, but lately connected with "Rogers Brothers," will sing tomorrow morning in St. Brigid's. Mr. Reibil lives in the Eleventh ward.

Col. Albert J. Logan went east last night. He boarded the train at East Liberty.

Col. James E. Barnett, ex-state treasurer, and colonel of the Tenth infantry, returned from Harrisburg last night.

A. Mancho of Baku, Russia, is at the Hotel Griswold.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary returned to the city last night from Gettysburg.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following people from nearby points:

Lincoln—D. F. Good, Lock Haven, Pa.; J. B. Crouse, Cleveland, O.

Victoria—H. M. Ward, Fairmont, W. Va.

Monongahela—Rodgers Hale, Towanda, Pa.; S. W. Warden, Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; O. R. Brownfield, Uniontown, Pa.

Griswold—George Allison, New Castle, Pa.; D. N. Osyor, White Rock, Pa.

Henry—Joseph McGerigan, Wheeling, W. Va.; T. L. McKean, Wilcox, Pa.; J. I. Murphy, Scottdale, Pa.

Seventh Avenue—Godfrey Marshall, Indiana, Pa.; D. F. O'Rorke, Altoona, Pa.; W. T. Mechling, Butler, Pa.; Charles F. Eggers, Bellevernon, Pa.; W. D. Schenor, George Gordon, Clearfield, Pa.; J. M. Zimmerman, Greensburg, Pa.; J. C. Munson, Connellsville, Pa.

Newell's—W. H. Zahniser, Parkersburg, W. Va.; O. F. Wharton, Connellsville, Pa.; L. D. Lloyd, Wheeling, W. Va.

RURAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Now that school is over for the season, the students, during their vacation, can help pa and ma weed the garden, tend the baby and make themselves generally useful.—Meadville Tribune.

The greatest thing in the world is said to be love. But this assertion is open to discussion. Money is also said to be the greatest thing in the world.—Bradford Era.

In the "good old times" of which we read church collections were taken in a bag at the end of a pole, with a bell attached, to arouse the sleepy contributors. Those were indeed good sleepy old times.—Oil City Blizzard.

There seems to be a scarcity of flies in this neighborhood this season. Jesse Evans, the Frogtown entomologist, says the insects were not killed by the late frosts but have emigrated.—Uniontown News-Standard.

Round steak of inferior quality is retailing in the local markets at 17 cents a pound. This is not to be wondered at, however, as a bull in a neighboring county sold a few days ago for $7,500.—Uniontown Evening Genius.

While Mark Twain, alias Samuel L. Clemens, was absent in Missouri last week, receiving the degree of LL. D., the assessors of Tarrytown, N. Y., were adding $22,500 to the assessed valuation of his recently purchased estate. And this is no joke.—Bradford Daily Record.

The man with a dress suit and plug hat, possibly looks the best this kind of weather, but he doesn't feel half as comfortable as the small boy with nothing on but overalls, a hickory shirt, broad-brimmed straw hat and a close haircut.—Youngstown Telegram.

We heard the cheery "bob-white" of a quail on Wednesday morning, coming from the hills just east of town. It is not often that the birds get so close to the village.—Connellsville Courier.

An exhibition of snakes has been opened at No. 7 South Queen street, just across from the "Intelligencer" office, that is attracting considerable attention. Inside a den has been fitted up, in which a strange looking person sits among a hundred or more snakes, principally rattlers. They keep up an incessant rattling and appear quite vicious, frequently darting at the "charmer." The latter actually eats the snakes, or at least kills them with his teeth.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

THE DEATH ROLL.

William J. Blackwood.

William J. Blackwood, 65 years old, a well-known commission merchant on Grant street, died late Thursday night at his home in Bailey avenue, Mt. Washington. He had been in ill health for some time, but attended to business on Thursday as usual. After returning to his home he suffered a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Blackwood was born in Ohio, where until about 13 years ago he was engaged in farming. On coming to Pittsburgh in 1880, he entered the commission business as a member of the firm of Blackwood & Stoner, in Liberty street. When the partnership was dissolved several years ago, Mr. Blackwood moved to Grant street. He was a member of the Eighth Street Reformed church, and is survived by his widow, six daughters and six sons.

Thomas Cutler.

Thomas Cutler, a retired merchant tailor of Pittsburgh, died Thursday night at his home in Greentree borough. He was born in Liberty avenue, near Ninth street, this city, January 26, 1826. He learned the tailoring trade and afterward opened a shop in Third avenue, retiring 23 years ago. He was a member of the Sandusky Street Baptist church, Allegheny, for over 50 years. He is survived by six sons, Charles C. Cutler of Allegheny, H. W. of Allegheny, Allen B. of Greentree, Thomas J. of Windber, Stuart H. of Omaha, Neb.; Morgan D., of Punxsutawney, and two daughters, Mrs. W. J. Burtt of Marionville, Pa., and Miss Mamie of Greentree.

Richard H. L. Byerley.

Richard H. L. Byerley is dead at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Charles Dorsey, with whom he made his home in Fifth avenue, Homestead. He was born in Westmoreland county in 1852, and moved with his parents when very young to McKeesport, where he spent the greater portion of his life. He was one of the best-known mill men in the Tube City and had been employed as a roller at the W. DeWees Wood mills for many years. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

George M. Hademan.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 13.—Word has reached town of the death yesterday at Noblesville, Ind., of George M. Hademan, formerly a well-known oil operator in the local field. He was aged about 40 years. A widow, formerly Miss McBurney of Washington, survives with several children. The remains will be brought here for interment.

Harry Nolan.

Harry Nolan, aged 28 years, died early yesterday morning at the home of his brother in Mifflin township, after a long illness from consumption. He had been employed in the Homestead steel works. The funeral will be held at the home of his parents in Toledo.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Mrs. Mary E. Easton, 59 years old, is dead at the family home, No. 304 Atwood street, Oakland. Two sons and a sister survive.

Leo Sieger, 18 years old, is dead at the home of his parents, South Nineteenth and Jane street, from exhaustion caused by over study.

Robert Wood, 65 years old, was found dead in bed at his boarding house, No. 916 Second avenue, yesterday morning. Heart disease is thought to have been the cause.

Mrs. Lucy Carmichael, wife of Samuel Carmichael of Blairsville, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Manion, in Eleanora street, Allegheny. Her husband and eight children survive.

Mrs. Sarah A. Myers, 50 years old, is dead at the family home, No. 384 Frankstown avenue, East End. She was a member of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, and is survived by four children.

Mrs. Margaret Carroll, widow of James Carroll, is dead at her home, No. 218 Stoddard street, Allegheny, aged 53 years. She was a member of St. Paul's cathedral congregation, and is survived by three daughters.

SNAKE STORIES.

A blacksnake five feet three inches long was killed by Frank Welch near his boiler house on Charley run on Thursday forenoon. There were no sensational incidents connected with its slaughter. Frank was working on the race, saw the snake near the boiler house and pounded its head with a club until it was dead.—Oil City Derrick.

The champion snake killers live out at Church Hill, near Endeavor. Their names are Ira and Joseph Barnes. Last week these gentlemen slew 20 rattlers, 10 of which were killed in one day. Two of the reptiles were five feet six inches in length and one carried 17 rattles.—Tionesville Herald.

Two sons of E. B. Fryer were constructing a fence in Bald Eagle township yesterday when their attention was attracted to their dog, who was having a high old time with a copperhead snake. The reptile was darting at the canine and the dog was snapping at the reptile and would then spring back to escape the snake's fangs. The two boys went to the dog's assistance and killed the snake. It measured five feet.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Alex Main, Wilbert Welsh and Harry Neville, while surveying on the hill east of the water plant at Eastvale yesterday afternoon, killed a copperhead snake. It measured 25 inches long. The men were watching for snakes as it was in this neighborhood that Beany Evans was bitten last year, and on Tuesday they had seen a big copperhead on a ledge of rock, but out of their reach. Young Welsh nearly stepped on the one yesterday.—New Brighton News.

Last Wednesday while on his way from Rossiter to Punxsutawney, W. T. Nickeson of this place killed a blacksnake seven feet long. It made no resistance whatever, acting as though it rather enjoyed being killed. On Thursday Court Hoover was traveling over the same road and nearly at the same place he killed another blacksnake about the same size, probably the mate of Mr. Nickeson's victim, which had been looking for its last love. It seemed to be in a very dejected mood, and when Mr. Hoover broke its back with a club it appeared to be perfectly resigned to its fate, looking up to him as if to say: "It is all right. Life had no charms for me, anyhow, since the departure of my spouse."—Punxsutawney Spirit.

EYE-OPENERS.

"Did you know," asked the person of infinite fancy, "that they won't let a woman run a sailor's boarding house?"

"I never heard that," answered the individual of unfailing nature.

"It's a fact. They won't have a landlady around, you see."

Then, with a pair of compasses, a black lead pencil and a table of logarithms, the true lawfulness of the bon mot was dragged to the surface.—Baltimore American.

"Have we bought up all the ordinary cattle?" asked the head of the beef trust.

"Yes, sir," responded the emissary.

"Well, go out and gobble up that 'sacred cow' in the circus sideshow."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I tried to teach my dog to jump over my leg."

"Did he catch on?"

"Yes, twice. I've just got out of the Pasteur institute."—Baltimore World.

A Euclid avenue woman was much amused the other day at a conversation she chanced to overhear between her cook and the latter's "steady

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR CHILDREN IN MANY CHURCHES

Some Denominations Will Give Over the Morning Hour to Little Ones.

BIG UNION MASS MEETING

Wilkinsburg Churches to Worship Together in Interests of Anti-Saloon League—Park Services Begin. Topics to Be Discussed.

Quite a number of the churches which did not celebrate Children's Day last Sunday will have special services tomorrow. In the Reformed, Methodist Protestant and Baptist churches these services will be held in the morning, following the regular morning service. A union mass meeting of all the churches of Wilkinsburg will be held in the Presbyterian church of that place, the Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, pastor, tomorrow night in the interest of the Anti-Saloon league. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Dr. C. E. Page of the state league and by pastors and prominent lay workers of the various churches.

Another notable advance in Christian work is the opening of the park services in Schenley tomorrow evening by the Rev. Dr. S. E. Young. As already stated in The Gazette, the program will include the famous Park sisters.

Recognition services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the new Hazelwood-Glenwood Baptist church. Addresses will be made by prominent clergymen.

The Rev. Dr. W. B. Slutz of the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Episcopal church announces a series of discourses under the title, "A Snap-shot or Two on Stirring Themes." His subject tomorrow night will be "Rome in the Philippines." During the summer months light refreshments are to be served Sunday afternoon after the service in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in Sixth street.

The coming convention of the Christian Endeavor society is now the foremost topic among Christian workers of the county. A call to prayer for the success of the convention has been issued by the general committee. The press workers announce that 10,000 copies of the new Endeavor hymnal have been printed. An orchestra of 40 pieces will furnish the music for the grand chorus. The reception committee states that arrangements are already being made for the housing and boarding of the thousands that will come to the city for the convention. The sermons of the pastors are as follows:

Latest News of Society and Gossip of the Home.

THE establishment of a woman's club house in Pittsburgh is being seriously considered by the Wimodausis club. The club will make formal application for a charter on Saturday, June 28, the legal steps looking toward such an application having been taken by the club through its committee, consisting of Mrs. Ada Dallas, Mrs. Carrie V. Sherriff and Mrs. Emma Martin. In its formal application the character and object of the intended corporation, to be called the Wimodausis club, are stated to be the creating of an organized center for woman's work, thought and action, advancing her interests, promoting civic improvement and providing a place for meeting of its members.

The Wimodausis club, which is composed of the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of Masons, its name being a compound word indicating the various classes of its members, will make application before the annual meeting in the fall of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, for membership in that body and also in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, thus bringing itself into line with other women's clubs, both literary, civic and social. The Wimodausis club was organized seven years ago and up to the present time has been almost purely social in character, though doing a great deal of philanthropic work among the families of members of the Masonic order. This year it has enlarged the scope of its work and become identified with the Joint Committee of Women's Clubs in its work for the children during the summer vacation.

During the last few months the social committee of the club has been giving a series of progressive euchres for the benefit of the club house fund and $400 has been set aside by the club itself as a nucleus around which to build up the fund. A committee will be appointed, probably before the next meeting of the club, which will not be held until September, the object of the committee being to look for a site upon which to build downtown. If a suitable house, one of the old-time mansions in the downtown district, can be purchased it is probable that it will be secured and adapted to the needs of club life. It is the purpose of the Wimodausis club to rent its rooms to other women's clubs for meetings or social gatherings. An assembly room, a large dining room and a kitchen, besides a library and other apartments for club life, will be included in the plans. A club cafe will be one of the distinctive features of the new club house for the use of club women.

The cost of the new woman's club house has not been fixed, nor have any definite plans been made toward the raising of the building fund beyond the raising of money by entertainments. The Wimodausis club will give a lawn fete at Kennywood park on July 9, which will be a large affair. There will be euchre and dancing, besides the many attractive features of entertainment offered by the park itself.

Several plans have been suggested for the building fund, among others the forming of a stock company. When the building committee is appointed the matter will be decided and active work toward the new woman's club house will be begun.

The officers of the Wimodausis club, elected in January, are: President, Mrs. Samuel S. Miller; first vice president, Mrs. R. A. Donaldson; second vice president, Mrs. V. Q. Hickman; third vice president, Mrs. J. C. Aufhammer; fourth vice president, Mrs. D. A. Wilbert; treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Barrett; financial secretary, Mrs. D. I. Evans; recording secretary, Miss Mary J. Steel.

Graduation Postponed Until Fall.

The Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music has just issued an attractive booklet giving the awards for the past season's work, announcing the graduates and giving the programs for the 15 recitals which form the close of the year's work at the school. The formal graduation of those who have completed the course this year and the presentation of diplomas will be postponed until the opening of the new Conservatory building in Dithridge street, which will be ready for use about the middle of next October.

The graduates this year are Misses Sue McConahy, Jeannette Love, Mabel Greene and Mr. Morgan R. St. John. Miss McConahy is the winner of the Mrs. C. L. Magee gold medal. Scholarships and partial scholarships for next year are awarded on account of excellent work and attainments this year to Misses Jessie Merker, Agnes Gilson, Lotta Hermann, Gertrude Brehm, Esther Jane Gillespie, Gertrude Elliott, Frances Casey, Mathilda Murphy, Eleanor Hambly and Pearl B. Mount, and Master Lloyd Allen. Honorable mention is made of the work of Georgia Wise, Georgia Holmes, Marcella Mahaffe; Edith Macfarlane, Jessie Pangburn, and Mr. Thomas Wayman. In addition silver medals will be awarded by the director to the two or more best pupils of the assistant teachers in the piano department.

Wilson—Dibert.

In St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, Johnstown, on Tuesday evening, June 10, the wedding of Miss Lucy Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Letitia Wilson of Johnstown, and David Dibert of this city took place, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. D. I. Hobbs, rector of the church. The bride was given away by her grandfather, Capt. Robert Johnson. C. A. Warmcastle of Pittsburgh and Herbert Dibert of Johnstown were the ushers. There were no other attendants. The wedding was quietly conducted, as the bridegroom's family is in mourning. The bride wore a handsome gown of white satin trimmed with lace. After the ceremony, which took place at 8:30 o'clock, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, followed by the wedding supper. Late in the evening the young couple left for an eastern wedding trip. Their future home will be in Pittsburgh.

Wedding Day Announced.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. Palmer O'Neil of Ben Avon for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Estelle Palmer O'Neil, and George Howard Lyle, on the evening of June 24, at "Lawnfield," their home in Ben Avon. The wedding will be a very quiet one, only intimate friends having been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowman Faust will spend the summer with Mrs. Faust's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. Palmer O'Neil. After September 1 they will be in New York, Mr. Faust having accepted a position in connection with the Columbia university.

Wedding on Monday.

The wedding of Miss Harriet Louise Shrom, daughter of the Rev. William P. Shrom, D. D., and George Watson Grovost will take place on Monday evening, June 16, in the Fourth Presbyterian church, Evaline street, where the bride's father is pastor. The ceremony will be performed at 7:30 o'clock and Dr. Shrom will give his daughter away. The marriage ceremony will be performed by the Rev. James Gardner of Delaware, O., assisted by the Rev. William Stemmons, D. D., of Washington, Pa.

Wedding Invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. David Leslie Patterson have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Edna Violett Patterson, and Preston Cooke Farrar, on Monday, June 30. The wedding will take place in the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. A reception will be held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Franklin street, Allegheny.

Entertaining a Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Wesley H. Snyder of East Third street, Beaver, Pa., will give a bridal party dinner next Tuesday evening in honor of her sister-in-law, Miss Carolyn M. Snyder, whose marriage to Benjamin E. Thompson of Pittsburgh is to take place Wednesday evening. The party will meet for rehearsal at the home of the bride-elect and then proceed to the home of Mrs. Snyder.

Saturday Industrial School Closed.

The annual picnic in Panther hollow, Schenley park, closed the work of the Free Saturday Sewing and Knife school of the Central Christian church this season. It was preceded by the annual song and game night at Turner hall. From 1:30 to 4 p. m. every Saturday afternoon the songs, games and industrial work bring sunshine to over 200 children.

The Children's bank shows that over 1,300 depositors have taken out books since the beginning of the bank. Misses Mary Gormley and Evans have been the efficient bankers this year. Mr. Hawthorn was the specialist in knife work, and miniature article of use, such as paper-knives, sleds and match-boxes, showed the diligence of the boys. Miss Edith McDermitt had charge of the sewing department, and was aided by Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Beal, Mrs. Klippelt, Mrs. McDowel Scott and Mrs. Flinn. Miss s Mamie Vote, Jessie Shirley and Laur. Cunningham and Mrs. Thurgood on Saturday afternoons. Other helpers were Mrs. Weed, Mrs. Mattie Lloyd and Miss Horn. The Carnegie library auxiliary was managed by Misses Marion Crawford, Mary Hayden and Mary Beam. A gift of a library case by Mr. E. White, also a librarian, lightened their labors.

The "Time Upon a Time" story helpers from the Carnegie Librarian Training school were the Misses Florence Heaton, Cora Dunnells and Annabelle Porter. These certainly caught the children's ears, as others caught their fingers. The block, pencil and bead classes were taught by Misses Elsie Taylor, Myrtle Hale and Anna Parkhurst. The kindergartner instructor was Miss Sue Barr and the plaitists were Miss Julia Kleinmans in general and Mrs. Wentworth in drill work.

J. O. Boyce was a patron who paid the expenses of one of the teachers and the salaries of the others were shared by Mrs. Hannah Moore of Monongahela City, Mrs. Henry Buhl of Allegheny, Mrs. Holbrook of Onawa and others. Other patrons are Mrs. G. T. Oliver and Mrs. Evans.

The expenses were heavier this year than usual, yet only a small debt remains. A new building is most patiently waited for, for the strengthening and enlargement of the work.

The efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Thurgood have given their Saturday afternoons to this work, and now the children of old scholars are almost ready to be taught in this school, where their mothers learned to sew and to sing. Miss Elsie Taylor as church helper has been most efficient in visiting the homes of these little ones. A splendid gift of books was received from the Kingsley House.

Borrowing a Church for Dinner.

The ladies of the Knoxville Presbyterian church have completed arrangements for their annual dinner, which will be given this year in the dining rooms of the First U. P. Presbyterian church, Wood street, Pittsburgh, Wednesday and Thursday, June 18 and 19, from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. The ladies of this congregation have won an enviable reputation for their dinners, which are usually attended on the hilltop by not less than 1,000 people.

Owing to the almost total destruction of their church building by the storm on Easter Sunday the ladies have secured the use of the First church. Mrs. David Pritchard is chairman of the general committee and she will be assisted by the following table committees on Wednesday:

Table No. 1—Mrs. R. J. Phillips and Mrs. John Moffat; No. 2—Mrs. C. W. Church and Mrs. F. C. Baxmeyer; No. 3—Mrs. Thomas Hueston and Mrs. Susan Beltzmeyer; No. 4—Mrs. Calvin Dyer and Mrs. Samuel Wallace; No. 5—Mrs. Joseph Dyer and Mrs. James Jack; No. 6—Mrs. George McAnnelty and Mrs. A. P. McMichael.

The table committees on Thursday will include the following ladies: No. 1—Mrs. Kate Rode and Mrs. George Stoffs; No. 2—Mrs. Kate Vogel and Mrs. Lydia Mechlin; No. 3—Mrs. Harry Shepherd and Mrs. Seigfried; No. 4—Mrs. D. H. Frederick and Mrs. George Otes; No. 5—Mrs. W. A. Jones and Mrs. R. J. Phillips; No. 6—Mrs. C. W. Church and Mrs. F. C. Baxmeyer.

Emerson—Caven.

In the presence of 30 of their relatives and friends at noon yesterday Miss Blanche E. Emerson and Dr. A. H. Caven of Youngstown were married at the home of the bride at Pitcairn. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, the Rev. C. A. Emerson, assisted by her uncle, the Rev. C. C. Emerson of Manor. Dr. C. Auston Boltz of Pittsburgh was best man and Miss Clara Ambrose of Ligonier was the bridesmaid. The bride and groom left for Denver, Col., where they will spend their honeymoon.

Myers—McCombe.

A pretty home wedding took place at High park, Jeannette, Thursday evening when Miss Bessie Hay Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers, was married to Charles McCombe, a young business man of Monessen. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles W. Fraser, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Jeannette. After the wedding the bridal couple left for Niagara Falls and the great lakes. They will be at home to their friends at Monessen after July 20.

A New York Girl Engaged.

Mrs. Julia E. Hood of New York announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Connie Hood, to Elbert Long Seeley, son of L. P. Seeley of this city. The marriage will take place during the coming winter.

Gardner—Adams.

Miss Margaret G. Gardner was united in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. William A. Gardner, East End, to Henry D. Adams. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph P. Calhoun, pastor of the Homewood Presbyterian church. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Adams left for a western trip. They will be at home to their friends after July 1 in Hamilton avenue, East End.

Engagement for Recent Bridesmaid.

The engagement of Miss Millie Slagle, daughter of the late Judge J. S. Slagle, and Latimer Macon of Sewickley has been announced. Miss Slagle since the death of her father has been making her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Thompson, in Sewickley. She was a bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Metcalf and Mr. Tod in St. Peter's church on Wednesday. No date has been set for the wedding.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Followed up the history of a handsome frock the other day with the result of some interesting details for women who like pretty clothes, and are limited in purse. The frock in question was of grey voile, very sheer, made up over a sort of sunset silk, with occasional insets of deep ecru lace and a bodice of pink crepe du chine, worn under a loose box plaited eton of the voile. The bodice had sleeves which looked as if they had been transported straight from olden Venice, very full where gathered in at the shoulder, but drawn down to an elbow strapping of lace, so tightly that there was no puffing. Below the elbow they escaped into a huge soft puff, which hung airily above a cuff-band of the lace. The little jacket, in order not to crush these triumphs of artistic sleeve-building, were bell shaped and flared quite prominently at the lower edge. The history of the whole proved it to be made without any attached linen, but with no less than three sets of "finishings," one consisting of a pale grey underskirt and a blouse of grey liberty satin, made simply, but with a handsome white lace collar to flare beyond the shoulders. Thus adorned, the grey voile makes an exceedingly handsome afternoon gown, simple enough for shopping, but elegant enough for receptions or teas. With the pink underskirt and the crepe du chine waists it is ideal for theatre, concert and other semi-formal wear, and with a lovely little blouse of white lace made over a blue slip and adorned with choux and sash of turquoise blue, it offers brilliant suggestions for summer evening functions.

Over the Tea Cups—

Two pretty East End girls confided their pet economies yesterday. One confessed that she had secured three dainty summer frocks by hunting the fancy shirt waist counter until she found three waists to strike her fancy, one in India linon, hand embroidered, one of grass lawn with low neck and elbow sleeves and one of alternate lace and embroidery bands. For each of these she had purchased material to make a skirt and with the proper ribbon "fixings," she gained at a total cost of less than twenty five dollars, three gowns which would have each cost that if made in the ordinary way. The other girl claims that her economy is in hats, and related suggestive stories of seeking smart shapes at left-over sales, and then applying ready-made bows and wreaths herself. These bows and floral garnitures will be put up by any milliner at an exceedingly reasonable price and skilfully applied, give a hat the very look of designing, which distinguishes it.

For Bathing Suits—

Mohair holds its own this summer and white is well in the lead. Ruffle neck and sleeves are seen on some of the prettiest models and ruffled caps, like the dust caps worn by careful maids on sweeping day, will be popular.

Luxuriant hair with its youthful color assured by using Parker's Hair Balsam.

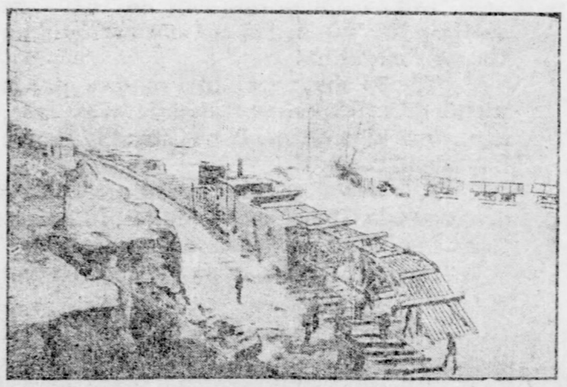
LATE INVENTION WHICH PUTS A RAILROAD DOWN IN A HURRY.



The Hurley track-laying machine, which has attracted much attention from railroaders and to control which a new $1,000,000 company is to be formed, under the laws of New Jersey with the inventor, R. R. Hurley, at the head, is the subject of the accompanying cut. The machine was then working on the new cut-off of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, extending from Kremis to Osgood, and recently completed. The rails laid on this work were 100 pounds to the yard, and the ties of heavy oak. The machine in operation saves about three-fourths of the cost of track-laying under the old system, and can readily be made to work, so it is said, at about one-fifth the old costs.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., June 13.—Manager Clarke and his hustling Pittsburgh team were much disappointed that on account of the wet condition of the grounds they were unable to play the game scheduled with the Bostons. The champions are right "on edge," and with the memory of that 5-0 Brooklyn contest unsullied, they were confident of winning a majority of the present series.

The men put on their uniforms and were ready to play. A telephone message from the grounds announced that it was all off and they regretfully donned other attire again. This evening the whole party of visitors spent the evening at the theater and they didn't reach their rooms at Quincy house until a late hour.

Meanwhile the Bostons under Manager Buckenberger's tuition have been preparing for the Pirates and intend to give them the argument of their lives. If tomorrow's weather be fine there will be 10,000 spectators, as the American League team is away. The batteries will be Phippe and O'Conner for Pittsburgh, Pittenger and Kittridge for Boston.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club arrived home yesterday, having left the team in Brooklyn. Mr. Dreyfus laughed at the story sent out from St. Louis on Wednesday as to the probability of the two Pirates, Wagner and O'Connor, jumping the team. Mr. Dreyfuss said he has two-year contracts with all his players, but even if he had not, he is not the least bit afraid of any player jumping the team. He says the boys are all perfectly satisfied and the best evidence is that there is perfect harmony and each player is striving his hardest for victory. The Pirates will play in Boston today and Monday, and on Tuesday an exhibition game will be played at Worcester, Mass., which is the home of Kitty Bransfield, and there will be a big time, as the Pirates' first baseman is quite popular in his town and is booked to receive handsome gold watch and chain as present from his friends.

THE O'NEIL BROTHERS.

They Were Too Much for Hanlon's Batters

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Brooklyns were defeated by St. Louis at Washington park today by a score of four to three. O'Neil kept the home team's hits well scattered while the visitors bunched their hits, and these, combined with Brooklyn's errors, gave them the game. The score:

HORSES ARE READY FOR SUBURBAN

TWELVE GOOD ONES ARE NAMED TO FACE THE STARTER.

Race Is Likely to Be Run on a Muddy Track, as it Rained Last Night—Gold Heels and Advance Guard are the Favorites.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 13.—Twelve horses are named to start in the Suburban tomorrow. They embrace the pick of the great handicap horses of the east, though those that have figured as phenomenal racers have all been eliminated. Blue Girl will not start and Water Color was declared out several days ago. This leaves an even field of size sufficiently limited to give every starter a chance for the glory of a great turf victory and the $5,000 prize which falls to the winner.

Those to face the flag, their jockeys and the odds laid against their chances tonight are:

Horse.	Weight	Jockey.	Odds.
Gold Heels	124	Wonderly	4
Blues	124	Shaw	6
Herbert	121	Odom	10
Advance Guard	119	Burns	4
Rochompton	117	Brennan	20
Reina	114	O'Conner	22
Trigger	102	Buchanan	75
Waterboy	111	Doggett	20
Monograph	100	Shea	20
Contend	99	Cochran	12
Pentecost	99	Redfern	6
Sadie S.	98	McGovern	20

Likely to Race in the Mud.

Mud is likely to be the footing over which the battle will be fought. There were showers at Sheepshead Bay tonight with promises of more rain. Under the soaking rains of Wednesday the tracks of the Coney Island Jackey club became stiff and hard, with a top of lumpy mud. Yesterday it was lightning fast. A little rain will improve it, while heavy showers will mean slippery going and decrease the chances of long striding horses like Advance Guard and Blues.

With the field as it stands tonight, a magnificent struggle is assured. Blues will have little chance of meeting the interference his backers dread. Still, they are small in number, compared to what they were before. Gold Heels, on his first appearance this season after an equally rough trip, exhibited decided superiority over Blues. Gold Heels is the most favored as a possible winner.

But those who have heard John Madden's opinion of Pentecost give Gold Heels no chance to defeat the 3-year-old. Pentecost works with Colonel Bill, another of Madden's wonders. Pentecost, it is said, runs away from Colonel Bill at any time and at any distance, and Colonel Bill defeated Gold Heels in decisive style. There is but one conclusion.

But there are others who pin their unshakable faith to Advance Guard. He is the sort of horse that turf followers come to love. He is always doing his best, always "coming on" like an express train when the winning post is near. He probably will be the post favorite.

Contend Kept Under Cover.

Contend is the dark horse of the race. After breaking the record for one and one-eighth miles at Gravesend, he has not been heard from as to work for the Suburban. His trials are not published, as are those of the other candidates. His tremendous speed is unquestioned, but his ability to go a mile and a quarter and his courage to meet the desperate challenge of such sturdy turf heroes as Advance Guard and Herbert is seriously questioned.

Herbert and Watercure are the horses mud is expected to help. The former ran a splendid race last week, but was beaten by Sadie S. No one but her immediate following consider that Reina can carry 12 additional pounds and repeat her defeat of Advance Guard in the Brooklyn handicap. Trigger is a very small horse, with a smaller chance to win, judging from her only performance this season.

The final trials of the Suburban candidates were made on a muddy track. Those of Pentecost and Gold Heels were the most impressive, as both finished strong. The time made was: Gold Heels, 2:03½; Blues, 2:11 1-5; Pentecost, 2:11¾; Herbert, 2:11½. Reina, who has shown strong dislike for mud, 2:18; Monograph, one and one-half miles, 2:46. Burns probably will ride Advance Guard, as Bullman was engaged only because Mr. Whitney reserved Burns in case he had started Blue Girl.

WILL BE GALA DAY.

Rival Towns Will Turn Out to Root for Their Team.

A hotly contested game of baseball is expected at West Elna this afternoon when the Our Boys meet with their old rivals, the Sharpsburg Athletic club. The greater part of the population of the towns will be at the ball park and great preparations are being made by the management of the Our Boys for the accommodation of the big crowd and the visiting club. A brass band will be provided, which will head the procession from Sharpsburg to the grounds, followed by the two teams in carriages. Both teams will put their best men in the field, as this is the first of a series of games which will be played to decide the championship of Millvale, Etna and Sharpsburg. The teams will line up as follows: Our Boys—Neff, catcher; Jackson, pitcher; Beggs, shortstop; Clouse or Sorge, first base; Johnson, second base; Gitzer, third base; Shuster, left field; Donavan, center, and Blumling right field. Sharpsburg Athletic club—Rigle, catcher; Collins, pitcher; Wyllson, first base; Tibby, second base; Byron, shortstop; Ready, third base; Gable, left field; Sullivan, center; Librum, right field.

WILL PITCH FOR ST. LOUIS.

An East Pittsburgh Boy Signed by Patsy Donovan.

Arthur Bennett of East Pittsburgh, pitcher of the East Pittsburgh baseball team, was signed yesterday by Manager Donovan of the St. Louis team of the National league and will pitch his first game against the Wheeling team, where St. Louis plays an exhibition game next week. Young Bennett is but 18 years of age, and is considered one of the best amateur pitchers in this vicinity. Several teams were after his services during the present season, but his father, who is a hotel keeper in East Pittsburgh, objected to his going away from home until the present.

WILL BOX ON A BARGE.

Eddie Kennedy and Fred Broad Are in Fine Shape.

Eddie Kennedy and Fred Broad are both in good form for their 20-round contest Monday night. The backers of both men met and agreed to box on the excursion boat Idaho. The boys will box at Catherine City, and both have been in training for three weeks, Kennedy at Corcoran's training quarters at West View, along with Jack McClelland; Broad has been doing his work at New Kensington, assisted by Mull Bowser and an expert trainer from the east. The backers of both men will meet tonight and post the final deposit and also select the referee.

SHADYSIDE'S NEW ATHLETIC LEADERS

BORNTRAEGER WILL CAPTAIN THE TRACK TEAM NEXT SEASON.

Some of the Best Men Will Graduate, but Good Material Is Developing. Stewart Dravo, the Baseball Captain, Will Suffer in Pitching Department.

The Shadyside academy athletes, champions of the Western Pennsylvania interscholastic field, yesterday elected Carl Borntraeger as their captain for track and field team next season. Stewart Dravo has also been elected as the head of the baseball team, and both leaders announce that the prospects for next season are bright enough to justify hopes of retaining the leading position among local schools which was gained this season. Borntraeger is the crack cyclist of the school and a point winner in the recent meet.

Borntraeger will take charge of a department which stood supreme this season, winning the biggest interscholastic field meet in the local history after a sharp struggle with Kiskiminetas. Dravo on the other hand will attempt to elevate the baseball standard of Shadyside to a level with the pre-eminence in other branches of sports. In football, track athletics and hockey Shadyside was supreme, while in baseball Kiskiminetas was easily the leader.

Capt. Borntraeger of the track team will lose some of the best athletes who helped to win the championship this season. Will Armstrong, this year's captain and winner of five first place gold medals, will shine at Princeton. Two of the best runners will be lost in J. Thomas and Ernest Hillman, the former having made a most sensational finish in the recent relay contest, defeating Kiskiminetas by overcoming a lead of 40 yards.

F. G. Kay and J. K. Scott are two other members who will be lost from the track team. There is plenty of promising material in school, however, and among the stars who will be left are Charles Ahl, prominent in all departments of sports, and Schmertz, who ran a fine quarter in the relay.

The baseball team will also lose its captain, Walter Grange, who has been the mainstay of the nine in the box. Byram, the other pitcher, will also be lost and some twirlers will have to be developed. Albert McCloy and Syl Preston are the other two members who graduate. There is an abundance of baseball material in school, however, the reserve team this season having made a creditable record. Preston was a star in hockey, and is being booked by his local admirers for the Princeton seven next winter.

Hazelwood's New Tennis Club.

The Hazelwood Tennis club is the name of a new organization recently formed in Hazelwood composed of fourteen prominent young men of that town. Grounds have been secured for two courts and it is expected that everything will be in shape to play the first game next week. H. J. Galleher is president of the club, and H. A. Cochran secretary and treasurer, both connected with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company in the Peoples Savings Bank building, this city.

Cornell Won From Michigan.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., June 13.—It was Michigan's poor work rather than Cornell's good playing that won this afternoon's game on Ferry field for the eastern college. Lewis of Cornell sprained his ankle badly and was forced to retire from the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cornell	0	0	2

Batteries—Utley and Redden, Chase and Whinery.

One Player Badly Injured.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—Johnstown battled hard and timely in the latter part of the game and won out with considerable ease in the game with the Oakmonts today. Owens was badly hurt about the spine by being struck by a thrown ball and was sent to the Memorial hospital for treatment. He was unconscious nearly two hours. Score:

Johnstown	1	1	0	0	1	2	1	4	*	—	10

Picnic With Mt. Pleasant.

INDIANA, PA., June 13.—The Mt. Pleasant Institute baseball team was an easy proposition for Indiana Normal, the locals winning by a score of 24 to 1. Clifford started to pitch for Mt. Pleasant, but retired after two innings. Cummings, the new man, was even worse as he was very wild. Calhoun for Indiana pitched a strong game throughout, allowing but four hits.

Too Much Rain for Polo.

LONDON, June 13.—The continued wet weather has necessitated the postponement of the third and final game of the series for the American polo cup Saturday, June 14, until Monday, June 16.

DEADLOCK IS STILL ON

Mt. Albion Directors Cast 86 Fruitless Ballots Last Night.

The Mt. Albion sub-district school board met again last night to break the deadlock over the election of a principal, but took 86 ballots without accomplishing anything.

Directors Kirkpatrick and Fracius stood steadfast for Miss Rose McCleary and Miller for Miss Jennie Martin. The other members divided their votes on the list of 19 applicants.

Prof. J. W. E. Johnston, principal of the Dravosburg schools; J. M. Reed of the Millvale schools and T. A. Thomas of Wilkinsburg, a former Brushton principal, each received three votes in different ballots. Four are required to elect.

Car Tipped Over.

One of the two cars on the Homeville division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company tipped over yesterday just as it was rounding the curve at the approach to the bridge over the creek in Munhall. Mrs. Thomas Pierson, 26 years of age, of Munhall, was severely injured by being thrown through a window.

Harness Cutter at Large.

The office of the Singer Ice Company, McKees Rocks, was entered early yesterday morning by some miscreant, who cut two sets of harness to pieces to get off the rings and buckles.

The story of "The Lark's Song" in next Sunday's Gazette cut-out-booklet is instructive as well as interesting.

WAS GETAWAY DAY AND RACES WERE ORDINARY

The Handicap Was Won by Ethics Without Much Trouble.

TWENTY-TO-ONE SHOT WON

It Was Roxboro Who Captured the Third Race, Much to the Surprise of the Talent—Four Favorites Managed to Land the Money.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 13.—Four favorites, a second choice and a long shot were the winners at Gravesend today. Owing to the fact that today was getaway day and that tomorrow the great Suburban will be run, only a fair crowd was in attendance. The card was very ordinary. The handicap for 3-year-olds and upward, at one mile and a furlong, brought out the best field of the day. Ethics, after trailing his field to the stretch, won handily. The weather was clear and warm and the track fast. Summaries:

First race, about 6 furlongs, selling—Criterion, 114, Redfern, 5 to 1 and even, won; Ben Howard, 106, Michaels, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Charles W. Meyer, 106, O'Connor, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:10 2-5. Golden Cottage, Malden, Anecdote, Musidora, Swamplands, Graden, Basuto, Judge Wardell, Candling and Latin also ran.

Winnie O'Conner Was There.

Second race, mile and 70 yards—Grand Opera, 114, O'Connor, 3 to 1 and 3 to 5, won; Connecticut, 114, McCue, 80 to 1 and 10 to 1, second; Slip Theitt, 114, Burns, 7 to 5 and 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:46. Price, White Crest and Odds and Ends also ran.

Third race, for maiden 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Roxboro, 119, McCue, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, won; Jonquil, 112, O'Connor, 5 to 2 and even, second; Lillian, 112, Michaels, 12 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:02. Belle of Galore, Wilhelmina, Briers, Kentucky Rose, Pink, Sadie O., Maintain, Little Adele, Sweet Jane, Miss Louise, Figardon and Dunluce also ran.

Fourth race, handicap, 1¼ miles—Ethics, 114, Burns, 2 to 1 and 3 to 5, won; Vinciltor, 111, Bullman, 20 to 1 and 5 to 1, second; Hindred, 110, Wonderly, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 2:04 1-5. Smart Set, Alaike and Janice also ran.

Fifth race, for 2-year-olds, handicap, about 6 furlongs—Africander, 117, Shaw, even and 2 to 5, won; Tantalus Cup, 114, Odom, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, second; Benshurburn, 114, Donahan, 4 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:10 1-5. Dr. Saylor, Hackensack, First Chord, Anna Daly, Tugal Boy and Shoes to Plate also ran.

Pitcher Lucas of Wheeling Let Risher's Men Down With Four Hits.

WAS A PITCHERS' BATTLE

Cameron, an Ex-High School Twirler, Showed Clever Work in His First Game for H. L. A. C.—Visitors Played Fast Ball All the Way.

Wheeling defeated the H. L. A. C. yesterday in a contest at Homestead that was one of the most brilliant ever seen on the Homestead grounds. It was largely a pitchers' battle, with the twirler of the visitors having the best end of the argument by holding Homestead down to four hits, while Wheeling obtained nine off the delivery of Cameron, a new pitcher tried by Manager Risher. The score:

EXPECT WARM GAME.

C. A. C. Team Will Get a Welcome at Manor.

IRWIN, PA., June 13.—When the C. A. C. ball team comes over into Westmoreland county for a game the fans wake up and are put on edge in anticipation of a warm contest and fall all over themselves in getting to the place where the game is to be pulled off. In years gone by the Carnegies were always the star attraction in ball towns in this vicinity on account of their playing ability and their sportsmanlike conduct on the field. It has been several years since the C. A. C. team has appeared hereabouts, and its coming to Manor tomorrow afternoon is hailed with delight by lovers of a good game of ball. The Manor team, that has a good string of victories to its credit this season, knows that it has a pretty stiff proposition to go against, and the players will go into the field with the knowledge that they must play ball from start to finish to hold their own and win out. Manor will present its star battery, Stottler and Cremer, while C. A. C. will play Swift and Barclay, a crack pitcher and catcher. 'Squire Gay of Greensburg, past grand master of Westmoreland county fandom, will handle the indicator for this game, which will draw at least 2,000 people to the Manor park.

H. LAMBIE,

The Wilmerding boy who has developed into a star track athlete for Westminster college as a tireless distance runner. He won the half-mile run with ease in the recent intercollegiate meet.

Pittsburgh Academy's Friends Filled the Alvin Theater and Enjoyed Farces and Operetta.

The Alvin theater was packed last night from pit to gallery with parents and friends of the Pittsburgh academy students who held their class night exercises there. Employes of the theater stated that they have never seen such an immense audience gathered there before. In fact, such was the jam that, shortly before 8 o'clock, when the curtain went up on an amusing one-act farce, numerous women were forced to leave.

This has been the academy's most successful year, which explains, in part, the interest evinced in the class night exercises. There were no formal addresses, but instead several one-act farces and a delightfully innocent operetta in two acts, entitled "The Merry Milkmaids." The exercises opened with "The Mouse Trap," a farce by William Dean Howells. The following took part: Clara Becker, William B. Ward, Adelaide Porter, Lillie Petrie, Bertha E. Maryin, and Babetta S. Silverman.

This was followed by "Elner Musz Heiraten," another farce, the exponents of which were William Campbell, Carl Robinsteen, Margaret Oglesby and Marion Armstrong. "Courtship Under Difficulties" was interpreted by John Biggert, Matthew Turner and Anna Noll.

The most delightful affair of the night was the "Merry Milkmaids." Before the curtain went up Miss Nora Miller, teacher of elocution in the academy, amused the audience with a story of "An Auld Scot."

Miss Christina Miller, the contralto, drilled the chorus of the operetta, and its work was remarkably well balanced. The catchy airs caught the fancy of the audience.

The commencement exercises will be held June 24 in the same theater. The Rev. Dr. William H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, will deliver the address. There will be 66 graduates, representing all departments. Prof. Warren Lytle says this has been one of the most successful years in all departments. There are almost 600 students enrolled.

NO STRIKE OF MOLDERS.

Compromise Wage Scale Offered by National Founders' Association Accepted Last Night.

A largely-attended mass meeting of the three local organizations of the Iron Molders' union at Old City hall last night voted to accept the compromise wage settlement offered by the Pittsburgh members of the National Founders' association. This practically ends any wage negotiations for a year from July 1. The settlement provides for an advance of 62-3 per cent, with the minimum rate $3 the day. It means an advance for every man of 20 cents a day.

The molders asked for an advance of 10 per cent and a minimum wage rate of $3 30 the day. John Barnett, business agent of the organization, and the following committee arranged the compromise: William Dolan, Edward Rouse, Timothy Kaye, John Muto, John Flynn and E. G. Mueheman. At a former conference the employers refused to meet the demand and the men voted against a strike move without further efforts to settle. To this end the committee was given full power to arrange the settlement.

At the meeting last night there were present about 700 of the 1,800 organized molders of the two cities. Between 30 and 40 of the shops concerned were not represented in the settlement, but the leaders of the journeymen say that a majority of these have agreed to stand by the settlement of the representatives of the National Founders' association.

MISS HECKER WAS BADLY OFF IN HER PUTTING

After Holding Championship Two Years She Loses to Mrs. Manice.

WINNER'S CAREFUL PLAY

Had Her Husband for Caddy—Slight Margin in the Result—Final Will Be Contested Today With Miss Helene Hernandez of New Jersey.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 13.—Miss Genevieve Hecker of New York, who has twice won the women's metropolitan golf championship, was today beaten by Mrs. E. A. Manice, also of New York, in the semi-final round of the third annual tournament of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association. The champion's brilliant game yesterday seemed to assure her the possession of her title for another year at least. She was particularly "off" in her putting today.

Mrs. Manice, with Mr. Manice as caddy, played each stroke deliberately and with excellent judgment, holing brilliantly. The first was halved but the next Mrs. Manice won.

Four down at the turn Miss Hecker won the tenth. She drove a long ball for the eleventh but pulled it slightly and got into a bunker. Mrs. Manice went down in a brilliant three. Miss Hecker at the fourteenth, holed a long put, but on the next lost the match, 4 down and 3 to play. The cards were:

Mrs. Manice ..	4	5	5	5	4	5	3	4	5	—40
Miss Hecker ...	4	6	4	6	5	5	4	5	5	—44
Mrs. Manice	7	5	6	4	4	5				—26—69
Miss Hecker	6	5	5	5	5	3				—30—74

Miss Helene Hernandez of Orange, defeated Mrs. William Shippen of Morristown, by 2 up and 1 to play, and meets Mrs. Manice tomorrow for the honor.

GOLFERS TO BE FETED.

Warm Welcome for Cincinnati Players Who Are Coming in Ralph Peters' Private Car.

The feature of the local golf card today will be the annual match on the Schenley park course between the Pittsburgh Golf club and the Cincinnati Golf club. Always of social importance, this year's event will outdo all previous records for dining and feting in connection with the play of the ancient and royal game.

The visitors will arrive early this morning in the private car of Ralph Peters of the Pennsylvania, who is one of the team. They will breakfast on the car and then adjourn to the Pittsburgh club, where they will be met by the greens committee of the Pittsburgh Golf club, Remsen V. Messler, chairman; L. Dilworth, W. R. Blair, G. M. Laughlin, Jr., and A. B. Shepherd.

The Queen City players will play over the Schenley course in the morning and lunch at the Pittsburgh Golf club at 1 o'clock. The match will then be on and dinner and dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

The evening will be given up to an entertainment in honor of the visitors with an orchestra and the Long Star quartet in attendance. The match last year, at Cincinnati, was won by the Pittsburgh team 16 to 7. The teams will play as follows in today's match:

Pittsburgh.	Cincinnati.
L. Dilworth.	J. F. B. Scarborough.
W. R. Blair.	Ralph Peters.
G. M. Laughlin, Jr.	Brent Arnold.
J. C. Thaw.	John Keys.
J. B. Speer.	Burton P. Hollister.
W. N. Frew.	L. D. Drewry.
G. S. Garritt.	W. K. Benton.

WOMEN ARE BUSY.

Mrs. W. N. Kerr Won O. D. Thompson Cup—Miss Elkins Leads at Highland.

Yesterday was a busy day for the women players of the local golf field. On the Allegheny Country club course, back of Sewickley, the cup offered by O. D. Thompson was won by Mrs. W. N. Kerr of Sewickley, with a net score of 102, from a handicap of 11 strokes. Rain interfered with the play.

On the Highland course the first play for the cup offered by Mrs. Charles Fuller was led by Miss Louise Elkins, with a net score of 99. The cup to be played for in six 18-hole contests under handicap, three points being scored for first in each, two for the second and one point for third. A player must take part in three contests to be eligible and the greatest total for the six will take the trophy. The next contest will be June 28. Leading scores yesterday were:

	Gross.	H'cap.	Net.
Miss Louise Elkins 105	6		99
Miss Addah Gerdes 116	12		104
Miss Mary Fownes 108	sc.		108
Miss Grace Kelly 113	sc.		113

OPENING AT N..W CASTLE.

Youngstown Team Will Play Match, Attended by Social Features.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The links of the New Castle Golf club will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon when a team of eight from the Youngstown Golf club will play a return match here. New Castle was decisively defeated two weeks ago.

The visit of the Youngstown team will be made quite a society event and an afternoon reception and tea will be held at the golf club house. The local players will be George Patterson, John Elder, Jr., James S. Wallace, Henry P. Shaner, James T. Ray, Allen W. Treadwell, Richard F. Dana and William Knox. The Youngstown representatives will be Messrs. Joseph, Pierce, Wilkinson, Garlick, Hine, Zimmerman, Bonnell and Jacobs.

Inter-City Match at Wissahickon.

O. D. Thompson, acting for the Pittsburgh golfers in the inter-city match arranged with Philadelphia for June 28, announces that the Philadelphians have selected the Wissahickon course at Germantown for the playing of the match, and have changed the conditions to 12 players on a side instead of 10, as at first arranged.

Today's Golf Schedule.

The Schenley park course will again be the busiest in Western Pennsylvania today, with medal play competition for both men and women in addition to the team match. The schedule:

At Highlands—18-hole handicap match against "Bogey" for cup offered by club.

At Schenley—First preliminary qualifying rounds in the tenth series for Laughlin challenge cups for men and women. Lowest 11 gross scores for June 14 and 21 among the men and seven lowest among the women qualify for final 18-hole handicap medal competition on June 28, with the respective winners of the cups in October, 1901. Green's committee cup offered in both events for lowest net scores in qualifying.

At Sewickley—18-hole handicap for Allegheny Country club members' cup offered by W. N. Murray.

At Logans Ferry—18-hole handicap golf ball sweepstake for home players of Westmoreland Country club.

At Sewickley—18-hole handicap contest for cup offered by C. I. Shannon, Edgeworth members.

At Brighton Country club course, California avenue—18-hole medal play for W. A. Shaw cup, qualified for last Saturday.

At Edgewood—Team match Western Pennsylvania association, Edgewood vs. Westmoreland.

ORDER IS GIVEN OUT.

Instructions for Company C's Mustering Out Have Been Made Public.

Although it has been known for over a week that Company C, Fourteenth infantry, located at Oakland, was to be disbanded on the report of the inspection made some time ago, official orders were not issued until yesterday from the adjutant general's office.

When the announcement was made in The Gazette that Company C was to be disbanded for the very poor showing made by it on inspection it was also stated that an attempt would be made to save the command. It is understood that this was done, but as the brigade was only entitled to 48 companies of infantry, the military authorities at Harrisburg refused to withdraw the recommendation of the brigade inspector.

It has been stated that Company C made the poorest showing ever made by a command of the local regiments. It was upon the report of Brigade Inspector Maj. Samuel W. Jefferis that the company has been disbanded.

Thief Made a Good Haul.

Three hundred and seventy-five dollars and a check for $175 was taken from the rooms of T. Krauss, over his store, No. 2831 Penn avenue, some time last night between 9:30 and 11 o'clock. John Nickson, who has a room on the third floor, was arrested on suspicion.

McKeesporter Lost His Boy.

John Conley of 423 Fourth avenue, McKeesport, last night asked the assistance of the police in locating his nine-year-old son, Edward. The boy was left in the Baltimore & Ohio depot yesterday afternoon for a short time and told to remain there, but when the father returned the boy was gone. He was dressed in dark knee pants and light cap and has red hair.

IS ALL THE WORLD GOING BLIND?

Is all the world going blind? The number of people of both sexes and all ages one sees wearing glasses would naturally give rise to such a question. It is impossible to go into a school room, particularly in the larger towns and cities, without being struck by the fact that a large proportion of the children are wearing glasses. One would think that nature had made a miserable failure of the eyes and had failed utterly to supply organs of sight equal to the requirements of the human race.

That is, of course, a foolish conclusion. Nor is it true that conditions of modern life are too hard for the eyes. The fact is that on the whole they were never better nor even as good as they are now. Why, then, all these weak eyes and all these glasses? Chiefly because as soon as there is any trouble with the eyes the majority of people go and have "glasses fitted" by some one whose sole interest is to sell them glasses. It is an established fact that two-thirds of the people wearing glasses do not need them. The result is not only a waste of money, but usually permanent injury to the eyes as well. The real cause of the trouble not having been removed, the eyes steadily continue to grow worse.

The only safe course is to consult an eye specialist of standing and reputation. In this field of medicine no name in the United States stands higher than the names of Doctors Byers & Tucker. They have concentrated the entire energies of their lives upon the study and treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

15 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

They have had the broadest experience possible. For 15 years they have been curing thousands of cases every year. Almost daily difficult cases in their specialties are sent to them by other physicians in general practice, who are conscientious and realize that their patients require the expert care of a specialist.

TAKE WARNING.

What misfortune could be more cruel than the loss of the precious boon of sight? It is well to take alarm at the first sign of danger. If there is inflammation, pain or swelling of the lids, or if there are scabs and scales on the edges of the lids, usually more noticeable in the morning, if the eyelids droop or you are troubled with ingrowing lashes, come to Doctors Byers & Tucker. The trouble in many such cases does not arise from local causes, but from a disordered system. If the eyes are red and watery, the lids puffy, the cornea opaque or milky, prompt action is necessary, as ulcerations will form and you are great danger of losing your sight. Doctors Byers & Tucker will at once determine and speedily remove the cause of the trouble. They are equally successful in removing tumors of all kinds that grow on the superficial tissue.

CATARACT CURED WITHOUT AN OPERATION.

This disease is unfortunately too common to require any description. To remove cataract by the use of the knife is both a painful and dangerous operation. Doctors Byers & Tucker have discovered a new method whereby the opaque and milky substance can be absorbed almost without pain to the patient. This can be done at any stage of the disease with complete success. Moreover, the patient can continue to perform his ordinary duties while the cure is being effected.

NO LARGE FEES.

Doctors Byers & Tucker do not take advantage of their great reputation by charging large fees. They place their skill and experience at the service of all sufferers, rich and poor alike, by making a fixed charge of only $5 a month, and this includes all the medicines required for each case.

Smallpox Victim Was Carried on a Train; Bequest to Church Excludes an Organ

TRAIN CARRIED SMALLPOX CASE

Nature of Victim's Illness Was Was Unknown to Railroad Men,

VACCINATION IS ORDERED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
OIL CITY, PA., June 18.—Trainmen on the Chautauqua division of the Pennsylvania railroad are considerably alarmed over a smallpox case which developed at Spartansburg. A patient lying on a cot was taken on board there yesterday, bound for the Corry hospital.

A surgeon said it was a case of blood poisoning. Corry physicians reported the man suffering from smallpox and notified the railroad to that effect. All the trainmen have been ordered vaccinated, and the cars placed out of commission until fumigated.

The car in which the patient was carried made a trip from Buffalo to Pittsburgh before the nature of the disease was discovered.

CANDIDATE BROWN ADDRESSES NEIGHBORS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
NEW CASTLE, PA., June 13.—The Republican state campaign was opened here this evening by the Hon. William M. Brown of this city, candidate for lieutenant-governor. The address was delivered when fully 4,000 Republicans of the city and county marched to his home and gave him an enthusiastic demonstration in honor of his nomination. Senator Brown said in part:

Fellow Citizens, Neighbors and Friends—I thank you for this magnificent expression of your approval of the work done by the Harrisburg convention, and especially do I thank you for this expression your appreciation of the high honor that has come to our splendid little county. For more than 40 years the county of Lawrence has been absolutely true to the principles of the great Republican party, and especially to that dominant principle, the maintenance of which has made our country great and has given New Castle a name wherever manufactured products of iron and steel are sold and used.

I would be conceited indeed if I took this manifestation of your approval as one personal to me. I know that your hearty satisfaction and joy is largely because of the honor that has come to our county, for this is the first time in its history that from the ranks of that party to which it has been so loyal, has it been accorded a place upon the state ticket.

I cannot afford to allow this opportunity to go without rendering my thanks to some individuals who are largely responsible for the giving of this honor to our county. Among those who have been faithful and fair in my personal cause and to those of our county in this instance stand that great trinity of masterful men, who have done so much in the past and who are doing so much now to shape the destinies of the party, not only in the state, but in the nation. These three men are our matchless leader, Matthew Stanley Quay; our splendid junior senator, Boies Penrose, and that imperial organizer of men who lives in the beautiful city by the Delaware and controls the political destinies of that city, Judge Durham.

TO DISBAND COMPANY.

Pittsburgh Organization of National Guard Is to Be Mustered Out of Service.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 13.—An order was issued from national guard headquarters today announcing that J. Norman Risley of Philadelphia and Bert K. Tannaber of Venango had been appointed assistant surgeons, the former in the Third and the latter in the Sixteenth regiments.

Company C, Fourteenth regiment, is ordered to be disbanded. The Tenth regiment is authorized to place silver rings on its color staves upon which shall be engraved the names of the engagements in which it participated during the Spanish-American war and Philippine insurrection.

Surgeon General Shoemaker has issued instructions to the officers of the medical department requiring them to make the most careful inspections during the division encampment at Gettysburg.

ARRESTED FOR ARSON.

Youngstown Merchant Charged With Burning His Store.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 13.—(Special.)—John Chebley, a Syrian member of the firm of John Chebley & Sons, dealers in peddlers' supplies, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant sworn to by Fire Marshal C. W. Beardsley on the charge of arson.

It is claimed that Chebley had insured his goods to the amount of $1,500 when they were worth but $500, and that he closed his store in the middle of the day, going away 20 minutes before the fire broke out. The stock was all destroyed and it is claimed that the fire originated from coal oil.

Two Held for Murder.

CORRY, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—Earnest Howard, arrested last night for the murder of the aged soldier, Henry Haddeck, made a statement implicating George Goodhill, who was arrested early this morning. The coroner's jury held the two men. They will have a hearing tomorrow.

Married in Steubenville.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 13.—(Special.)—William H. Fisher and Carrie E. Loughrey of Greensburg, Pa.; Albert J. Cottrell and Agnes Wilson of Pittsburgh, James Peckens and Mae Hale of Horse Neck, W. Va.; Charles E. Allen and Annie Mesrall, James B. Nicholson and Florence E. Laird of Monongahela, Pa., were granted licenses and married here today.

MURDERER HANGED IN WEST VIRGINIA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]
WHEELING, W. VA., June 13.—Perry Christian, the Fayette county murderer, was hanged this afternoon in the state penitentiary at Moundsville. The drop fell at 5:15. Christian faced the gallows bravely, admitted his crime and attributed it to excessive use of whisky.

The crime for which Christian paid penalty was the result of a drinking bout. He was serving time for a crime committed in Ohio and was paroled before the completion of his sentence. He came to a lumber camp in Fayette county, W. Va., and became associated with a rough, drinking gang. While under the influence of liquor he killed William Dent.

Gov. Nash and Senator Foraker of Ohio attempted to intercede on behalf of Christian, but Gov. White ignored their entreaties.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

James Washington Gets First Degree Verdict at Uniontown for Killing John Callahan.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The verdict of first degree murder was found against James Washington this evening. He was charged with murdering John Callahan at Dunbar and assaulting Callahan's companion, Myrtle Stevens.

The girl was the principal witness and told a thrilling tale of the night of the crime. She and Callahan were walking across a field when Washington followed and ordered Callahan to leave the girl. When he refused, Washington shot Callahan twice, killing him almost instantly. the fight being short and swift. Washington then caught the fleeing girl and threatened to kill her if she told of the crime.

STEEL MILL PROJECTED.

A Site Has Been Selected for a Plant at Lisbon, O.

LISBON, O., June 13.—(Special.)—An independent steel mill, to cost $200,000, may be erected in this city. The size has been staked out in the east end of town and the location is looked upon with much favor, owing to the completion of the railroad system. Those interested are the Bergen Stamp Company, the Canton Brick & Fire Clay Company and the Kernohan Tin Plate Company of Canton.

Manager George D. Evans, Sr., of the latter company, who has been in the city for several days, thinks the project will be realized.

Long Pipe Line Completed.

TITUSVILLE, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The completion today of the United States Pipe Line Company's line from Bradford to Titusville marks the final stroke in the construction of the only independent crude line running from the Pennsylvania oil fields to the seaboard. The distance traversed is 325 miles, extending from Pine Grove, W. Va., to Marcus Hook.

Elected College President.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Coroner Blott concluded a searching investigation yesterday regarding the death of Solomon Moherman, a wealthy farmer of Jackson township, and decided that death was due to arsenic administered to him, but by whom he was unable to determine. Mrs. Moherman asserts her husband was murdered.

OBJECTED TO CHURCH ORGAN

Money Bequeathed on Condition That Musical Instrument Be Excluded.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, PA., June 13.—The will of William Coventry, late of Hanover township, this county, which was filed for probate here today, contains some unusual bequests. The will disposes of a large estate and R. W. Criswell is made executor. Coventry was a lifelong United Presbyterian, having been connected with the Second church of Burgettstown for half a century.

The will says: "I give and bequeath to the Second United Presbyterian church at Burgettstown at the death of my wife, the sum of $500 to be invested by the trustees, the interest to be collected annually and paid to the support of the pastor thereof so long as there is no organ or musical instrument used or played in the worship of God in said church; and I further direct that should an organ or musical instrument be used in the said church in the worship of God, the sum of $500 be paid to the board of foreign missions of the United Presbyterian church.

"I give and bequeath to the trustees of the Frankfort United Presbyterian church the sum of $500 to be invested, interest to be collected annually and to be expended by the trustees in the rebuilding and repair of the fence around the cemetery of the said church and for keeping the gravestones in proper position."

Coventry also bequeathed $1,000 to the board of foreign missions of the United Presbyterian church, to be paid at the death of his wife.

TO GET GOLD SPOON.

Daughter of Revolutionary Soldier to Be Presented With Souvenir.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—The only real Daughter of the American Revolution living in Westmoreland, and one of 450 in existence, is Mrs. Annie Stager Heckler, who resides at Hufftown, south of here, who will tomorrow be presented with a gold spoon, the gift of the national society. The souvenir spoon was recently forwarded from Washington to the Phoebe Bayard chapter of Greensburg, made up of the daughters of Daughters, of which Mrs. Jeffrey W. Taylor of Greensburg is secretary.

Anne Stager was born May 22, 1818. She is the only surviving child of Henry Stager, who was a revolutionary soldier. He died in East Liberty in 1841. Miss Stager was married to John A. Heckler at East Liberty February 14, 1848. He died June 10, 1888.

AGED MAN ASSAULTED.

Veteran Soldier Probably Fatally Beaten at Clarksburg, W. Va.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., June 13.—(Special.)—Thomas Sullivan, an old soldier, was brutally assaulted and perhaps fatally injured this afternoon, it is alleged by Riley Able and Melvin Monroe, alias Dodd, who live near the city.

The men came to town on horses, were drinking and held up a street car near Sullivan's house for 20 minutes. They then turned their attention to Sullivan's daughter, Mrs. Della Woostel, whom they insulted. Sullivan got a shotgun and ordered the men away. One of them threw a stone, knocking him down. The other wrested the gun from him, and beat him over the head. They jumped on their horses and escaped.

IRON WORKERS SIGN SCALE.

There Will Be No Interruption of Operations at Youngstown.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 13.—(Special.)—The formal signing of the scale between the Amalgamated Association and the Republic Iron & Steel Company occurred this morning. For the first time in a quarter of a century the mills here will run without a shutdown in July for the signing of the scale.

Nearly every furnace in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys has resumed operations and the furnacemen's strike is now a thing of the past. The Sharon and Sharpsville men held out until Thursday night, when they went back, all getting their jobs.

BURGLARS AT NEW BRIGHTON

Merchandise Was Taken From a Number of Stores.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—This place was visited by a gang of robbers early this morning, who entered a number of places, but secured but little booty. They broke into the shoe store of John May and secured 10 pairs of shoes. Anderson's cigar store was also entered and the entire supply of cigars taken.

The Adams express office was broken into and two suits of clothes and a pair of shoes appropriated by the burglars. They also visited the cellars of F. B. Golden, J. B. Mowrey and P. B. Clark, where they secured a quantity of eatables.

Boy Fatally Injured.

EMLENTON, PA., June 13.—(Special.)—While working at the Slab Hill Furnace saw mill, near this city, John Carner, aged 19 years, of Rockland township, was fatally injured. He was engaged in carrying away slabs when he was caught in the machinery.

PITTSBURGH GAZETTE'S CABLE FEATURES

MME. HUMBERT HAD GRAND COLLECTION OF RARE PAINTINGS

Pictures Owned by Adventuress to Be Sold at Auction.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
PARIS, June 13.—The paintings collected in the last 15 years by Mme. Frederic Humbert, the daring adventuress, who on the sole security of an empty safe succeeded in extorting over $21,000,000 from the most conservative financial institutions and from the shrewdest notaries of Paris, and whose exploits in the art of swindling surpass anything hitherto recorded in this country, will be sold at auction at the Georges Petit gallery on June 20. The sale will be one of the most important, and certainly the most sensational one, of the season. Experts have carefully examined the 150 pictures that formed the gallery in the town residence of the Humberts, No. 65 Avenue de la Grande Armee, and they estimate the value of the paintings at $250,000.

Of the 150 pictures, 129 are oil paintings by modern masters, and 21 are pastel drawings or water colors. There are works by Corot, Daubigny, Diaz, Rosa Bonheur, Delacroix, Jules Dupre, Meissonnier, Rousseau, Fromentin, Isabey, Paul Baudry, Gustave Moreau, Troyon, Benjamin Constant, Gervex, Jules Breton, Cazin, Ziem, Roybet, Jacques, Beraud, Sisley, Bonington, Jacquet, Brown, Courbet, Domingo, Dreux, Robert Fleury Heilbuth, Henner, Leloir, Levy, Madrazo, Leys, Marilhat, Fasini, Pissarro, Alfred Stevens, Theodule Ribot, Renoir, Claude Monet, De Nittis, Millet, Jonkind, Boudin, Van Marcke, Tissot, Decamps, Detaille, Tassaert, Juana Romani, Manet, Schreyer, Vollon and Veyressat.

Among the most valuable pictures is the "Laveuses" (The Washerwoman), by Daubigny. A group of washerwomen are energetically plunging handfuls of linen in the river. Snow white garments are spread on the grass, drying in the summer sunshine; a cart and white horse await on the bank; there is a delicious wooded landscape, and this picture has to a remarkable degree the softness and charm of Daubigny's finest works.

Corot is represented by five pictures, the best of which is "Le Pecheur," painted in 1874. There is a cluster of trees to the right, beneath which two fishermen in a boat are drawing their nets from the swiftly flowing water of a river which reflects sparkling dashes of sunbeams. Tufts of reed give movement and animation to the scene. Corot's "Pont-Neuf," painted in 1845, gives a charming view of the famous old bridge with its statue of Henry IV. and the palace of Louvre, the columns of which are brightly prominent in a dazzling bath of sunshine.

The most "sensational" picture in the Humbert collection is a fine canvas by Jules Breton, "The Return of the Reapers." Three peasant women are walking homeward through a field of harvested wheat by the warm, roseate light of a late summer sunset. This picture, which is considered one of Jules Breton's finest works, bears on the back an inscription in the master's handwriting, of which the following is a translation:

"It is a great honor and a great joy for me to see this picture, of which I am so fond, become part of the beautiful collection of Mme. Humbert. Jules Breton, June 18, 1900."

What better testimony could be adduced as to the quality of the works composing the gallery of the colossal adventuress, whose judgment of paintings is so good as to have called forth from the Parisian expert, M. George Petit, the statement that "had Mme. Humbert invested 20,000,000 francs in pictures 12 years ago she might have honestly realized now something like 80,000,000 francs on her purchases."

MANY AMERICANS AT KING'S LAST COURT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
LONDON, June 13.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra held the fifth and final court of the season at Buckingham palace this evening. A hard rain was falling, a cold wind was blowing and the weather was worse, if possible, than that which marked the four inclement nights of the previous courts.

The scene inside Buckingham palace was particularly brilliant, however, as the Japanese and Korean embassies to the coronation of the king, who have just arrived in England, and who attended court, was quite as splendidly attired as were the Indian princes present. The latter were the feature of this, as they have been of previous courts.

All the members of the special mission from the United States to the coronation of King Edward were present and the officers were all in their full dress uniforms. The Americans presented to their majesties in the diplomatic circle included Whitelaw Reid, the American envoy to the coronation, and Mrs. Reid; Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, wife of the minister of the United States to Belgium; Gen. Wilson and Admiral Watson, representing respectively the United States army and navy at the coronation; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr.; Edmond Lincoln Baylies and William Wetmore, secretaries to the special coronation embassy, and Mrs. Baylies; Commander W. S. Cowles, formerly United States naval attache at London, and Mrs. Cowles; Lieutenant Edward H. Watson, son of Admiral Watson; Col. Borup and Col. John Biddle, who accompanied Gen. Wilson.

The following ladies were presented in the general circle: Mrs. Charles Alexander of New York, Miss Sargeant of Boston, Mrs. Arthur Sedgwick and Miss Sedgwick, of New York.

CORONATION PROGRAM.

Long List of Festivities in Connection With Crowning of King Edward.

LONDON, June 13.—The program of functions for coronation week is as follows:

June 23—Arrival in London of the royal representatives; dinner at Buckingham palace and reception of the suites.

June 24—Their majesties will receive the special foreign envoys and deputations to the coronation and give a state dinner at Buckingham palace.

June 25—Reception of the colonial premiers and other envoys; the Prince of Wales will give a dinner party at St. James' palace to the princes and envoys.

June 26—The coronation.

June 27—The procession through London, which will be a military pageant some two miles long, representing every portion of the British dominion. In the evening their majesties will attend a reception at Lansdowne house.

June 28—The royal party will leave London for the naval review.

June 29—Dinners to the foreign princes by their respective ambassadors.

June 30—Their majesties return to London; gala performances of opera.

July 1—Garden party at Windsor castle.

July 3—Their majesties attend the service at St. Paul's and lunch at the Guild hall.

July 4—Their majesties attend the reception of Indian princes at the India office.

Siberian Famine Spreading.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 13.—The famine in Siberia is spreading with increasing intensity. Reports from Irkutsk show that an enormous number of famine-stricken people are flocking to that city. They are camped in the open, without shelter of any kind, are clad in rags and are dependent entirely on private charity, which is quite inadequate to cope with the distress.

To Snub Emperor William.

BERLIN, June 13.—The Polish feeling against the German people is growing stronger. The Polish nobles of the province of Posen have agreed to absent themselves from the town of Posen, the capital of the province, upon the occasion of Emperor William's approaching visit there as a protest against the speech recently delivered by his majesty at Marienburg.

Part of the beauty in the story, "The Lark's Song," lies in its simplicity. You can secure it with The Sunday Gazette of June 15.

KING OF ENGLAND EULOGIZES BOERS IN COURT SPEECH

His Majesty Responds to Congratulations from Lord Mayor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
LONDON, June 13.—King Edward held a special court at Buckingham palace today for the reception of addresses from the lord mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, and the corporation, and from the London county council, congratulating his majesty on the restoration of peace. The king took occasion to express his sentiments on the subject more fully than heretofore and the tactful recognition which he made of the sterling qualities of the Boers will doubtless materially aid in the work of appeasement in South Africa.

His majesty, surrounded by the household, received the city dignitaries in the throne room and, replying to the lord mayor's address, said:

I thank you in my own name and in the queen's for your loyal and dutiful address and the congratulation you tender us at the close of the war in South Africa. I heartily join you in your expression of thankfulness to the Almighty God for the termination of the struggle which, while it entailed on my people at home and beyond the sea so many sacrifices, borne with admirable fortitude, has secured a result which will give increased unity and strength to my empire. The cordial and spontaneous exertions in all parts of my dominions, as well as in your ancient and loyal city, have done much to bring about this happy result.

You give fitting expression to the admiration universally felt for the valor and endurance of the officers and men who have been engaged in fighting their country's battles. They have been opposed by a brave and determined people and had to encounter unexampled difficulties. These difficulties were cheerfully overcome by steady, and persistent effort and those who were our opponents, will now, I rejoice to think, become our friends.

It is my earnest hope that by mutual cooperation and good will the bitter feelings of the past may speedily be replaced by ties of loyalty and friendship, and that an era of peace and prosperity may be in store for South Africa.

Subsequently, in response to the address of the London county council, the king spoke as follows:

I thank you for your expressions of loyalty and affection toward myself and the queen. I rejoice with you at the thought that the victory which has crowned the perseverance and bravery of my forces will pave the way for the extension to the regions newly added to my empire of that system of government which, with God's blessing, will bring to South Africa the peace and prosperity that have in every quarter of the globe followed its establishment.

The readiness with which my subjects throughout the empire have borne their part in the arduous campaign now happily at an end cannot fail to draw them still more closely together in bonds of loyalty and affection, and I confidently believe that the good feeling which is displayed by those who were so recently our opponents augurs well for the future of that vast country which has been added to the dominions of the crown.

The civic dignitaries proceeded to and from the palace in gilded coaches, attired in their full state robes.

WRIT AGAINST IRISH PARLIAMENT MEMBERS

Conspiracy Is Charged in Connection With Tenant Troubles on Large Estate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
DUBLIN, June 13.—At the instance of Lord De Freyne a writ has been issued against a large number of members of the Irish parliamentary party on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the tenant troubles on the De Freyne estate, Roscommon county. Among the defendants are John Redmond, John Dillon, W. J. O'Brien, J. G. Swift MacNeill, Conor O'Kelly and the members of the standing committee of the United Irish league, which includes Michael Davitt and a number of the former members of parliament. The Freeman's Journal is also a defendant. Lord De Freyne seeks an injunction and damages.

Forty farms on Lord De Freyne's estate were sold by the sheriff February 19 of the present year, the tenants having refused to pay rents. A large number of other "clearance sales" were then pending as the result of the "no rent campaign" at that time being carried on by the United Irish league, and it was said that many hundreds of other tenants were to be proceeded against.

John Redmond, at the time, said the country thereabouts was alive with police and that 15 representative public men of the district had been imprisoned merely for taking part in meetings of a peaceable nature. He attributed all the trouble to the government's refusal to permit legislation giving power to the government to buy out the Irish landlords and thus restore the land to the Irish people.

Convicted of Murdering a Woman.

CHESTER, PA., June 13.—The jury in the case of Robert Kilpatrick, charged with shooting Mrs. Elizabeth Bearmore, his housekeeper, in this city on February 14 last, returned a verdict today of guilty of murder in the first degree.

Trying to Sell Watch.

Michael McCool, John Allers and John Mooney were arrested at the foot of South Twenty-second street last night and locked up in the Twenty-eighth ward police station upon a charge of being suspicious characters. They had a watch worth about 50 cents that they were attempting to sell to a foreigner for a much greater sum.

COUNTY LEADERS ARE STILL RATHER SORE

Von Bonnhorst Is Out of Their Favor. Democrats Think Guthrie's Chances Are Brighter.

The machine leaders, although their remarks about County Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst are more politic than they were when he delivered six state delegates to Senator Quay, are still very sore. Von Bonnhorst, however, has gained the favor of state leaders by his action, and as the rest of the county leaders are just now in disgrace, it is probable that no open move will be made against him until the local situation has cleared up. It is not probable that he will be out at the polls as a candidate for re-election.

Frank M. Fuller of Fayette county is said to be slated for the secretaryship of the commonwealth in Judge S. W. Pennypacker's cabinet. His action in adding five delegates from Fayette to the Pennypacker column is to be rewarded in that way, if current rumor is to be trusted.

The nomination of Judge Pennypacker is said by local Democrats to have strengthened the chances of George W. Guthrie for the Democratic nomination. They figure that Pennypacker will poll an enormous vote in Philadelphia and that no Democrat will be able to detract much from his majority, as Pattison, the only prominent eastern candidate, is not popular with his party organization in that city owing to his attempt to bring about a reform in its ranks.

With this in view the local Democrats think a western candidate will be the stronger. They also assert that in the western counties Elkin sentiment was strongest, and that the soreness over his defeat will detract from the enthusiasm of the Pennypacker campaign in this section.

Mr. Guthrie left last night to attend the first session of the committee on ballot reform. The committee was named by Democratic State Chairman Creasy and Mr. Guthrie was asked to attend.

BEAUTY.
HOW IT CAN BE OBTAINED
How to Make a Marvelously Perfect Complexion and Restore Youthful Looks.
HOW TO REMOVE PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, BROWN PATCHES, BLACKHEADS, OILINESS AND ALL DEFECTS FROM THE FACE, NECK AND ARMS.

There is nothing more beautiful than the human face with its vivacious countenance, its sparkling eye, its pleasant smile and perfect symmetry.

But the crowning glory of the face is a radiant complexion with its lively glow, its youthful tinge, and its fine, smooth texture.

But the question is can such a complexion be attained?

In this wonderfully progressive age of art, literature and science: of the steam engine, the mighty cannon, the electric motor, the wireless telegraph and the ponderous fabric-making machine; what is there that is impossible?

By a careful study of the nature and texture of the skin, and a thorough research in the realms of chemistry and compounding of ingredients, a remedy has been at last perfected that will accomplish these results.

This remedy is Mme. A. Ruppert's Face Bleach.

WHAT FACE BLEACH IS.—Face Bleach is not a cosmetic to cover up, but it absolutely removes once and forever all the discolorations and blemishes to which the complexion is subject. I can positively guarantee every woman it will do all I claim. Its action on the skin cannot fail to remove every defect. It's a well-known fact that the blood in order to cleanse itself is constantly throwing off its impurities through the pores of the skin; now if the pores are not kept open, the impurities of the blood cannot escape, but collect below the surface, and produce all manner of skin troubles, such as PIMPLES, FRECKLES, MOTH, SALLOWNESS, ECZEMA, ACNE AND NUMEROUS OTHER SKIN DISEASES AND DISCOLORATIONS.

ACTION OF FACE BLEACH.—Now Face Bleach has this two-fold action; first, it has a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities which have collected under the skin; and, secondly, a chemical action which removes by scaling off (in the form of a fine powder) the sullied outer, diseased or dead cuticle, leaving the under skin—beautiful, youthful-looking and delicately tinted by nature—clear, smooth and perfect. This method is perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, as it harmonizes with the laws of hygiene and nature, the two factors which we must adhere to and follow if we wish to permanently improve our personal appearance.

THOUSANDS BENEFITED.—Thousands of patrons, who were annoyed and vexed with most miserable complexions, have been delighted with the grand improvement Madame Ruppert's Face Bleach has produced in their skins. Many complexions covered with pimples, freckles and eczematous eruptions (itching, burning and annoying) have been changed to bright, beautiful skins, and the improvements made in their looks were simply marvelous. There is scarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir which will not succumb to this wonderful remedy. Premature wrinkles and lines—those unsightly blemishes—are quickly effaced, and those muddy, disfiguring, sallow, jaundiced skins are quickly transformed into clear, wholesome ones by its use. Flabby skins—which also mark the ravages of time—become firm and smooth after a few applications. Skin troubles which have baffled the most skilful physicians have been removed and cured promptly, and many have expressed, personally and by letter, their heartfelt and profoundest thanks for this wonderful Face Bleach.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special directions, which are furnished with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and impurity from your complexion.

All of Mme. A. Ruppert's world renowned preparations are sold by us at reduced prices.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
CINCINNATI, O., June 13.—River at 6 p. m., 5 feet; falling. Weather clear and hot. Capt. Charles Menges, superintendent of the Cincinnati office of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, went to Rising Sun today to look after the wreck of the Relief. Her crew arrived here this morning. The Relief is a total wreck and is sunk in eight feet of water. There is a channel of about 200 feet between the wreck and the Indiana shore.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; canal, 5.1 feet; falls, 2.9 feet; foot of locks, 8 feet. Business active. Weather clear and warm. Packets in and out on time. The John A. Wood has laid up at Jeffersonville. Rising Sun is gatting low and full of wrecks. Capt. Dougherty wants to be hull inspector at Evansville; so does Capt. Marion Ryan and Capt. Abe Veatch, and there are others.

CAIRO—River 19.8 feet, a rise of 2.10 feet in 24 hours. Telegraphic reports Mills arrived this morning from Turners Landing with two flats of old iron from the wreckage of the City of Pittsburgh.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet 7 inches and stationary. Weather cloudy.

WARREN—River 1 foot. Weather fair and warm.

MARIETTA—River 4.2 feet and falling. Weather hot and cloudy. Bedford up, 6 a. m.; Bessie Smith from Pittsburgh and Ben Hur from Wheeling are due tonight.

HUNTINGTON—River 7 feet 7 inches and rising. Tacoma passed up at noon. Weather hot and dry.

STEUBENVILLE—River 3 feet 4 inches and rising. Weather cloudy and warm.

POINT PLEASANT—River 4 feet 1 inch and rising. Weather partly cloudy and warm. Up, Bill Clark and Kanawha.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 6 inches and rising. Weather cloudy and warm.

PARKERSBURG—River 5 feet and rising. Weather, thunder storm tonight. No boats.

GALLIPOLIS—River 4 feet 5 inches and falling. Up, Kanawha. Weather clear and warm.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and cooler.

MAY ASK FOR DAMAGES.

Relatives Want Recompense for Burning of the Clara Poe.

The surviving children of the late Capt. Jacob Poe of Georgetown, Pa., may present the government with a claim for the burning of the steamer Clara Poe in 1861, while the vessel was up Cumberland river. The boat is said to have been there under orders from the United States government and was captured by the Confederates and set on fire.

The vessel was totally destroyed. No demand was ever made for damages and the sons of Capt. Poe, who are well-known rivermen, believe that they have a good claim. During the early days of steamboating the Poe's were prominently identified with the business. The Clara Poe was a stern wheel packet, similar to those now running in the short trades on the Ohio river.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat Relief, sunk yesterday at Rising Sun, Ind., will be raised.

Work on pumping out the sunken I. C. Woodward was commenced Thursday.

Capt. William Fay's packet, Greyhound, broke down at Huntington and had to lay up for repairs for a short time.

Packet business was dull yesterday on account of there being no packets leaving for upper Monongahela river points.

The steamer Lorena, from Zanesville, came as far as Sewickley yesterday and was compelled to stop there. The towboat J. C. Reynolds brought her freight to this city on a barge. The Lorena will leave Sewickley on the return trip at 2 p. m.

Capt. Thomas Calhoon of Georgetown, Pa., was in Pittsburgh yesterday. His steamer, the Virginia, is laid up at Cincinnati.

A coal exchange has been organized at Wheeling with Maj. Thomas N. Norton as president and Walter H. Rhinehart as secretary and treasurer.

Lewis McLaughlin has been appointed traveling passenger and freight agent of the White Collar line of Cincinnati. He is a brother of Capt. Edward McLaughlin.

The John A. Wood, which arrived Thursday at Louisville, was 60 days out from New Orleans, towing the little steamer Shawnee, 14 coal boats and three barges.

Pilots report a very dangerous rock in the channel of the Ohio at the head of the trap. It is presumed that it was deposited there last winter by dropping from a passing fleet.

Surveyors are still at work on the Monongahela wharf drawing lines for the proposed Wabash railroad bridge. The work on the bridge is progressing, the south pier nearing completion.

The towboats Robert Taylor and Ford City are towing scows from Donora to the head of Brunots island, where the dirt loaded in them is dumped. The dirt is taken from the new steel plant excavations.

Lock No. 1 was closed to navigation yesterday, but the dam is expected to be open today at noon for all boats. Many steamers are being held above it unable to come into the harbor on account of repairs being made.

The dredges at work at the head of Brunots Island are lifting about 600 yards of earth every day. The earth is being placed inside the piling at the head of the island. The Monongahela and Western Dredging Company is doing the work.

Capt. Addison Lysle, who has recently spent much time in Mexico, has returned from there. He is interested in a company which has six oil wells, two of which are producing wells. He thinks that the territory has as good prospects as the Texas field.

The steamer Greenwood did not arrive at Pittsburgh until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was drawing about all the water there was in the Ohio. She brought her freight in on a lighter. The boat was a few hours late in leaving for Charleston on her return trip.

Mrs. Nancy Moore, the mother of Capt. W. H. Moore, a former well-known coal operator, died Thursday at her home in Parkersburg. Mrs. Moore was born near the Point in Pittsburgh in 1820. The funeral will take place at Wheeling today from the residence of her son-in-law, William Kraft.

The St. Louis & Tennessee River Packet Company has secured a contract to carry Uncle Sam's mail between Danville and Johnsonville, on the Tennessee, it being a route with 26 postoffices on it, to cover which the small steamer now on the ways at Howard's is being built. The engines of the late Will J. Cummins are to go on the boat.

"The Greenwood is no longer to be controlled by river superstitions," said Capt. Gordon Greene of the steamer yesterday. "On the last trip out of Charleston we carried three preachers, seven red-headed women, two bridal couples, two white horses, and in the list of passengers there were two pair of twins. It has been contended by all rivermen that preachers, white horses and bridal couples on a boat at the same time were bad luck, but we never had the least trouble. I am no longer superstitious. I think we can stand almost any kind of a Jonah now."

AIR OF MYSTERY ABOUT COMBINE'S PIG IRON DEAL

Price Paid and Even Actual Existence of the Purchase Are Secrets.

Valley Furnaces Not Apt to Risk Losing Their Best Customer by a Squeeze—Gates Still After Colorado Fuel and Iron.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 13.—Officials of the United States Steel Corporation were very reticent today on the subject of the combine's reported purchase, or its arrangement to purchase, 125,000 tons of pig iron for delivery in the second quarter of 1903. It is casually admitted that a deal involving this amount of iron has been on the carpet, but whether it has been closed or not, it is impossible to say. One authority intimates that it has not and another that it has.

All authorities refuse to name the price involved. It is not believed here that the combine is to pay any such price as $21 a ton for Bessemer iron. This would be $1.50 a ton higher than the price paid for the big lot of iron last previously bought. An official of the combine put the matter in a very interesting light and opened a new vein of thought, when he said today:

"The United States Steel corporation buys between 500,000 and 600,000 tons of Bessemer iron a year from the Mahoning and Shenango valley furnaces, and you may presume it to be unlikely, therefore, that they would exact such a price as $21 a ton. The steel corporation might say, for example, 'You charge us too much in a pinch, and we shall build our own furnaces, so that hereafter we shall not be dependent upon you for iron.' The Mahoning and Shenango valleys' furnaces, you see, would lose their most profitable customer."

"It is generally believed in iron and steel circles here that the United States Steel corporation eventually will make itself independent in the matter of pig iron, and if it is barely possible, therefore, that the Mahoning and Shenango valley furnace people argue somewhat in this fashion: 'We shall lose our most profitable customer in any event, and why should we not get all we can for our iron meanwhile?'"

Scarcity of Pig Iron.

The pig iron situation generally is unrelieved. In the eastern district, furnaces are producing less than 50 per cent of the normal output owing to the want of fuel. There is nothing on the horizon that would indicate a lower level of prices in the near future. There is practically no southern pig iron for sale to be delivered this year. It is expected that at its next meeting the Southern Pig Iron association will take action on a price schedule for 1903.

Gates and Colorado Fuel and Iron.

The lapse of speculative interest in Colorado Fuel and Iron stock is due largely to the impression that the situation within this company has settled down to await developments at the next annual meeting in August. The holdings of the Gates party are believed still to be intact, and there is a feeling that he and his friends are likely to make another effort to gain control.

It was not until the day immediately preceding the last annual meeting that a compromise was effected. Mr. Gates then overturned proxies for his stock to the Osgood party, and the Osgoods, of course, continued in control of the property. It is believed that since then a lot of Fuel stock has found its way into hands friendly to the interests of the Gates-Hawley contingent, and if these new holders should give their proxies against the Osgood party the Osgoods might find it more difficult than ever before to maintain control. Mr. Osgood owns a very large block of stock, and his friends are prepared to support him at every stage of any contest that may develop.

Can Combine More Prosperous.

The affairs of the American Can Company, it is said, are rapidly being placed on a sounder basis, and earnings are beginning to show improvement in consequence. The economies introduced in the way of centralizing the plants of the company have resulted in an enormous saving. An associate of the company said today that the demand for the products of the company at present is very brisk, and that he looked forward to a prosperous season in the fruit line. While the general belief is that the American Can Company eventually will be taken over by the United States Steel Corporation, there is no prospect of such a deal being put through in the immediate future.

General Electric Dividend.

The General Electric Company has sent out a circular to stockholders notifying them of the recent declaration of a 66 2-3 stock dividend. Scrip will be issued in place of certificates for fractional shares until the scrip has been exchanged and certificates for whole shares issued in lieu thereof. The Farmers Loan & Trust Company of New York and the American Loan & Trust Company of Boston will deliver the certificates and scrip specified.

Labor Cloud Dissipated.

Officials of the Republic Iron & Steel Company feel confident that they will go through the current year without any labor disturbances. They point out that they have adopted the wage scales governing the mills for the year ending June 30, 1903, and that labor difficulties under these conditions are out of the question. The company agreed to introduce the eight-hour system, as asked by the Amalgamated association as soon as it is possible to do so.

Little Worry Over Gold Exports.

The problem of how much gold this country will have to send abroad this summer in connection with maturing obligations, seems to be giving bankers here little concern. While they continue of the belief that several millions of gold will be exported to Europe, they also are convinced that shipments will be so arranged as to not disturb monetary conditions in the least. The summer is the time of the year when gold can best be spared.

Gold is being taken out of the ground in greater volume than ever before, while the receipts from the Klondike, as well as from Australia, are expected to exceed the receipts during the summer months of last year. While the gold received here from Australia is a triangular arrangement on the part of Great Britain and this country, still it must be considered as much of a factor in gold export and import calculations as Klondike gold. The receipts from Australia last year exceeded $20,000,000, which went a long way toward offsetting the outflow of gold to Europe.

A banker today estimated that the production of gold in the United States and the Klondike the current year would exceed the output of last year by at least $12,000,000. He added that it stands to reason that the heavy extension of foreign credits here mean simply a postponement of gold exports.

Strength to Stocks Came Late in the Day

ONE INDIVIDUAL GETS THE CREDIT FOR ADVANCES

BULL ACTIVITY REVIVES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 13.—After a dull and hesitating market during the greater part of today, with isolated upward movements here and there, the market broadened in the final hour and moved upward quite generally, with a considerable show of strength. The activity was attributed to the same speculative leader who had been concerned in all recent important movements, and whose return to Wall street this week gave immediate rise to a show of awakening.

Whatever the motives of the buying, the bull leadership secured a larger following today than at any time this week, notwithstanding a number of news developments not immediately encouraging to a rise in prices. The preliminary figures of the week's currency movement, which are usually the center of interest in a Friday market gave no promise of a strong bank statement. The sub-treasury absorption of $2,400,000 apparently has been little more than offset by the balance of receipts from the interior. There is no indication of any considerable loan contraction during the week and the time money market continues to reflect the cautious desire of borrowers to provide themselves with fixed sums for a considerable time to come.

Bad Weather Affects Stocks.

Today's crop news was not regarded as favorable, owing to complaints of too much rain in the southwest. Part of the strength of wheat was attributed to an improved demand for export, but this failed to develop fully. The figures of the May agricultural exports were decidedly unfavorable, the decrease in value from those of May last year reaching over $20,000,000, the breadstuffs alone decreasing $13,795,000 and amounting to only about half those of last May. Last week's exports of wheat and flour show a continuance of the low average, although the most notable falling off is in the corn exports. This does not offer encouragement to the hope of an early supply of foreign exchange to facilitate remittances for repayment of foreign obligations.

The advance of a point or over in the Reading stocks was an important sympathetic influence upon the late market, but there was no news to show a prospect of an early settlement of the strike. The increase in the demand for stocks was incontestable nevertheless, in some cases the movement was due to individual causes.

Sugar advanced on the oversold condition of the market for the refined product and was benefited also by the reports of a special presidential message to congress reinforcing the recommendation for Cuban reciprocity.

There was a number of very large individual buying orders for Mexican Central executed in the early market, but the buying was not followed up. The drop of 8½ points in General Electric was probably due to reports of a new combination of electrical manufacturing companies, backed by influential capitalists. The stock afterward rallied 4 points. Chicago & Eastern Illinois rose 4½ points further on persistent rumors of an offer for control. The day's reports of railroad earnings showed a continuance of the increases over last year's corresponding period. The market closed rather quiet but steady.

There was a large demand for Wabash debenture bonds at an advance of 2½ per cent; the Burlington joint 4s were also in demand. The market generally was firm. Total sales par value, $3,690,000.

United States 3s declined ¼ per cent on the last call.

Dun's Weekly Review

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR BUSINESS IN ALL LINES

The Demands of Industry and Trade Not Impeded by Strikes.

RAILWAY EARNINGS HIGH

Dun & Co. Believe the Crop Prospects Are Good—Continued Activity Is Assured for a Long Time in Iron and Steel—Large Cotton Crop

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

No diminution in business is apparent from labor controversies, owing to the prosperous condition of the agricultural sections and the bright outlook for this year's crops. Retail distribution of light-weight wearing apparel has felt the stimulus of higher temperature. Railway earnings in May were 8.7 per cent larger than last year and 21.7 per cent above those of 1900.

There continues to be a wide discrepancy between the amount of business offered and the contracts closed in many branches of the iron and steel industry, owing to the inability of producers to assure delivery at a specified time. Contracts running well into next year indicate that the end of activity is not near. Pressure is still most conspicuous for railway and structural supplies, and agricultural implement works are crowded with orders.

Sales of Bessemer pig iron at Pittsburgh for delivery next year were recently made at $16 50, while immediate shipments command about $5 more. Limited stocks are still the cause of steadiness in all branches of textiles. Holders are not urging sales and buyers show a disposition to wait.

Purchasers of cotton goods are influenced by the prospect of cheaper raw material after the new crop begins to move. Cotton rose steadily on a few unfavorable weather reports, but the outlook is very bright in many states. Tardy deliveries of sample pieces by the woolen mills have caused complaint among the clothiers and fall orders are not placed freely. Wool sells more freely at leading eastern markets and quotations are steady. No change of importance has occurred in leather. Hides are again strong with Texas steers leading the market and foreign dry hides do not yield to lower bids.

Grain markets have shown the effect of conflicting crop estimates and weather reports.

Failures for the week numbered 162 in the United States against 179 last year, and 20 in Canada compared with 28 a year ago.

BANK CLEARINGS.

A General Decrease for the Week—Slight Falling Off in Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The following table, compiled by Bradstreet, shows the bank clearings at the principal cities for the week ended June 12, with the percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

CITIES.	Amount.	Per Ct. Inc.	Per Ct. Dec.

BIG DOWNTOWN SALE BREAKS THE MONOTONY

PENN AVENUE SALE OF $80,000 JUST CLOSED

Daniel H. Wallace Has Bought the Property at No. 411.

BUTLER DEAL OF $20,000

Two Large Residence Sales in East End—Pittsburgh Building in May Makes Bad Showing—"Buckingham" Apartments Started.

The Hannah Woods property, in lower Penn avenue, has been sold to Daniel H. Wallace for $80,000. The deal was negotiated by the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company, which has lately taken over the business of W. A. Herron & Sons. The lot is one of the largest in that part of the city, having a frontage of 30 feet on the north side of Penn avenue, where it is known as No. 411, and extending through to Duquesne way, a distance of 420 feet. A three-story brick house stands on the front of the lot, and a stable in the rear. This property was recently sold, through the orphans court for $65,000 to J. R. Tindel, the sale causing considerable mention at that time because an offer of $70,000 was made for the property by Frank McCann. Title to the lot was secured from the Safe Deposit and Trust Company. Mr. Wallace takes it for an investment, and no changes will be made now. This is the largest sale of downtown property announced for two weeks, and is the first of a number that are said to be nearly ready for final closing.

Butler Boom Still On.

The realty boom still continues to be a feature at Butler, and another lot plan was announced yesterday. The new plan will be laid out on the farm of J. Krause, which has been purchased for $20,000. The buyers are W. C. and J. H. Pentz of DuBois, Pa., and W. J. Musser of this city, and the deal was made through Christley Bros. of Butler, and J. C. Dight & Co. of this city. The farm comprises 26 acres, and is situated in the Mercer road, a short distance west of Butler fair grounds. A big stone quarry occupies part of the premises. Only a few rods from the farm are the new works of the Standard Steel Car Company, which are now well under way. The property is in a district that is destined to become a fine residence quarter, and is easily reached by the Butler street car line, which runs along its border. The purchasers propose to plot the property into about 250 l

Window Glass and Brewing Reacted on Diminished Demand

MORE CAUTION WAS EVINCED BY BUYERS

Brewing Common and Window Glass Common Eased Off Slightly.

PITTSBURGH COAL HIGHER

A Single Share of Union Trust Sold at a Record-Breaking Price—Steel Stocks Were Barely Steady Deals in National Fire Proofing.

A bull market is not yet. On the local exchange yesterday demand for stocks was disappointingly light and recessions of greater or less extent occurred in the shares that have recently enjoyed the greatest advances. Offerings were well taken at declines, but buyers were in a waiting mood and holders had to make the concessions. In Brewing common, for instance, which rose over a point to 28⅝ on strong buying on Thursday, demand was almost entirely lacking at the opening. Not a sale was posted during the first hour and the initial trade was at a decline of ⅛, while later the price eased off to 28⅛. The close was steady at 28 bid. The preferred was quiet and firm, while the bonds were offered at 114, the selling price on Thursday. The feeling seemed to be that inasmuch as there was nothing definite to put the securities up it was just as well to take profits.

Window Glass acted much like Brewing common. Bullish ardor had cooled considerably and those who had bought for 70 apparently lacked the courage of their convictions. At any rate offerings became quite free after an opening spurt had spent its force and there was a gradual relapse from the high mark of 62¾ to 62, the net decline for the day being ⅝. Sales were an even 200 shares, the stock being the leader in activity.

In the steel group Crucible preferred had a fairly good sale and was reasonably steady at 87⅜@87½. The common was very dull and sold unchanged at 22. United States Steel common eased off ⅛ to 39 on a single sale. In the coal group Pittsburgh Coal common advanced ⅝ over Thursday's selling price of 24⅛, though only ⅜ over the final bid of Thursday. The preferred was quiet and firm. River Coal preferred lost ½, while the common sold unchanged. Fire Proofing stocks had a moderate sale at fractional declines, while Philadelphia common rose ½ on the sale of 350 shares. A large block of Allegheny Valley preferred brought 26, a drop of ¼.

In the bank group the feature was the posting of a trade in Union Trust, the first since last January. Only one share figured in the deal, but the price paid, $1,600, is a new record for the stock and indeed for any Pittsburgh bank or trust company stock, being $100 above the best recent bid and $800 above the price at the last previous sale.

Financial Drift.

Miller was a heavy seller of Window Glass common.

Walker & Wainwright bought Union Trust from Hill & Co.

Mutin bought a block of 7,500 Allegheny Valley preferred from Sproul & Co.

C. Conyers has been elected a director of the International Steam Pump Company.

Sugar is being bought on the belief that the president will send a special message to congress urging immediate passage of the Cuban reciprocity bill.

Today is suburban day and Wall street will be more interested in horses than in stocks.

Missouri Pacific officials say that the crops on their road are practically assured and talk much higher prices for stocks.

Advices from Wall street yesterday were to the effect that the strike on the Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio is a failure.

J. C. Morris of Morris & Brown, one of the oldest members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, will shortly retire on account of continued ill health.

Bulls in Missouri Pacific are predicting a very favorable April report. It is said that earnings will be close to $3,000,000, an increase of nearly $750,000.

Iron City National bank was bid up to a new high record at 127½ yesterday. Last year it sold at 125, the record until yesterday. At one time yesterday the stock was offered at 126, but there were no sales.

Although the New York banks have lost to the treasury this week they gained more cash from interior and show a net increase of over $1,000,000, so that the statement bids fair to be better than had been hoped for.

On the local exchange yesterday 80 was bid for Central Pipe & Valve Company; par is $50. The capital is $10,000, and net profits, after deducting 10 per cent for depreciation on plant, were $6,300 for the first year, which ended April 30 last.

It is pointed out that both the present ease in call money and the likelihood of higher rates in the near future are due to preparations for July disbursements. The accumulation of funds for this purpose keeps the supply of call money large.

It was rumored yesterday that the Union National bank would increase its capital from $250,000 to $1,000,000, putting out new stock at $1,000 per share. A director of the bank said last night that an increase had been talked of for some months, but that nothing had yet been decided upon.

Declared Dividends.

The Cincinnati Tobacco Company has declared a dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable July 5.

Books close today for the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on Westinghouse Electric first preferred.

The Westinghouse Machine Company has declared a dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable July 10 to stock of record July 1.

The directors of the P. Lorillard Company have declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1.

A dividend of 1¼ per cent has been declared on the preferred stock of the American Iron and Steel Manufacturing Company, payable July 1 as registered June 24.

The directors of the United Gas Improvement Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 15 to stockholders of record June 30.

Unrecorded Quotations.

Southern Traction 5s were offered at 106½.

Pittsburgh Reduction common was quoted at 22¾ bid.

Philadelphia Company new 5s were in demand at 105⅝ bid.

Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Connellsville 5s were offered at 102.

Pittsburgh and Charleroi 5s were wanted at 106 and were offered at 106¼.

A SLIGHT INCREASE.

Exchanges Showed Small Gain Over Same Day Last Year.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges yesterday showed a small increase over the record of the same day last year. The local money market continues firm and unchanged, the rate for call and time loans standing at 5@6 per cent. The official clearing house reports in detail for the days mentioned are as follows:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$8,607,992	$ 757,167 57
Previous Friday	6,990,221 92	980,992 25
Last year	6,542,893 26	1,432,917 10

Yesterday's increase, $35,799 22.

THE MONEY MARTS.

Call Loans Are Steady at Acceptable Rate of Interest.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Money on call steady at 2½@3 per cent; closing bids and asked, 2½@3 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4¾@5 per cent; sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 87⅝@4 87¾ for demand, and at $4 84⅞ for sixty days; posted rates, $4 85½@4 86 and $4 88@4 88½; commercial bills, $4 84¾@4 85¾; bar silver, 52c; Mexican dollars, 42c; government bonds easy; state bonds inactive; railroad bonds firm.

LONDON, June 13.—There was a strong demand for money during the early part of the day, but it slackened later and became easier, owing to the belief that the government will soon disburse largely. Business on the stock exchange opened with the firmness which developed late yesterday, the satisfactory outcome of the settlement being a good factor. There was no increase in activity, however, owing to the holiday atmosphere. Consols were fairly steady.

PARIS, June 13.—Business on the bourse today was limited, but the undertone was good. Prices closed firm. Foreigners were satisfactory. The private rate of discount was 2 1-16 per cent.

Oat Market Stronger and Prices Higher

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Spring Chickens Offering at Lower Figures—Fresh Tomatoes Again Decline.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

So much strength was shown in the oat situation yesterday that quotations went forward a half cent, while all other lines remained unchanged. Stronger oat markets prevail all over the country.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 6 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 1 car straw; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 1 car hay, 2 cars straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay. Total receipts, 23 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@8 25.

Hay—Choice timothy, $14 50@15 00; No. 1 do, $14 00@14 25; No. 2 do, $12 00@13 00; No. 1 mixed timothy and clover, $13 00@13 50; choice prairie, $10 50@11 00; packing, $8 00@10 00; loose from wagon, $10 00@17 00.

Fruits and Produce.

There was a general tendency to go lower shown in prices throughout the market yesterday, quotations in many instances declining considerably. Cucumbers, onions, cabbage, tomatoes, strawberries, peas and cantaloupes all dropped, the decline in tomatoes being most marked. There was no change in the potato situation, where figures which have prevailed for two or three days continue to rule.

Apples—Choice, $3 00@3 50 per bbl; fancy, $3 50@4 00.

COURT PERMITS DR. BROWNING TO BE A WITNESS

Went on the Stand to Deny Statements Brought Out by the Defense.

SMOKING NOT ALLOWED

The Physician Denies That He Smoked in Senator Magee's Room. Was Not Allowed to Tell About His Bill or Treatment.

Dr. Walter C. Browning, who has a claim of $350,000 against the estate of the late C. L. Magee, yesterday took the stand in his own behalf during the concluding session of the audit of the estate. Next Monday a time will be set to hear arguments upon the claim.

Objections were raised to Dr. Browning going on the witness stand, but the court allowed him to be heard in the matter of denials and corrections of some of the testimony of the witnesses.

Dr. Browning, aside from making a denial of some unimportant statements, said no smoking was allowed in Mr. Magee's room, and that after the treatments he did not remain with Mr. Magee to smoke cigars. The court refused to allow the doctor to give a description of his treatment. Court adjourned shortly after.

CITY CONTROLLER ANSWERS SEIBERT

Says the Law Requires Him to Refuse Claims for Services Not Rendered.

City Controller John B. Larkin filed his answer to the mandamus proceedings of Elmer E. Siebert to show cause why the controller should not issue a warrant to him for $207 69 for services as superintendent of Highland park.

The controller declares that before approving any warrant or claim against the city, it is his duty to ascertain that the amount is justly due, and that he is prohibited from countersigning any warrants unless he finds them to be lawfully due; also that if he approves any claim that should not be approved he and his securities are liable.

Reference is made to the presentation of the April and May payroll by Superintendent William Falconer, showing Siebert to be entitled to a salary of $200 a month, as superintendent, and William Forsythe $125 a month as assistant superintendent of Highland park. The controller then states:

"In compliance with my duty, I investigated said claims and found the said Elmer E. Siebert had not performed and was not able to perform the services for which he claimed payment, and I, therefore, refused to approve the same. I also found there was no authority for the employment of a superintendent and assistant superintendent of Highland park.

"Upon presentation of the payroll for the month of April, I sent for William Falconer, superintendent, who had certified the same, and examined him concerning the services of Siebert and Forsythe. I told him that I would not approve the claims, as there was no authority for the employment of a superintendent and assistant superintendent. Said Falconer informed me that the said Forsythe had performed the duties, and rendered service; that he was a capable man; that his services were necessary, and that he was thoroughly familiar with the duties and was a valuable man." Controller Larkin states that he then approved Forsythe's claim.

SAYS FRAUD WAS USED.

Defendants Allege That an Unique Scheme Was Tried to Get Insurance Money.

In the answer filed in common pleas court No. 3 by the New York Life Insurance Company to the suit of Bessie Sokolsky, an unique scheme to defraud is recited. The plaintiff entered suit to recover $5,000 upon a policy. The company's answer sets forth that upon August 31, 1901, someone signing his name "Samuel Litof" applied for insurance. It is alleged the man said he was 47 years old, resided at No. 1617 Fifth avenue, and was a clothing dealer by occupation. He was referred to the medical examiner.

Upon the same day, it is stated, someone, alleging himself to be Samuel Litof, presented himself to Dr. A. Pettit, the medical examiner, and submitted to an examination. As a consequence a policy for $5,000 was issued in Litof's name.

It is further alleged that the real Samuel Litof moved to Baltimore in July, 1900; that he was a vest presser and not a clothing dealer, and that he never lived at No. 1617 Fifth avenue, but resided at No. 1308 Ann street; also that he was 56 years old, was sick all of the time he resided in Pittsburgh and was not a subject for life insurance.

It is alleged the premiums upon the policy were paid by one Sokolsky, a brother-in-law of Litof's, under an arrangement with the latter that he would receive one half of the proceeds of the policy at Litof's death. It is stated that at the time it was known that Litof would not live long, and that the person who submitted to the medical examination was not Samuel Litof, who died February 20, last. It is said the signatures to the policy and the medical examination certificate are not the same.

WOULD NOT PAY COSTS.

Prosecutor Who Lost a Case Went to Jail Rather Than Settle—Other Criminal Cases.

Rather than pay the costs in criminal court in which he was prosecutor H. J. Hays decided to go to jail and throw the costs on the county.

Hays sued his father, A. C. Hays, for the embezzlement of $400 which he claimed he had given to him for the purpose of paying taxes and interest on a mortgage. He alleged that he sent the money to his father from Canada, where he was confined in jail about two years ago. He testified that instead of paying the taxes and interest his father appropriated the money to his own use and allowed the property to be sold at sheriff's sale.

A. C. Hays, the father, stated that he received the money but had used it to pay other of his son's debts. The father was acquitted.

Thomas Wade was sentenced to the workhouse for 10 months on a charge of unlawful cutting and wounding preferred by Martin Flaherty. The two men had some trouble in a pool room.

Benjamin F. Lewis, Jr., was found guilty of a charge of misdemeanor preferred by Irena Davis and was sentenced to the workhouse for one year.

Jacob Friedman was found guilty of a charge of malicious mischief and sentenced to pay a fine of $75 and the costs of prosecution. He was living in a house at No. 1403 Franklin street, rented from Annie Harris. It was alleged that on May 31, after he had been ordered to give up the house, he damaged the property by breaking the pipes and chandeliers and destroying the wall paper.

MRS. PITCAIRN WINS

Jury Says Albert Pitcairn Was Sane When He Married Her—Big Estate Involved.

The jury in the traverse of the lunacy proceedings against Albert Pitcairn, a former well-known tailor of this city, yesterday found that Pitcairn's mental condition dated from the year 1900 only, instead of from 1897, as was stated by the commission that found him insane.

Under the findings of the commission Pitcairn was a lunatic at the time of his marriage to his present wife, on August 27, 1897, and under its finding she was not his lawful wife.

Mrs. Pitcairn took an appeal from this finding and the jury has been listening to the testimony during the past week. The finding of the jury yesterday makes Mrs. Pitcairn the legal wife of Albert Pitcairn, whose estate is said to be worth $300,000.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A decree in distribution in the estate of Christian E. Kaufman shows a balance of $15,663 45.

An inventory and appraisement of the personal estate of Jane W. Magee shows a valuation of $43,687 41.

The executors of the estate of William Johnston filed a report charging themselves with $58,347 17 and showing a balance of $57,729 24.

James P. Sager sued the George A. Fuller Company for $5,000 damages for alleged injuries received at the Frick building March 12 last.

The judgment entered June 12 against William R. Beckert for $2,415 44 in favor of Mary E. Steele was satisfied in full. It is said it was entered under a misapprehension.

Executions were issued as follows: Samuel P. Hays vs. Snyder M. Brown, $342; Samuel H. Grubbs vs. Charles W. Selbold, $1,569; Edward B. Adams, use vs. Henry Voelkel, $1,097; E. G. Hileman, administrator vs. Jacob Bowser, et al, $565; Herman L. Studt vs. Henry L. Hoburg, $404.

An answer was filed by W. P. Mack to the rule granted upon petition of John E. Logue to show cause why judgment should not be opened upon a suit on a note. Judgment was taken upon failure to file an affidavit of defense. Mack says he does not believe Logue when he says his counsel neglected to file the affidavit.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Greete Long against Frank H. Long was filed. They were married six years ago and separated last February. Mrs. Long says her husband drank and pretended to look for work and always wanted the money she earned. She claims that her husband deserted her.

Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court announced that there would be no sessions of court for naturalization until after the beginning of September. A special session of the district court will be held next Tuesday to charge the special grand jury in the suits against Charles W. Tannahill, Joseph Rubinski and Jacob Green for using mails fraudulently.

PHILIPPINES IN PERIL FROM TWO EPIDEMICS

Cholera and Smallpox Making Alarming Inroads in Islands.

MANY PLACES ATTACKED

The Army in Less Danger Than Natives and Civilian Americans—Military Placed in Charge of Manila Health.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—An alarming situation with regard to the epidemic of cholera in the Philippines is set out in a report received by Surgeon General Forewood from Lieut. Col. Heizeman, at present in charge of the medical department of the army in the islands.

The appearance of the disease at Manila in March is attributed in some quarters to vegetables coming into the islands from infected Chinese ports, and in others to the drinking of Pasig river water, foul with the sewage of the city. Lieut.-Col. Heizeman says the number of different points attacked by the epidemic, and the consequent infection of many streams which are universally used for drinking and bathing, and into which all foul material and garbage find their way, makes probable a large number of deaths before the rains shall occur, which ended the two great epidemics in '80's.

The army, he says, is much better protected than the native population, or than civilian Americans in the islands, because of the care which is exercised in supplying good food and water.

In Manila alone, 277 cases and 215 deaths had occurred up to April 15, the date of the report, with 453 cases and 308 deaths outside the city. In the provinces the disease attacked 25 different places. In the Camarines, at Nueva Caceres, the disease appeared, and this has been the only point where the army has suffered, two cavalrymen and an infantryman having the disease.

The colored troops, the report says, naturally mix much more with the natives than the whites, drinking the water in the shacks which they visit, and eating native food, and they are thus much more liable to contract cholera.

Smallpox also has appeared and has been more prevalent, it is said, this year than in any, except the first of American occupation. The wife of an American army officer in Manila has been attacked by it.

Vigorous measures of prevention have been instituted to attempt to check the spread of cholera. Manila has been quarantined against all other points; distilled water has been provided; house-to-house inspections made; chloride of lime freely used; a cholera hospital established; the foul farola burned, and 28 army medical officers have been detailed to duty with the Manila board of health. Medical officers of the army have been given practical charge of health.

The report on the health of the army in general shows a slight decrease in the percentage of sick. The number of deaths has increased by six. Out of a total of 36 recent deaths, dysentery has been the cause of 18.

Desertion and Surety Cases.

The following desertion and surety of the peace cases will be heard this morning: Patrick Shea, Samuel Free, R. O. Barber, Samuel Dyer, Charles Stephan, John Fahey, Martin Coyne, William Devlin, Harry Easterday, Charles Erickson, Manula Lazo, Sample H. Thompson and Christopher Vierling.

WALLER DEFENDS SAMAR CAMPAIGN

HE GAVE THE INSURRECTOS WHAT THEY WERE HOWLING FOR.

Extreme Measures Required by the Situation—Worst War He Ever Served In. He Wishes No More of It—Angry About His Court-Martial.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Maj. L. W. T. Waller of the United States marine corps, by far the most interesting personage to reach here on the transport Warren, which brought the battle-scarred remnant of the fighting Ninth infantry, expressed emphatic views on the war in the Philippines.

"You can't stop the revolution in the Philippines unless you take the severest measures," said Maj. Waller. "I cannot describe the fearful condition in which we found some of the bodies of men under my command who were murdered by insurrectionists.

"I received both verbal and written orders from Gen. Jacob H. Smith to kill all insurrectos who were caught armed or who refused to surrender. It was the only thing that could be done. I never questioned Gen. Smith's orders with one exception. This exception I refuse to state. A fair estimate of the number of natives killed by the men of my command would be 400 to 500. These were killed in battle, with the exception of 11 carriers, insurrectos at heart, who were tried by court martial and shot. There was only one woman shot, and she was only slightly wounded. She happened to be in the breastworks of a fort my men were storming.

"I have fought in every country in the world except Australia, but Samar—well, purgatory is a winter resort compared to Samar.

"I left Samar a howling wilderness," he continued. "They tried to make it that for us, but we made it a howling wilderness for them."

"Want any more of it?" was asked.

"No; I'm getting to be an old man now. I'm in my 50's. Besides, they've surrendered, and it's all over. It's always all over when they surrender in the Philippines." And a sarcastic smile curved under his military mustache.

"The charge against me," he said, "was murder. Yes, one plain word—murder. As for having anything to say about the court martial of course, I have. I objected to being court martialed. I know what caused the court martial. I know who was at the back of it all, and Washington knows."

The Man and Woman of It.

Two successful advertising writers, one a man, the other a woman, after a conference with a medical expert regarding the nourishing, strengthening and palate-pleasing qualities of a new wheat and malt food, were asked to write short, concise sentences bringing out the points which appealed strongest to them. The preliminary talk touched upon the various food elements needed for the proper nourishment of each organ of the human body, of the manner in which such nourishment is extracted from the food and distributed through the body, and of the elements in the food under consideration and the proportions in which these elements are blended.

The sentences submitted are exceedingly good illustrations of the difference between the male and female manner of thought.

The man submitted this:

"In the hair of Samson lay his strength; in a diet of Force lies the strength of the thousands who use it."

This from the woman:

"'Force' owes its sweetness to the fragrant breeze, its crispness to the sun's warm kisses, its healthfulness to Nature's bounty."

Part of the beauty in the story, "The Lark's Song," lies in its simplicity. You can secure it with The Sunday Gazette of June 15.

Purchased From the Leading Clothing Manufacturers at an average saving of 43%

No event in the Clothing Trade for years has attracted so much attention as the sale now in progress here. And this for the very good reason that every man knows that this is not only a Bona Fide Cut Price Sale, but that the Clothing offered comes from the foremost makers in the United States, including the following:

Steefel, Strauss & Connors.
Fechheimer-Fishel Co.
Hornthal, Benjamin & Riem.
A. Dinkelspiel & Co., Cohn & Co.
Alfred Benjamin & Co.

It's no exaggeration to state that nine out of every ten Stylish Dressers have at sometime or other worn clothing made by the above manufacturers. They are the head and front of the American fine clothing trade, and their garments, which are rapidly replacing the most expensive Merchant Tailor Work, can be found in the best clothing stores all over the country. This sale, however, offers the first chance ever known to buy them at scarcely more than Half Price. In other words, our customers can now purchase this superior and superfine clothing for less—much less money than we ourselves paid for the same goods earlier in the season. This, however, is only in keeping with our time-honored policy "TO SELL AS WE BUY." Having paid only $135,000 Cash for $235,000 worth of Clothing, we give you the benefit of our saving of $100,000 or about 43 per cent. That's how you are able to buy this fine clothing at the extraordinarily low prices stated on the opposite side.

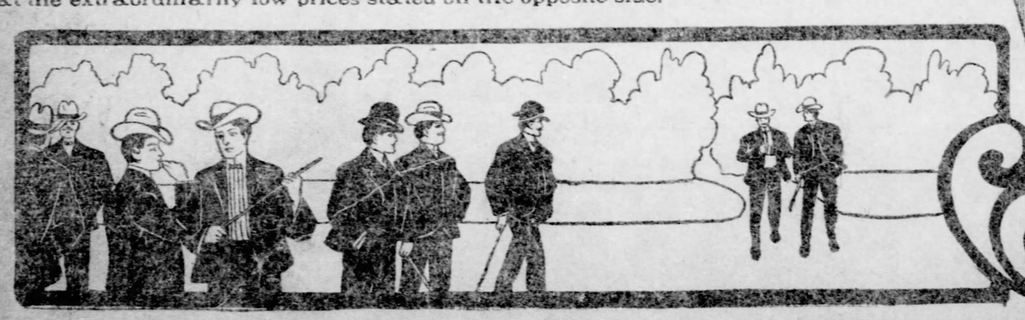
Would like to have you drop in some time today to take a look through. Have everything arranged so practically and conveniently that it won't take you more than a few minutes to find out that this sale includes about everything that's fine and fashionable. All the goods, no matter what their regular prices may be, have been bunched into two big lots, from which you can take your

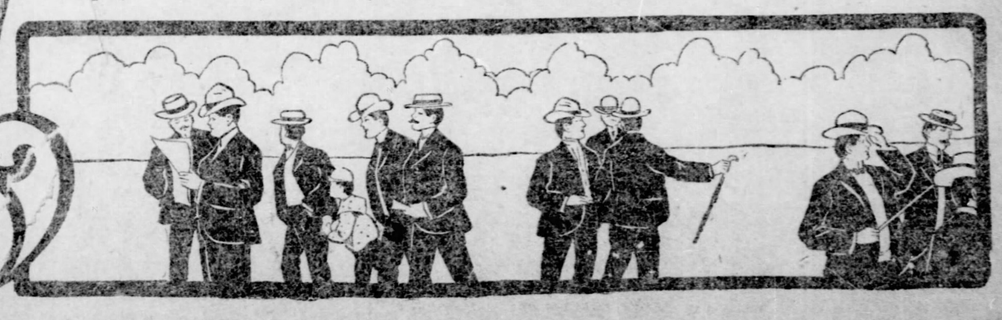
Choice for $8.50 & $14.50

While there are some Suits in the $8.50 lot worth only $10, many more have never been sold below $12, and thousands more never under $15. Choice from all now for $8.50.

The $14.50 lot contains no end of $25, $24, $22 and $20 Suits—though some are worth only $18. Choice from all now for $14.50.

The assortment, in spite of the heavy selling of the past few days, is still unbroken. There are Military Sack Styles, fitting snugly to the back, and loose fitting Sack Suits, Single and Double-Breasted Sack Suits and Cutaway and Prince Albert Frock Suits, in a full variety of fashionable Woolens and each suit is full hand-tailored, shape retaining and perfect fitting.

Those $2.50, $3 & $3.50 Pants at $1.69




Are going at a lively rate. Better not delay purchasing any longer, if you want a pair of stylish, perfect-fitting Trousers for less than the wholesale cost. They came to us along with the above Suits, that's why we can sell them so cheap. The line embraces Worsteds, Cheviots, Hairlines, English Novelty Stripes, etc. All sizes, too. Take your pick and fit for only $1.69.
